EXECUTIVE ADVISERS NAMED

Eight leaders in business, industry, finance and education have been selected to serve as members of the executive committee of the Advisory Council for the Center for Economic Education (CEE) at IUPUI.

The center is one of 10 in Indiana, all at universities and all connected with the Indiana Council for Economic Education. CEEs attempt to increase understanding of how the U.S. market economy operates by working with grade and high school teachers and employee and citizen groups.

The members of the executive committee include Robert Nelson of the Indiana Bankers Association who is also serving as chairman; Dr. Bernard Bogar, chairman of the Department of Economics at IUPUI; Dr. Louis Gatto, president of Marian College, and Dallas Sells, regional director, United Auto Workers.

Also, Dr. Dale Harris, executive director, Indiana State Teachers Association; Ray Fuson, vice president, Farm Bureau Insurance Company; Dr. John T. Hackett, executive vice president, Cummins Engineering, Inc., and Tom King, general manager, Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce.
