LET YOUR FINGERS DO THE ASKING

DIAL IUPUI, a new service sponsored by Student Services, has arrived on campus. It is a phone communication service which provides a collection of information tapes on a number of topics about IUPUI. Information is immediately available--as close as the nearest phone. It is one more means of conveying information. You, the caller, are guaranteed anonymity and the opportunity to request the same information as many times as you need it.

The following directory lists tapes currently available. Watch the Green Sheet and Sagamore or ask the DIAL operator about new tapes or suggest new topics.

To use DIAL IUPUI:

1. Select tape you wish to hear.
2. Call 264-4878 (264-IUPUI), 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday-Friday.
3. Request tape by number.
4. Listen to tape.
5. Hang up phone when tape is finished.

CCC. . .ONE MORE TIME

Around campus, Circle City Circuit has come to be a collective noun synonymous with fun and including everything from bridge games to canoe races. This year's annual CCC starts off September 25 on the east lawn of the Union Building, with a fun run, flea market, ice cream social and concert.

The September 26 events include a golf outing (at Eagle Creek), square dancing, bridge and backgammon tourneys (all in the Union Building).

Then, on September 27, the ever-popular canoe races head the program at the School of Physical Education, along with other outdoor events like volleyball, a cookout and family picnicking.

Sponsorships are available from a $5 Circuit sponsor, to a $25 fun-run sponsor, to a $50 team sponsor to a $100 (or more) scholarship sponsor.

There are entry fees and deadlines for the various sporting and game events. For complete information, call the Student Activities Office at Ext. 8264 or stop by that office in the Union Building -- or call the School of Physical Education, Ext. 3764.

TOURING COMPANY

For the fourth consecutive year, school-age children all over Indiana will have the opportunity to see live theater in their schools. The touring children's theater is made possible by a $3,000 grant from the Indiana Arts Commission to the Department of Speech-Theater-Communications at IUPUI. Dr. Dorothy Webb will again produce and direct the touring theater.

This year's production is "The Land of The Dragon," written by Madge Miller. The three-act play is a fairy tale comedy that will be performed in authentic Oriental style, with no scenery or furniture.

Stick horses, a distressed princess who thinks she is ugly, the hero, "Roadwonder," and a stage manager who must sometimes be prodded into doing his work, will be featured. Also to delight children and their parents will be two dragons--a "real," good dragon and an "evil," fake one.

The IUPUI theater department's children's touring show play will perform on Fridays and Saturdays after October 17 and throughout the school year. To reserve a play date, or for more information, schools or parent groups can call Dr. Webb or John Sarnoat Ext. 2094.

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE & SOMETIMES WHY

Dedication -- A new addition to the West 10th Street Veterans Administration Medical Center will be dedicated at 2 p.m. Sunday (September 7). The $9.5-million project will accommodate services such as medical research, rehabilitation medicine, dental clinic, hemodialysis, cardiology, library and medical media. Among the speakers will be Richard L. Roudebush, former congressman and head of the Veterans Administration, and Dr. Steven C. Beering, dean of medicine.

Biochemical -- "Identification of Two Classes of Broad-Specificity Protein Phosphatases in Mammalian Tissues: Role in Lipid and Glycogen Metabolism," Biochemistry Seminar by Dr. Thomas S. Ingebritsen, NATO fellow, University of Dundee, Scotland; Medical Science Building, Room 205, 4 p.m. Monday (refreshments at 3:30 p.m. in Room 409).

Oncological -- "Esophageal Carcinoma," grand rounds in oncology by Dr. Glen A. Lehman; Radiation Therapy Building, Room R104, 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Sleuths -- "'New Women' or Old: A Feminist Analysis of the 'Lady Detective' in British Mystery Fiction, 1894-1910," research paper presented by Kathleen G. Klein, associate professor of English and coordinator of Women's Studies; Cavanaugh Hall, Room 235, 11:45 a.m. Wednesday (brown bag lunch).

Surgical -- Dr. John Glover, chief of surgery at Wishard, and Dr. Robert Worth, associate professor of surgery, will discuss "Thoracic Outlet Syndrome: Advances in Diagnosis and Treatment" on this month's "Grand Rounds in Surgery" program on WAT 21 Medical Television. The program can be seen in the regular viewing areas on Wednesday at noon.

Geographical -- Famine in the Soviet Union will be discussed Thursday by Dr. William A. Dando of the University of North Dakota. A geographer, Dando is considered one of the leading U.S. authorities on culture, food policies and land use. He has written extensively about the problems of food supply in the USSR. His talk, sponsored by the Department of Geography, will be given at 1 p.m. in Lecture Hall 104.

Developmental -- Faculty and staff are invited to a seminar on the Project Development Program this week in the School of Nursing building. Sponsored by the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs, the 1½-hour session starts at 9:30 a.m. in Room 221. The PDP will provide more than $200,000 during 1980-81 for the support of existing or developing externally funded faculty projects. An explanation of PDP, the funds available and ways to get them will be presented.

Jazzical -- The Dukes of Dixieland and the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra will be on stage in Bloomington at the I.U. Auditorium on Saturday at 8 p.m. Call 812-337-1103 for tickets ($10, $7.50 and $4).

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Names in the News -- The September issue of The Saturday Evening Post features an article on breast examination ("Chasing Cancer with Sonar") which includes a discussion of the studies of Dr. Elizabeth Kelly-Fry and Dr. Patricia Harper on the use of ultrasound for diagnosis of both benign and malignant breast tumors.

Family Fun -- Employees of I.U. Hospitals are eagerly anticipating the Employee Picnic scheduled for next Sunday (September 14) at Lienert's Gym Camp, 1010 West 64th Street. The outdoor agenda includes softball, volleyball, egg toss, tug-of-war, paddle boating, fishing, swimming and miniature golf. The menu includes picnic fare of chicken, corn, potatoes, slaw, biscuits and beverage. Tickets are $2.50 each (no charge for children under 12). Meal tickets can be bought at University Hospital, Room C107, and at Riley Hospital, Room A181, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Hopalong & Friends -- "Saturday Matinee on Sunday," a nostalgic return to the 1930s and 1940s when attendance at the neighborhood theater was a highlight of a youngster's week, will be presented by the Indiana State Museum starting next Sunday. Each Sunday, for 12 consecutive weeks, moviegoers will see a classic "B" western, a cartoon, and a continuing chapter in the "Captain America" serial. The movies will be seen from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the museum, 202 North Alabama Street.

Fire Reports -- Beginning Monday, September 15, the new number for reporting a fire is Ext. 2311. This new procedure includes all buildings at the West Michigan Street campus and the School of Education on Meridian. Please update any departmental fire procedures currently in use.

Fellowships -- Lilly Endowment Faculty Open Fellowships are for teacher/scholars in mid-career who seek a break from academic routine and whose aspirations and needs cannot be served by conventional fellowships for study and research. To be eligible, a candidate must have been a member of the faculty for at least five years and engaged in undergraduate classroom teaching for at least 50 percent of the time. For more information and application materials, call Sidney Johnson, Ext. 8285. Applications are due in Research and Sponsored Programs on November 10.

Services -- Funeral services for Mrs. Marija Linde, formerly head of the housekeeping department at Coleman Hospital, were held in July in El Paso, Texas, where she moved six years ago. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Red Cross.

Positions Available -- The Fort Wayne Center for Medical Education, I.U. School of Medicine, is seeking five full-time tenure-track basic scientists at the assistant professor level, beginning July 1, 1981, to develop the first-year medical curriculum and active and fundable research programs. Applicants should have an earned doctorate, up to two years' postdoctoral teaching experience and the ability to develop a course in their respective disciplines and graduate courses in their area of specialization. Preferred areas of expertise are: gross anatomy, histologist, neuroscientist, physiologist and microbiologist. Applicants for any of these positions should send curriculum vitae and the names and addresses of three references to: Dr. Barth A. Ragatz, Associate Director, Fort Wayne Center for Medical Education, I.U. School of Medicine, 2101 Coliseum Boulevard, East, Fort Wayne, Indiana 46805.

Getting Ready for the Little One -- The Graduate Maternity-Pediatric Nursing Department is offering childbirth-parenting classes for all IUPUI and Medical Center employees, students and faculty. Classes will be taught by a certified childbirth educator and an early childhood educator. Interested individuals should call Ext. 4839 for more information.
