

green sheet

C1

volume fifteen, number ten

8P3
march 10, 1985

MARCH ROARS IN LIONS SO THAT MORE CAN SEE

Sixty years ago Helen Keller challenged Lions International delegates to become "knights of the blind." Since then, Lions Clubs have made helping the visually impaired one of their primary goals. While they work year 'round, Lions have designated March as National Eye Donor month. The need for eye tissue has never been greater, and Lions Clubs across the state are conducting exhibits and drives so that one day they may reach their goal of having a cornea available for every Hoosier whose sight can be improved through corneal transplant. In Indiana, the Lions Eye Bank--a leader among the nation's accredited eye banks since its establishment in 1958--makes available hundreds of donated corneas for use by Hoosiers, as well as other tissue for medical research. The Eye Bank is at the IU School of Medicine Department of Ophthalmology on our campus. Lions Clubs help fund the Eye Bank, and members do volunteer work to operate a network of 84 eye collection centers in the state.

In addition, Lions continue their fund-raising efforts that since 1947 have contributed more than $3 million toward equipment purchase for our Department of Radiation Oncology at the Medical Center which is used to treat certain types of cancer. Last week some of the facilities which have benefited from the Lions' programs were visited by a director of the International Lions Club, Cecil E. Ettinger.

You can help the Lions Club, yourself and family by pledging your eyes for use after death. For pledge cards or more information, call Ext. 8527, or a Lions Club near you.--TW

HARRIS NAMED OUTSTANDING TEACHER FOR 1985

Robert A. Harris, associate chairman and professor of biochemistry, was awarded the 1985 Edward C. Moore Award for Outstanding Teaching during the recent Learning Resources Symposium for faculty. One student who nominated him for the award said, "In spite of his great accomplishments, he maintains a humility which yields an impeccable integrity to his work and creates an environment where new ideas are readily born." Among his other accomplishments, Dr. Harris has directed the freshman medical biochemistry course and our students have improved their national rankings in the national board examinations from 45th to 65th percentile. A graduate of Iowa State in 1962, Harris received both his master's and doctorate degrees from Purdue. Besides teaching, Dr. Harris serves as student counselor and adviser and is a visible role model as he challenges and motivates students to nurture their own interests. He is also a major contributor to the nationally acclaimed biochemistry text for med students, "Textbook of Biochemistry with Clinical Correlations."

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Bash For Bosses--The 10th annual Bosses' Night dinner sponsored by the IUPUI Women's Club is March 19, 6:30 p.m., at the Atkinson Hotel grand ballroom. Social hour is at 5:30 p.m. You're invited to bring your CEO and staff. Tickets are $10.75 each, and paid reservations are due no later than March 15. Lots of entertainment planned. Send checks to Barbara McQueen. LY 002C.

Physiology/Biophysics Seminar--Dr. John Reeves, professor of medicine, U. of Colorado, presents "Potential Role of Leucotrienes in Pulmonary Hypertension" on March 13, 4 p.m., MS 205. All welcome.

Singing Hoosiers Celebrate--A special concert to celebrate the 35th anniversary of the IU Singing Hoosiers is March 23 at 8 p.m. in the IU Auditorium, Robert Stoll directing. Tickets are $3.50. Call IUB, Ext. 5-1103.

Polish, Polish, Polish--"From Rough Draft to Final Product" is the topic of a free Writing Center workshop set for March 21, 2-3 p.m., CA 427. Faculty, students and staff are welcome. Bring your work-in-progress. Call Ext. 2049.

Nuclear Warfare Series--Richard Fredland, professor of political science, will moderate a panel that will discuss "The Ethical Implications of Nuclear Warfare" on March 21, 5:30 p.m., Lecture Hall 101. On the panel are Michael Burke, assistant professor of philosophy; James Smurl, professor of religious studies, both from IUPUI, and Ian McCrae, affiliate professor of pastoral counseling, Christian Theological Seminary. All welcome.

Staffer In "Lear"--IUPUI staff person Ron Dehnke is among the actors cast in the ongoing Repertory Theatre (CTS) production of "King Lear." It runs Thursday-Sunday until March 24. For reservations, call 923-1516.

Need House Sitters?--An Indianapolis law firm is seeking housing for summer interns, May 25-Aug. 25. House sitting arrangement preferred. Call Ken Turchi, 637-5353.

Physics Seminar--Ron Winters, Dept. of Physics, Denison U., presents "Cooking Up the Universe" on March 20, 3:30 p.m., KB 127. Refreshments, 3:15 p.m., KB 118.

Biochemistry Seminar--Dr. Arno Spatola, professor of chemistry, U. of Louisville, presents "Cyclic Pseudopeptide Analogs of Somatostatin, Enkephalins and other Bioactive Peptides" on March 11, MS 326. Coffee/tea, 3:30 p.m., MS 409.

To Honor Miss Pick--Miss Nina Pick, orthoptist/librarian, who has worked at the university for 31 years, is retiring. The Dept. of Ophthalmology is honoring her with a reception on March 28, 2-30-5:30 p.m., Roof Lounge, Union Building. Everyone is welcome.

Dental Continuing Ed--Robert M. Hilderbrand, R.D.H., will instruct "Basic Cardiac Life Support" (CE118) at the School of Dentistry on March 16. Call Dr. Derry, Ext. 7782.

Natatorium Notes--Race Walking clinics are March 20, 6:30 p.m., Natatorium concourse. Race walks are every Wednesday on the track at 7 p.m. Fee is $10 and includes instruction and monthly Track Stadium pass for April. For info, call Mark Daly, Ext. 8367; to register, call Ext. 7364.

HONORS AND ACCOLADES

Elgan L. Baker, associate professor of clinical psychology, Department of Psychiatry, and director, Psychology Training, IUMC, has been elected to a three-year term as president of the American Board of Psychological Hypnosis.

Sue Marquis Bishop, associate professor of nursing, School of Nursing, was an invited speaker during the annual meeting of the Kentucky State Nurse's Association in Louisville. She spoke on the subject, "Impact of Divorce on Children," during a workshop sponsored by the Council of Maternal/Child Nursing and Council of Psychiatric/Mental Health Nurses.

James F. Bailey, associate professor of law and director of the School of Law Library, traveled to Europe recently where he delivered lectures at the Eotvos Lorand University of Budapest. He also spent time in Seville and Malaga, Spain, making final arrangements for the new faculty/student exchange programs with law schools there and the School of Law here.

Clifford Hall, animal caretaker, Oral Health Research Institute, School of Dentistry, retired after 10 years service. He plans to rest and do some traveling.

Warren G. French, professor of English, was a guest speaker at the University of Wales during a conference on American Studies. He discussed "Contemporary Culture in the South."

Jane G. Richards retired recently after more than 12 years as executive director of the Indiana Higher Education Telecommunications System (IHETS). She moved with her husband to North Carolina where she will work as a part-time consultant for Raleigh/Durham/Chapel Hill Research Triangle Park. Richards was also recently named Sagamore of the Wabash.

Wendell Johnting, assistant director for technical services at the School of Law Library and project director of the Indianapolis Law Cataloging Consortium, gave a speech recently at the fall conference of the Ohio Regional Association of Law Libraries on the Notre Dame campus.

Arlene Wilson, director of the Department of Nutrition and Dietetics at the Medical Center, was named "Business Woman of the Year" (1984) by the Indianapolis Business and Professional Women's Club.

Cyrus S. Behroozi, professor of social work, served recently as a consultant for the University of Tennessee in a review of its graduate social work program. Also, he presented a paper entitled "A Model for Systematic Teaching of Social Work with Groups," at the annual symposium for the Advancement of Social Work With Groups that met in Chicago.

Marilyn M. Green, professor and chairman, Primary Health Care Nursing, School of Nursing, has been elected to fellowship in the American Academy of Nursing. She is one of 26 nursing leaders named as new fellows.

Robert M. Khoury, assistant professor of sociology, and Judith A. Spector, associate professor of English, had their article, "The Future As a Social Problem: Critique of the 'One-Minute' Weltanschauung," accepted for publication in the Midwest Quarterly

MORE HONORS AND ACCOLADES

Rosa Lee Young, aide supervisor, Materials Management, retired following 18 years' service. She plans to do more church work and visit with her brother in Georgia.

Larry Steinrauf and Arthur Schulz, professors of biochemistry, were awarded the second prize among scientific exhibits at the annual meeting (1984) of the Indiana State Medical Association with their presentation, "Direct Determination of Muscle Strength, Speed and Endurance."

The Clinical Psychology Training Program, Dept. of Psychiatry, School of Medicine, was approved by the Committee on Accreditation of the American Psychological Association for the 24th consecutive year--making it one of the oldest existing psychology training programs in the country. Program director is Elgan L. Baker, associate professor of clinical psychology. Section director is Eugene E. Levitt, professor of clinical psychology.

Joseph Heitz, Scientific Store, Central Stores, retired after 25 years' service. He plans to swim and fish in Ft. Lauderdale where he moved.

Frances Dodson Rhome, director, Institute for Humanities Research, was a featured speaker at the 1984 National Conference of State Humanities Council held in Atlanta.

Charol Chueden, photographer, Department of Anatomy, was a runner-up in the Indianapolis Ridesharing Program contest.

Robert M. Saywell, Jr., associate professor, Graduate Program in Health Administration, School of Public and Environmental Affairs, has been named to a 12-member national advisory board of the Office of Curriculum Development, Association of University Programs in Health Administration.

Mary J. Sangemino has joined the staff of the Hospital Relations Department as publications editor. She edits Hospeople and other medical publications.

Mary E. Martin, diet aide in the Department of Nutrition and Diet, retired after 31 years' service in the Medical Center. She is doing volunteer work with senior citizens and church work.

Clifford J. Strong, custodial worker, Building Services, retired following 18 years' service. He is helping raise his three grandchildren.

Richard A. Fredland, chairman and professor of political science, presented a paper at the Fourth Tamkang University American Studies Conference in Taipei, Taiwan.

Paul Zitterbart, assistant professor, oral diagnosis/oral medicine, and William Borman, part-time faculty, oral medicine and geriadontics, both in the School of Dentistry, presented a clinic recently at the Chicago Dental Society meeting. Their topic was "Practical Dentistry for Nursing Home Patients."

PERSONNEL WANTS TO HELP DECIPHER YOUR TIAA-CREF

Staff and faculty in Teacher's Insurance and Annuity Association-College Retirement Equity Fund (TIAA-CREF) will soon be receiving an annual statement. To help you understand it, the Personnel Office is offering a workshop, "How to Read Your TIAA-CREF Annual Statement" on March 27, 2:30-4:30 p.m. in Lecture Hall, Room 100. Jack Hudson, director of insurance and retirements for IU, will lead the discussion. You should bring your statement, a blue and white form, with you. To make sure there is enough room for everyone, please register. Forms are available from Barbara Jones, Personnel, UV 200.

SHIPPS' BOOK A HIT AMONG SCHOLARS

Although a book on Mormonism may not zoom to the top of the best-seller list, Jan Shipps is feeling like a real celebrity as she embarks on a 10-day tour that includes speaking engagements and autograph parties all across the country. Jan, professor of history and director of our Center for American Studies, has written a small but powerful volume called Mormonism: The Story of a New Religious Tradition. Published by the U. of Illinois Press, the book has received advance rave reviews from Mormon and non-Mormon scholars alike. A round-table discussion about her book was held in the center last week with comments by Shipps, Marvin Rytting, associate professor of psychology at IUPUI-Columbus, and Roland (Tony) Sherrill, associate professor of Religious Studies at IUPUI.

Although Shipps is a well-known Mormon scholar and has contributed often to scholarly and general audience publications, this is her first book. It was more than 10 years in the making. Although Jan is not a Mormon, (she is an active member of the First United Methodist Church in Bloomington), her objectivity and fairness has won her respect and election five years ago to the presidency of the Mormon History Association--the first woman and first non-Mormon to hold the office of the 1,000-member group.

---

You can give the "gift of life" during the semi-annual blood drive that will be conducted at Riley and University Hospitals on March 22. Sign-up forms are available in hospital cafeterias. The drive will be conducted by the Central Indiana Regional Blood Center. For more, call Hospital Relations, Ext. 8078.

BOSCHMANN LILLY FELLOWSHIP RECIPIENTS

Erwin Boschmann, professor of chemistry, is one of 10 Hoosiers who were recently named the 1985-86 Lilly Endowment, Inc. open fellowship winners. He was chosen from among 46 applicants who were nominated by institutions with enrollments of more than 7,500 students. Boschman proposes to use his fellowship year developing himself for good science teaching. He plans to read and reflect on theories pertaining to teaching and motivation and broaden his understanding of the practical ideas on these subjects. He hopes to culminate his fellowship by sharing his findings with other chemistry teachers in Indiana and surrounding states in a two-day symposium. Boschman said he feels that science teaching in the U.S. is not what it should be and this use of his fellowship year might be a small step in correcting that situation. Winners of the fellowship are all men and women in mid-career who will use their break from academic routine to seek personal and professional enrichment.

DEAN BYNUM AGAIN CHAIRMAN OF FAMILY SERVICE

Dean Alvin S. Bynum, University Division, was reelected chairman of the board of directors of the Family Service Association of Indianapolis at its recent annual meeting. IUPUI was well represented during the meeting of the agency which is now 150 years old. Attending were Dean Sheldon Siegel, School of Social Work, who gave the keynote address; Gayle Cox, professor, School of Social Work, who was elected to a three-year term on the agency's board; Leslie D. Hollingsworth, adjunct field instructor, School of Social Work, who was cited for service to the agency, and Joseph T. Taylor, special assistant to Vice President Irwin. Howard Schaller, executive dean and dean of faculties, also attended.

COUNSELING CENTER OFFERS COMMUNICATION WORKSHOP

Campus faculty, staff and students interested in developing better ways to relate to their "significant other" are invited to "A Couple's Communication Workshop," sponsored by the IUPUI Counseling Center. The workshop is from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. on March 23 in Room 2127, Education/Social Work Building. There is no charge, but reservations are required. Call the center at Ext. 2548.

IUPUI CAMPUS CAMPAIGN REMINDER: Unit chairmen of the Campus Campaign are asked to bring the remainder of their committee's completed pledge cards to the Porter Room in the Union Building on March 20 between the hours of 2-3 p.m. If you have questions, call Gail Plater, Ext. 3711.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES

Correction--In last week's Green Sheet, the phone number for the person interested in sharing babysitting in the evenings was incorrect. If you are interested in trading child care times, call Chris Upson at Veteran's Hospital, Ext. 15-2265.

Two Special Seminars--The Chemistry Department is having joint lectures with the Society of Applied Spectroscopy which will feature Frank Bovey, AT&T Bell Laboratories, speaking on "Two-Dimensional NMR Spectroscopy of Polymers." There is a lecture on March 19, 7:30 p.m., Hansel and Gretel Restaurant--for reservations, call Richard Bourke, Detroit Diesel, 242-5644. The other lecture is March 20, 4:30 p.m., Chemistry Dept, IUPUI, KB 231.

Australia Invites Flynn--Beverly C. Flynn, professor and chairman, Department of Community Health Nursing, IU School of Nursing, has been invited by the Australian Council of Community Health Nursing to present three papers at the National Community Nursing Congress in Melbourne on March 13-15. Following the congress she will consult with community nursing educational institutions and service organizations on community health nursing.

green sheet

*News Bureau
Indiana University--Purdue
at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

(ARCH-800321)

ARCHIVES
UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
420 BLAKE ST