

green sheet

INDIANA UNIVERSITY-PURDUE UNIVERSITY AT INDIANAPOLIS

volume two, number ^{fourteen} ~~twelve~~

april 2, 1972

iupui

FOREIGN POLICY CONFERENCE AT IUPUI

The U.S. State Department's top-ranked analysts and authorities will gather in Indianapolis this month to present a major conference on foreign policy at IUPUI.

The conference, co-sponsored by the Indianapolis Council on World Affairs and the Indianapolis League of Women Voters as well as IUPUI, will be held April 14 in the IUPUI Lecture Center.

The tentative conference program will present the State Department's most authoritative representatives on major international issues:

Alfred L. Atherton Jr., deputy assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern and South Asian Affairs, on the Arab-Israeli dispute and U.S. interests;

Doyle V. Martin, the department's information policy adviser to U.S. overseas broadcasters, on the resurgence of nationalism in Eastern Europe and the Communist parties;

Melvin E. Sinn, chief of the department's trade agreements division, on world trade and the President's economic policies;

Jay H. Blowers, international relations officer for the department's office of environmental affairs, on problems and prospects for the global environment;

Thomas C. Lyons Jr., deputy chief of analysis and evaluation for the department's office of population, on the world's food and population race;

James C. Bostain, lecturer in the Foreign Service Institute, on the language barriers in international relations.

Most of the conference sessions will be free and open to the public, but there will be a $5 charge for the luncheon session which will be addressed by a major State Department representative.

Reservations may be made by writing or calling the Office of the Dean of the IUPUI Downtown Campus. Reservations will be limited. The conference co-ordinator is Dr. Richard A. Fredland, IUPUI assistant professor of political science.

* * *

ERICH HELLER TO PRESENT SPECIAL GERMAN PROGRAM

Dr. Erich Heller, Avalon Professor of the humanities at Northwestern University, will be at the Downtown Campus next week to hold a seminar on German philosopher Friedrich Nietzsche and to deliver a lecture on the poetry of Rainer Maria Rilke.

Both programs will be Thursday, April 13. The Nietzsche seminar, "Zarathustra's Three Transformations," will be held at 3 p.m. in Room 208 of Cavanaugh Hall. The lecture on Rilke, "The Angel of Duino and the Modern Sensibility," will be at 8:15 p.m. in Room 102 of the Lecture Hall Building.

(continued)

Born in Bohemia in 1911, Dr. Heller received a doctorate from Charles University in Prague in 1935, then emigrated to England in 1939. He received his Ph.D. from Cambridge University in 1948. He taught at the London School of Economics and the University of Wales before coming to the United States. Besides teaching at Northwestern, he has held visiting professorships at various universities, including Brandeis, Columbia, Harvard, M.I.T., Heidelberg and Munich. He was a fellow of Indiana University's School of Letters during the summer of 1965.

Writing in both English and German, Dr. Heller has published essays on Goethe, Nietzsche, Jakob Burckhardt, Rilke, Karl Kraus, Spengler, Hegel, and Wittgenstein. Many of these have been published in The Disinherited Mind and The Artist's Journey into the Interior. His Thomas Mann: The Ironic German is one of the best studies of the German novelist. He has also co-edited some letters of Franz Kafka. A book about Kafka is to be published in the near future by the Viking Press.

Both Dr. Heller's writings and lectures are distinguished by his ability to perceive his subject matter in a literary, philosophical, and historical perspective, and to relate it to the general conditions of life today.

* * *

CHANCELLOR BOWMAN NAMED "WOMAN OF THE YEAR"

Dr. Sylvia E. Bowman, the first woman chancellor of Indiana University, has been named "Woman of the Year" by the Indianapolis chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, professional fraternity for women in communications.

Dr. Bowman will be honored at the organization's Matrix Table dinner April 25 in the Hilton Hotel.

Former chairman of the Division of Arts and Sciences at IU-Purdue at Fort Wayne, she last year was appointed chancellor of regional campuses with headquarters in Indianapolis. She not only became the first woman chancellor at IU, but also is the only woman to hold that position in the nation's largest universities.

A prolific writer of books, pamphlets and magazine articles, she is editor of Twayne's American Authors Series, of which 200 of the planned volumes are in print. She also edited the 120-volume Twayne's English Authors Series and the 132-volume Twayne's World Authors Series.

Dr. Bowman, who continues her work in research and writing, is recognized as the leading authority on Edward Bellamy, American author best known for his book, Looking Backward, 2000-1887, which was published in 1888.

Dr. Bowman received her doctorate from the Sorbonne, University of Paris, in 1952. She has travelled extensively in Europe and Iron Curtain countries.

For her contributions to education she has received many honors, including the Frederic Bachman Lieber Memorial Award for Distinguished Teaching by IU in 1962. A scholarship was named in her honor by the Fort Wayne branch of the American Association of University Women in 1967.

Persons interested in attending the 6:30 p.m. dinner April 25 may call Mrs. Monte Hensley at 846-5335 or Mrs. David Riley at 846-4603.

* * *

DRUGS, DEATH, ABORTION ON DISCUSSION AGENDA

Dr. Robert M. Veatch, nationally known authority on problems of medical ethics, will talk about drugs, abortion and death next week in three addresses at the Downtown Campus.

He will lead an informal discussion on drugs at 4:30 p.m. Thursday and one on death at 9:30 a.m. Friday. Both discussions will be in Room 507 of Cavanaugh Hall. He will deliver a major public address on "alternate philosophical stances with regard to abortion" at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in the Lecture Hall Building, Room 102.

Dr. Veatch, invited to IUPUI by the Philosophy Club, is director of medical ethics at Columbia University and an associate of the Institute of Society, Ethics and the Life Sciences. He is a 1961 honor graduate from Purdue University where he was student body president.

* * *

"LUNCH & MUNCH" SERIES BACK

A series of one-act plays and scenes to add some culture to the lunch scene is on the agenda again for this week and next in the Hideaway in the basement of the Library Building. Put on by the Department of Speech and Theatre and advanced directing students, the plays start at 12:15 p.m. and are timed so 1 p.m. classes can be met.

This week's plays, authors and student directors are: "Riders to the Sea" by Synge, David Wise, Monday; "The Bear" by Chekhov, Steve Turner, Tuesday; "Medea" by Anhouih, Barbara Harrell, Wednesday, and "The Lesson" by Ionesco, Jane Jacoby, Thursday.

Next week's presentations will be "Katherine and Petruchio" by Shakespeare, Andrea Ayer, Monday; "A Phoenix Too Frequent" by Fry, Carolyn Zimmer, Tuesday, and "Miss Julie" by Strindberg, Susan Byrd, Wednesday.

* * *

COMMENCEMENT COMMENCES

The third IUPUI commencement will be held May 21 as part of the dedication schedule of events for the new Indiana Convention and Exposition Center.

More than 2,400 students are expected to receive degrees in Indiana's most comprehensive commencement program. Degrees range from associate degrees in medical and engineering technologies to doctorates in medicine, dentistry, and the sciences. There are now more than 100 degree programs under way at IUPUI:

Indiana and Purdue universities presented 1,900 degrees at the IUPUI commencement last year; 1,600 degrees were presented at the first IUPUI commencement in 1970.

The general commencement ceremonies will be held at 3 p.m. in the new center and will be followed by separate ceremonies for the presentative of degrees and honors by the IUPUI schools. Chancellor Maynard K. Hine will preside.

Honorary degrees will be presented at the 1972 IUPUI commencement, which will be conducted by IU president John W. Ryan and Purdue president Arthur G. Hansen.

* * *

CALENDAR CHECK-OFF

Thursday -- Sir Philip Allen, under-secretary of state for the Home Office, will discuss "Crime Control" at 3 p.m. in the Law School. The career officer lists prisons and Scotland Yard among his responsibilities. The lecture is sponsored by the Indiana Forum and the Center for Studies of Law in Action.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday -- Student Film Festival at the Herron School of Art will show movies submitted from students at colleges and universities which have a film program. More than 400 schools throughout the country were invited to participate. The contest, which will offer a total of $800 in prizes, is sponsored by the Herron Student Life organization. Richard Myers, associate professor at Kent State University, will be the judge. More information may be obtained by calling the school, 923-3651.

Friday and Saturday -- "Inter-Racial, Inter-Social Class Communication: Perspectives on the Problem," a faculty seminar will be held in Room 509 of Cavanaugh Hall. Friday's program, which starts at 8:30 a.m. with registration, will include presentations on "What We Do to Kids: The Problem of Education" by Gerry Rosenfeld from Hofstra College, 9:15 a.m.; "Historical Implications for Political and Social Dynamics" by Gordon Alexander, special assistant to Senator Birch Bayh, 10:30 a.m.; "Historical Sociolinguistic Contributions of Afro-Americans to Language and Speech" by Orlando Taylor from Federal City College, 1:30 p.m. and "Research into the Speech of Black Americans" by Juanita Williamson from LeMoyne-Owen College, 2:45 p.m. Dinner will be at 5:30 p.m. in the Union Building, followed by group discussion till 7:30 p.m. Saturday's program will be "Communication Difficulties as a Function of Social Class and Race" by Jack Daniel of the University of Pittsburgh, 9 a.m., and an address by Ronald Williams from Federal City College at 10 a.m. The seminar will adjourn at noon. Interested persons should contact Mrs. Anita DeFrantz, Ext. 8141 or Ext. 8868; Miss Regina Edwards, Ext. 8185, or Stanley Warren, Ext. 3986.

Sundays, Wednesdays and Fridays in April -- Turn on and tune in to the IUPUI Magazine on WIAN radio at 90.1 on your FM dial. Hear what's going on by whom at IUPUI on Sundays at 1:30 p.m., Wednesdays at 4:30 p.m. and Fridays at 8 p.m. Different program offered each week. The messages are being brought to you courtesy of the News Bureau of IUPUI.

* * *

SARAH A. HOSTETLER
SECRETARY TO DEAN OF STUDENT SERVICES
38TH STREET CAMPUS