Three Concerts

VICE CHANCELLORS TO PERFORM ON INVENTED INSTRUMENTS

Surprise performances by vice chancellors on never-before-heard-of instruments are among the offerings in three free holiday concerts sponsored by the School of Music. All the concerts are in University Theatre, Mary Cable Building. There is no charge. Seating is on a first-come, first-served basis.

First is the IUPUI Concert Band performance Nov. 27 at 8 p.m. The music of famous composers and a piano solo by Darrell Bailey will be featured. In an original composition, "Second Concerto for Faculty and Band," will be guest performances by IUPUI Vice Chancellors Gene Tempel and Bob Martin, and VIP Connie Pottenger, none of whom have any appreciable musical talent. They will play "invented" instruments of dubious origin and quality. Doug Smith directs.

On a more serious note, the IUPUI African-American Choral Ensemble will present a variety concert Nov. 30 at 8:15 p.m. Bessie Colwin will direct the vocal group in a program that includes holiday songs.

Then on Dec. 1 at 8 p.m. the IUPUI Jazz Ensemble presents big band music. Smith will direct the group in the music of Glenn Miller, Duke Ellington and others. Doors open at 7:45 p.m.

SHOW CHOIR DEBUTS WITH CONCERT AND RECEPTION

City Sounds, the all-new IUPUI show choir, will give debut performances in a public concert and dessert reception, "Christmas Extravaganza," Dec. 7-8 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of University Place. Twelve singers and dancers, under the direction W. Mark McCreary, will present music from Broadway shows past and present, as well as traditional holiday music. Festival seating tickets are $10 for the concert and reception. For reservations or information about booking City Sounds, call 4-4000, weekdays, 8 a.m.-noon or 1-5 p.m.

CAMPUS COMMUNITY EXCEEDS QUARTER MILLION DOLLAR UNITED WAY GOAL

Even before the final tally, the IUPUI community has exceeded its 1990 United Way campaign goal of $250,000. As of Nov. 14, we gave or promised $251,218. Volunteer solicitors helped with the success and generosity broke in many places with 41 departments giving more this year than last. Individuals on campus who gave or pledged $1,000 or more rose to 47--double last year's number. The following departments or units can take a bow for giving more than last year: Affirmative Action, Allied Health Sciences, Alumni Office, Anatomy, Biochemistry, Bookstores, Bursar, Campus Interrelations, Career and Employment Services, Computing Services, Conference Center, Continuing Studies, Dean of Faculties Office, Dean of Student Affairs Office, Dentistry, Engineering and Technology, Experimental Oncology, External Affairs, Gerontology, Hospitals, Human Resources, Learning Technologies, Liberal Arts, Libraries, Media Relations, Neurology, Nursing, Nutrition and Dietetics, Pediatrics, Physical Plant, Physiology, Public and Environmental Affairs, Purchasing, Registrar, Social Work, Special Media Projects, Student Information Systems, Student Financial Aid, Transportation, University Computing and the Vice President's Office.

ALUMNI OFFICE NAMES STOWELL NEW ASSISTANT

STOWELL

Katie Stowell has been appointed assistant director of the IU Alumni Office on campus and will handle alumni events for the Div. of Allied Health Sciences, Herron School of Art, Liberal Arts, Business, Dentistry, and Public and Environmental Affairs. Her campus address is HO 200 (University Place); phone 4-8828. Stowell was an administrative assistant in the Alumni Office at IUB and worked as sales manager for the Holiday Inn at Union Station. She is an IU graduate and is married to third-year School of Medicine student Mike Stowell. They live in Broad Ripple.

LAW PROFESSOR/JUDGE TO SPEAK ABOUT CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT Judge Richard J. FitzGerald will speak in a colloquium, "Psychosocial and Legal Aspects of Child Abuse and Neglect: Realities and Prospects" Nov. 28, 2:30-4:30 p.m. at the 38th St. campus, KB 031. A judge in the 13th district of Jefferson County, KY, he will discuss his involvement with child victims of abuse and sexual assault. Also on the faculty of the University of Louisville School of Law, FitzGerald is an advocate for children's causes and he has lectured across the nation on the subjects of children, families and law. Sponsors of his talk are the Consortium of Child Abuse and Neglect and Information Services for Marion County, the IUPUI Multidisciplinary Graduate Training Program on CAN, and the Junior League of Indianapolis. There is no charge and all are welcome.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Deadline Change--To accommodate the Thanksgiving holiday that many of us will be enjoying, the deadline for next week's Green Sheet is Monday, Nov. 19 at 3 p.m.

You Can Help--Volunteers are needed by the Humane Society of Indianapolis for the annual fund-raiser "Picture Your Pet With Santa." Santas and elves are needed as is help with registration, coordination and photography. Call Heidi Donaldson, 876-2415.

Thanksgiving Closings--Many offices and departments will close Nov. 22-23 for the Thanksgiving Holiday. Libraries will be closed or have special hours. Dentistry library is open 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Nov. 19-21; closed Nov. 22-25. Other libraries close at 5 p.m. Nov. 21 and remain closed Nov. 22-23. Call your library for a complete schedule.

For Supervisors--The deadline is Nov. 29 to register for either of two workshops for supervisors (non-hospital) on the subject of performance appraisal. "Conducting the Performance Appraisal," dealing with the paperwork, writing and forms, is Dec. 5. The second is "Performance Review and Feedback Session," about the face-to-face meeting with employees, Dec. 12. Both are from 9 a.m.-noon in the Union Building. Human Resources Administration recommends that the workshops be taken in sequence. Call 4-8931.

Retirement Reminder--The retirement of Alvin Bynum, dean of the former University Division, will be honored during a reception Nov. 29, 4:30-6 p.m., in the President's Room, University Place Hotel. Chancellor and Mrs. Bepko welcome all.

Monroviaites--Linda wants a ride back and forth between Monrovia and the Medical Center, two days a week. Call 4-0273 or 342-2747.

"Window" Closing--November is the open enrollment time for making changes in your health/dental insurance. A new plan is added and changes have been made in others. Last week's Green Sheet and other campus publications have noted that several meetings are being held to explain the plans. It also incorrectly gave the wrong phone number for more information. The number to call in the Benefits Office is 4-4596.

RAJECKI WRITES NEW "STUDENT FRIENDLY" PSYCHOLOGY TEXT Associate professor D. W. Rajecki of the Department of Psychology, School of Science, has written a new text, Attitudes, published by Sinauer Associates, Inc. The 522-page book has 84 illustrations and features broad coverage of the areas of attitudes and public opinion, beginning with basic issues of definition and measurement, and proceeding through mainstream areas of research and theory, and ending with applications in societal domains. It is suitable for courses in psychology, sociology, political science and RAJECKI marketing. So far it has been adopted as a text at several colleges and universities, including Washington, Illinois, Ohio State, Temple, Toronto and others in the U.S. and Canada.

POLICIES ON TERMINATIONS AND TERMINAL PAY CHANGE While University employees are expected to give a two-week notice of termination, under new policies effective Dec. 1 they are no longer required to do so. Another significant change is that the University's practice of progressive discipline has been incorporated into the policy language. Regarding the change in terminal pay, employees will receive eligible terminal vacation pay benefits regardless of the nature of the termination and length of notice given. These changes are in the 1990-91 personnel policy manuals that will be mailed the first week in December. Also, the manuals will be distributed at the following informational sessions in Human Resources Administration: Nov. 26 at 1 p.m., Nov. 27 at 3 p.m., Nov. 28 at 9 a.m., Nov. 29 at 8 a.m. and Nov. 30 at 11 a.m. Any questions about the changes can be directed to G. Chris Keeley or Theresa Martin, 4-8931.

CAMPUS HAS MEETING ROOMS FOR RENT AND FOR FREE The Roof Lounge in the Union Building is available for meetings at no charge. It seats 49 people and there is access to catering by Marriott and to audio/visual services through MERP. To reserve the room, call the Visitor Information Center, 4-2323. Meeting rooms that seat up to 125 people are available for rent in the National Institute for Fitness and Sport, just behind the natatorium. For information, call Lori Kellum, 4-3432.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES

Understandable Speed--While it probably isn't fast enough right now, a wild turkey can run 25 miles per hour. The world record weight for a turkey is 75 pounds. (These are probably not the same turkey.) Happy Thanksgiving. (Harper's Index, Nov., '90)

Geology Colloquium--Catherine Souch, geography, presents "Lake Sediments as Records of Paleoenvironmental Change: Kwoiek Creek, Coast Mountains, British Columbia," Nov. 20, noon-1 p.m., CA 435. Bring lunch; all welcome.

Physiology & Biophysics--Peter J. Reiser, University of Illinois, Chicago, presents "Striated Muscle Contraction and Protein Isoforms: A Reciprocal Interaction," Nov. 19, noon, MS 205.

Holiday Races On--Teams and singles can sign up now for the second annual Max & Erma's Jingle Bell Run for Arthritis fund raiser, set for campus Dec. 8, beginning at 10 a.m. You can walk or run the fun 5K. Media sponsors WISH TV and WFBQ radio will be there and there will be gifts and prizes. To enter, call the Arthritis Foundation, 879-0321.

Campus Auction--Details will come next week, but mark your calendar now for the next IUPUI auction of furniture, office equipment and more on Dec. 8 at 630 West New York Street. The doors open at 9 a.m. for you to look at sales items; the auction begins at 10 a.m. Among the items for sale are wood and metal desks, side chairs, typewriters, copiers, cabinetry and a cherry dining room table, eight chairs and a china cupboard.

NEW GIFTS PUSH DENTISTRY'S MINORITY SCHOLARSHIP FUNDING TO $96,000

The School of Dentistry recently received additional funding from the U.S. Department of Education for a minority scholarship program funded by the department since 1984. Two new scholarships bring the school's current minority funding in the program to $96,000. As part of the program, two first-year dental students, Kathleen J. Beache and Tonya Stewart each received $16,000 Patricia Roberts Harris Graduate and Professional Fellowship awards. "The program is designed to promote recruitment of students in life and health sciences and other areas in which minorities are under-represented," said LaForrest D. Garner, associate dean for minority student services in the School of Dentistry.--M. Hopper

FINALLY...

...there were two errors on page four of last week's Green Sheet: The deadline is Dec. 17 (not Dec. 1) for submitting abstracts for the Second Biennial Scientific Session of the School of Medicine Faculty next spring. On Dec. 1 forms will be mailed to faculty. The other blooper was in the piece about Computing Services' new online public information system. The account number is IUPU100--not IUPU4100 as it incorrectly said in the headline. The system gives you access to IUPUI information.

...while she graces our campus as distinguished visiting professor with the School of Nursing, prominent nurse leader Elizabeth Carnegie, Ph.D., R.N., is writing the second edition of her highly acclaimed book on the history of blacks in nursing, The Path We Tread. Her book spans 130 years--from 1854 to 1984--and includes black women in nursing who have been left out of history. Carnegie has worked to gain professional acceptance and equality for black nurses. In 1945 she was dean of the School of Nursing at Florida A&M University, when segregation laws were strict. She helped overturn barriers that kept black nurses from full membership in the American Nursing Association.
