CONVENTION

INFORMATION

More than 700 scholars are on the program for the Ninety-Second Annual Meeting of the Organization of American Historians, Thursday, April 22 - Sunday, April 25, 1999.

“State and Society in North America: Processes of Social Power and Social Change” is the theme. A listing of OAH committee meetings and activities is on page 15. A summary of the convention schedule can be found on page 18.

TORONTO. Toronto was recently deemed “the best city in the world in which to live and do business” by Fortune magazine. Toronto is clean, safe, and cosmopolitan with over 80 ethnic groups speaking 52 languages. It is the capitol of Ontario and houses almost 5 million residents in the Greater Toronto area. Visit the Toronto website (www.tourism-toronto.com) for more information.

HOTEL. The Sheraton Centre Toronto Hotel (123 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, M5H 2M9; Phone: 416-361-1000) will serve as OAH convention headquarters and will house convention registration, book exhibits, and most of the program sessions. Meeting room locations are shown on floorplans on pages 16-17. The Sheraton Centre Toronto is located in the very heart of the city directly across the street from Toronto’s landmark City Hall. The Pantages Theatre, Princess of Wales Theatre and the Royal Alexandra Theatre, located downtown, are part of the third-largest theatre center in the English-speaking world. CN Tower, the Sky Dome, and the Toronto harbor front are all within a four- or five-block walk. The hotel is also connected to the renowned underground city, or PATH, with six miles of shops and services. The hotel has an indoor-outdoor heated pool, exercise room, hot tub and sauna. Restaurants and bars at the Sheraton Centre Toronto include Traders Bar & Grill, where you can keep up with financial markets in real-time; Postcards Café and Grill; Good Queen Bess Pub; and the Waterfall Terrace.

HOTEL RESERVATIONS. Guest rooms at the Sheraton will be held for convention attendees until March 16, 1999. Reservation requests received at the Sheraton Centre Toronto after that date will be confirmed subject to availability and current hotel rates. The 1999 rates at the Sheraton are: single/double $160 CAD ($107 USD) based on exchange rate noted in CURRENCY EXCHANGE on next page); triple $175 CAD ($117 USD); quad $190 CAD ($127 USD). Rooms are also available at the Club Level which includes a private roof-top lounge for deluxe continental breakfast, and other amenities. CURRENCY EXCHANGE. Although U.S. currency is usually accepted in Canada, it is suggested that you exchange it for Canadian dollars. Small amounts of money can be exchanged at the front desk of the Sheraton, but large amounts should be exchanged at Thomas Cook, located in the lobby of the Sheraton Centre Toronto. Thomas Cook is open 8:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m., Monday-Friday; 9:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m., Saturday; and 8:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m., Sunday. Focus on Teaching Day registration includes attendance at OAH sessions on that day as well as admittance into the Exhibit Hall. For information check out the OAH web site (www.indiana.edu/~oah) or contact OAH Preregistration Coordinator Amy Stark, OAH, 112 North Bryan Avenue, Bloomington, IN 47408-4199; e-mail amy@oah.org; or telephone 812-855-7311.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE SESSION. A session entitled “The Joint AHA-OAH Publication Community College Historians in the United States: A Status Report from the OAH Committee on Community Colleges” will be held Saturday, April 24, at 1:00 p.m. The session will discuss the new report and will feature Nadine Hata, as moderator, and panelists James Lorence, University of Wisconsin-Marathon County; David Mock, Tallahassee Community College; George Stevens, Dutchess Community College; David Trask, Guilford Technical Community College; and Charles Zappia, San Diego Mesa College.

INFORMAL SESSIONS AND OTHER MEETINGS. The OAH program will use nearly all the meeting space in the Sheraton Centre Toronto during the morning and afternoon session periods. Groups that wish to hold informal sessions, committee meetings, meal functions, reunions, etc., should select times that will not conflict with sessions already listed in the Program. Limited space might also be available during the noon hours. For information on scheduling these activities contact Sheri L. Sherrill, Convention Manager, OAH, 112 North Bryan Avenue, Bloomington, IN 47408-4199; 812-855-9853; sheri@oah.org. If requested, functions open to the public may be listed in the Pocket Program, which is distributed to all registrants at the Annual Meeting.

PROFESSIONAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR AMERICAN HISTORIANS

Job Seekers!

Positions listed with the Organization of American Historians are now posted on our World Wide Web site <http://www.indiana.edu/~oah>. Members can access these listings and contact employers directly to see who will be conducting interviews at our 1999 meeting in Toronto. (Please note that not all institutions listed on this site will be conducting interviews at the convention.) The employer representative name, mailing address, phone and fax numbers, and email address are included whenever possible.

JOB LISTINGS ARE NOT POSTED AT THE ANNUAL MEETING*

Out of courtesy to the interviewing employers and candidates, OAH will not provide on-site listings of employers conducting interviews at the meeting.

Employers who are conducting interviews and reserve interview space will be notified prior to the convention of their room location. Should you wish to schedule an interview you must contact those employers directly. There will not be an OAH staff person managing a job registry room during the annual meeting.

All questions regarding appropriate procedures for using our on-line system to place a position listing or reserve interview space at the meeting should be directed to Ginger L. Foutz, 812-855-9851; or ginger@oah.org.

OAH GUIDELINES FOR INTERVIEWING. The OAH discourages interview activities in hotel bedrooms. If an interviewer feels it is necessary to use a facility outside a pre-arranged interview room, the OAH strongly advises that a parlor rather than a sleeping room be used and that a third person always be present in the room with the candidate. Interviewers using such facilities bear sole responsibility for establishing an appropriate, professional atmosphere and should take special care to ensure that all interviews are conducted courteously and in a proper manner.

* Employers wishing to reserve interview space at the Toronto meeting, please fill out the form on page 139 and return it to the OAH business office prior to April 1.

OFF-SITE

The 1999 OAH Convention Special Events and Publicity Committee, under the direction of Marc Egnal, York University, and Adrienne Hood, University of Toronto, have placed several sessions at off-site locations and arranged for special tours following two of the sessions. Off-site sessions are denoted by the symbol ★ throughout the Program.

All groups departing for off-site sessions and tours will leave from the lobby of the Sheraton Centre Toronto. Details on point of departure will be contained in the Pocket Program distributed to all convention registrants. The 1999 off-site sessions are offered at no charge, but we do ask that you register using the preregistration form inserted in the front of the Program. This will help to ensure we reserve enough guides, have room to accommodate everyone and provide adequate transportation for all those interested in attending. Reservations will be made on a first-come, first-served basis. Preregistration for off-site sessions should be postmarked no later than March 18, 1999.

Tour and off-site session tickets will be inserted into your badge holder and available at the convention registration area at the Sheraton Centre Toronto. OAH reserves the right to cancel any tour that has not met the minimum number of participants required. Should this occur, complete refunds will be made following the meeting.

FRIDAY, APRIL 23

1) Museums and Material Culture
George R. Gardiner Museum of Ceramic Art
1:00 p.m.

This session will be held at the George R. Gardiner Museum of Ceramic Art located in Queen's Park. This was the first specialized ceramic museum in North America. The collection is divided into four major categories, each representing a particular aspect of ceramic history within a specific time scale: Pre-Columbian Pottery, dating from about 2000 B.C. until the 15th century A.D.; Italian Maiolica of the 15th and 16th centuries; English Delftware of the 17th century; and continental and English Porcelain of the 18th century.

The session will be held from 1:00 - 3:00 p.m. followed by a behind-the-scenes tour of the Textile and Ethnology Departments of the Royal Ontario Museum (ROM) located just across the street from the Gardiner Museum. The ROM has a vast collection of over 6 million artifacts and specimens that rotate through permanent and temporary galleries. Galleries at the ROM feature exhibits on art, social history, archaeology, natural history and more.

Those attending this session should gather in the lobby of the Sheraton Centre where a guide will meet them. The guide will escort them to the subway for the short trip to the Gardiner Museum. Session participants are listed on page 54.

SATURDAY, APRIL 24

2) The Underground Railroad in the United States and Canada
St. Lawrence Hall
9:00 a.m

This session will be held at St. Lawrence Hall, site of the first meeting of the Colored Free Men in Canada. St. Lawrence Hall is an elegant Palladian-style building with a domed cupola, and was the focal point of Toronto in the mid-19th century. It was the site of political rallies, balls and entertainment. Fredrick Douglass delivered an antislavery lecture there and George Brown, prominent Canadian politician and founder of the Globe daily newspaper, campaigned for Confederation there as well.

Those attending this session should gather in the lobby of the Sheraton Centre Toronto where a guide will escort them to St. Lawrence Hall. Session participants are listed on page 73.

3) Trans-Atlantic Radicalism and the Crisis of Republicanism in the 1790s
Mackenzie House
9:00 a.m.

This session will be held at the historic Mackenzie House, home and print shop of Toronto's first mayor, William Lyon Mackenzie, a leader of the 1837 Upper Canada Rebellion. The house was built in 1857 and given to Mackenzie in 1859 in appreciation of his efforts to reform the Canadian political system. This house is now operated as a museum by the Toronto Historical Board and boasts 1860s furniture and an operating Washington flatbed printing press in a pre-confederation print shop.

Those attending this session should gather in the lobby of the Sheraton Centre Toronto. A guide will lead the group to the Mackenzie House which is a short five-block walk from the Sheraton Centre Toronto. Session participants are listed on page 75.

4) Crossing Boundaries in Revolutionary New York: Revolutionaries,
Canadians, Native Americans and Loyalists
Fort York
1:00 p.m.

This session will be held at Fort York. In 1793, Upper Canada's Lieutenant Governor Simcoe established Fort York to defend Toronto. It was important in the British defense of Canada during the War of 1812 and was the location of one of the bloodiest battles of the war. The session will be held from 1:00 - 3:00 p.m. followed by a tour of the archaeological site at Fort York.

Those attending this session should gather in the lobby of the Sheraton Centre Toronto. A guide will meet the group in the lobby and escort them to a bus that will take them to Fort York. Session participants are listed on page 84.

6:00 P.M. - RECEPTION
7:00 P.M. - PUIRT A BAROQUE

The University of Toronto, York University and the OAH invite you to a reception in the Rotunda of Toronto's New City Hall where you can enjoy good food and music. New City Hall was built between 1958 and 1965 in modern sculptural style designed by Finnish architect Viljo Revell. This is Toronto's fourth city hall and it consists of a low podium topped by a flying-saucer-shaped Council Chamber, encircled by two curved towers. The complimentary reception begins at 6:00 p.m. and a performance by Canada's premiere Celtic crossover band, Puirt a Baroque (poorsh-t-a-ba-roke), will begin at 7:00 p.m. The group plays a unique blend of Cape Breton and Scottish Highland music, mixed with Italian Baroque flourishes. The group's name is a play on puirt a beul, Scottish Gaelic for "tunes from the mouth" or mouth-music.

Begin your evening right across the street from the Sheraton Centre Toronto at New City Hall, then enjoy the nightlife of Toronto.
