The 200th Anniversary Celebration of the Treaty of Paris

THE ROUSING STRAINS of the Indiana University Marching Hundred, the Purdue University Marching Band and six Marion County high school bands on the mall of the American Legion headquarters at 2 p.m. Sept. 3 will culminate a three-day celebration of the signing of the Treaty of Paris. Signed on Sept. 3, 1783 in Paris, the treaty formally ended the American Revolutionary War, established the boundaries of the Northwest Territory and paved the way for the eventual creation of the State of Indiana.

The free, public band concert will be followed at 3 p.m. by a ceremonial re-enactment of the signing of the treaty.

The celebration starts Sept. 1 in Bloomington and will continue on Sept. 2 with a series of seminars which have attracted leading French, American and Revolutionary War scholars. Students and teachers from secondary schools in Indiana will attend a series of workshops on the morning of Sept. 3 in the Lecture Hall at IUPUI.

Gordon Wood, professor of history at Brown University and a well-known Revolutionary War scholar will present a lecture on "Benjamin Franklin and the Treaty of Paris" at 11:15 a.m. Sept. 3 in the I.U. School of Physical Education/Natatorium Building. IUPUI faculty members who will lead workshops will be historians Bernard Friedman and Justin Libby.

Sponsors of the three-day program are Indiana University, the I.U. Alumni association, the Benjamin Franklin Guild and the American Legion. For more information, call 264-8828 or (812) 335-1711.

HERRON GALLERY SHOWS "MIKE'S HOUSE"

THE HERRON GALLERY, showplace of IUPUI's Herron School of Art at the corner of 16th and Pennsylvania streets, is becoming the focal point in Central Indiana for the display of new directions the avant garde artist is taking.

Under the leadership of Martha Winans, who took over as curator slightly more than a year ago, the gallery has increasingly been showing the work of important newcomers who have been bringing intuitive insights and new ideas to the national art scene. Other shows, sometimes in juxtaposition to the imported exhibits, highlight the best work of Herron students and faculty members.

"Mike's House," an installation created for a solo exhibition at the Whitney Museum of American Art in New York City by Michael Smith, significant contemporary video and performance artist, is the gallery's present offering. This is the first place it has been seen since the Whitney show and is the first video exhibition to take place in Indianapolis. It will be on from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturdays through Sept. 17.

NOTES FROM RESEARCH AND SPONSORED PROGRAMS

National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Stipends Program--Provides $3,000 for full-time study or research in the humanities for two consecutive summer months in 1984. IUPUI may nominate up to three applicants; institutional nominees will be selected by a campus review committee. Preliminary applications must be received by Research and Sponsored Programs (RSP) no later than Sept. 7. For information call W. S. Johnson, ext. 8285.

Searle Scholars Programs--Supports ($52,500 a year for three years) the establishment of independent research programs for outstanding individuals who recently have received tenure-track appointments at the assistant professor level. Candidates will be pursuing research careers in pharmacology, molecular biology, genetics, medicinal chemistry, biochemistry, or related areas. IUPUI may submit only one application so screening may be necessary. Interested applicants must inform their dean prior to Aug. 31 of their intention to apply. Applications for the initial review must be received by RSP on Sept. 14.

Grant Update: IUPUI Summer Faculty Fellowship and Grant-In-Aid of Research and Creative Activity-- RSP will conduct a seminar for those (faculty in early stages of career development) who will be submitting applications for the Oct. 14 deadline. It will be held in Room 318, University Library, from 3 to 5 p.m. Friday, Sept. 9. Application materials will be available. Opportunity for informal discussion centering on questions raised by those in attendance will be afforded.

Fellowship Update: The Lilly Faculty Open Fellowship--RSP will conduct a seminar for those who will submit applications for the 1984-85 competition (Deadline: Nov. 1) in Room 318 University Library from 3 to 5 p.m. Sept. 7. The program will be devoted to assisting faculty members in determining if they are eligible for the competition, explaining the application process and assisting applicants. Informal discussion will respond to questions of those present.

Kellogg National Fellowship Program--Offers outstanding young professionals interested in developing interdisciplinary and cross-cultural perspectives on contemporary human and social problems the opportunity to carry out non-degree, self-directed activities to expand their personal horizons. A basic aim is to assist future leaders in developing skills transcending traditional disciplinary and professional methods of addressing problems. Awards up to $35,000 for three years. Applications must be postmarked by Oct. 17. Forms may be obtained by contacting W. S. Johnson, ext. 8285.

U.S. FOREIGN POLICY CONFERENCE SCHEDULED

Students and faculty and staff members who are interested in attending the Sept. 23 regional conference on Challenges to U.S. Foreign Policy, sponsored by the U.S. Department of State and IUPUI, should register now.

The conference in the Indiana Convention-Exposition Center will bring together senior Department of State officials and local experts and concerned citizens from Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Ohio. Keynote speaker is Vernon A. Walters, ambassador-at-large for the Department of State.

ACTIVITIES CALENDAR JETTISONED

There will be no IUPUI Activities Calendar issued this year. The calendar, sponsored by the I.U. Foundation and issued by the Publications Office, has been cancelled due to lack of funds for its production.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Search for Department of Medicine Chairman--Dr. Ting-Kai Li, John B. Hickam Professor of Medicine and professor of biochemistry, is chairman of a committee to recommend candidates for the chairmanship of the Department of Medicine appointed by Dr. Walter J. Daly, dean of the I.U. School of Medicine. Other committee members are Dr. David Crabb, Dr. John Cullison, Dr. John Donohue, Dr. Robert Harris, Dr. Joseph Mamlin, Dr. James Smith, Dr. Vernon Vix, and Dr. Arthur White. Nominations should be submitted in writing to Ting-Kai Li, M.D., Department of Medicine, Emerson Hall, Room 421.

Central Stores Catalog Revised--The "Office Supplies" section of the Central Stores catalog is being re-organized. Review this section of the 1983-84 edition carefully. The majority of item numbers are different and a new section has been added entitled "Computing and Wordprocessing Supplies." If there are any questions contact Central Stores at 335-6568 or 335-6560.

New Courses Offered by Continuing Studies--A variety of business, computer and professional development offerings will highlight the more than 200 non-credit courses for adults offered by the Division of Continuing Studies in the Fall semester beginning in September. New business-related classes, popular returning courses, and certificate programs are included. A series of Saturday Seminars will take place Oct. 1 and 8 and will culminate with an "Oktoberfest" reception for all enrollees and instructors at the end of the day. For more information call ext. 4501.

Baby Sitter Needed--Housekeeping and babysitting (for six-year-old) help needed part time--six hours per day, five days a week. In my home on the northeast part of town. Transportation required. References necessary. Salary negotiable Call 630-6961 and ask for Dr. Sabesan.

Black Student Awareness Program Set--To help students meet their objectives and better acquaint them with university resources, a Black Student Awareness

Day program and dance is planned for next Saturday (Aug. 27). Opening at 10 a.m. in Room 101 of the Lecture Hall, the program will include such topics as classroom management and academic progress, financial aid and work study, tutoring and counseling services and student activities on campus. The dance is at 9 p.m. with the location to be announced. Sponsors are the IUPUI Black Faculty and Staff Council, the Black Student Union, the Indiana University Neal-Marshall Alumni Club and Minorities in Business. For more information call Norm Brown, ext. 4591, or Ron Barns at 293-6085.

Hepatitis-B Vaccine Reminder--All individuals who have started the Hepatitis-B vaccine program are encouraged to complete the series. Rumors regarding unfounded concern about contracting AIDS may have caused some individuals not to report for their third injection. All are encouraged to complete the three-dose vaccine schedule so they will be protected from the Hepatitis-B disease.

Closed--Administrative Computing will be closed during the Labor Day holiday weekend, from 8 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 4, until 8 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 6. If this causes a problem, call Gary Weideman (5-0752, Bloomington) by Aug. 26.

Retiring--Carl H. Hilgeman, Senior Auditor, who has been with Internal Auditing for about 16 years, retired as of Aug. 15.

Accolades--The IUPUI Young Scholars Program--two, two-week summer sessions for gifted youngsters in grades five to nine--was a resounding success, with more than 125 young persons participating. Lecture Hall Room 102 was packed with families and friends for "graduation" exercises held July 10 and 24 when each student received a certificate to show participation in the unusual experience.

Postdoctoral Research Prize--Postdoctoral fellows in the I.U. School of Medicine are invited to apply for the Bowman Prize presented by the Department of Biochemistry in honor of Dr. Donald E. Bowman, professor emeritus and former department chairman. Manuscripts or reprints should be submitted before Oct. 1. For more information call Dr. Roger W. Roeske, Room 425, Medical Science Building, ext. 8208.
