Commencement for IUPUI is Mother's Day, May 10, 4 p.m. in the Hoosier Dome, where more degrees than ever before will be bestowed in ceremonies presided over for the last time by outgoing President John W. Ryan and the first time by vice president for Indianapolis Gerald A. Bepko. Purdue University President Steven C. Beering will confer 793 Purdue degrees and President Ryan will confer 3,141 I.U. degrees in the 17th annual commencement. Among the nine honorary degrees given by I.U. this year, the two conferred at IUPUI will be given to Dallas W. Sells of Indianapolis, internationally known figure in labor and industry, and to Grayce McVeigh Sills, Columbus, Ohio, noted researcher in psychiatric nursing and chairman and professor of nursing, Dept. of Family and Community, Ohio State University.

All the schools and divisions at IUPUI are planning ceremonies either before or after commencement. For the first time, the School of Law is holding ceremonies before commencement outdoors on the center court of the Sports Center where Indiana Supreme Court Chief Justice Randall T. Shepard will speak. Graduating medical doctors will remain at the dome after commencement where they will take the Hippocratic Oath. The 74th U.S. Army Band will provide music for the thousands of relatives and friends expected to attend. Indiana Governor Robert D. Orr and Mayor of Indianapolis William H. Hudnut III will greet graduates and guests. Degree candidates representing all the graduates from our two universities are David Brewer of I.U. and Jerald Lee Gahimer of Purdue. John A. Ruby will lead the national anthem and "Auld Lang Syne," and Rabbi Sandy Eisenberg Sasso, Congregation Beth-El Zedeck, will give the invocation and benediction. All are welcome to the ceremony.

FLOWERS FOR MOTHER ON HER DAY can be easy this year if you buy them from the Cheer Guild May 6-8 in the lobbies of University and Riley Hospitals. Hanging baskets and flats of many varieties are offered. The sale is from 10 a.m.-5 p.m., and proceeds benefit patients and projects.

SUMMER IS OFFICIAL--THE CALLIOPE IS ON THE ROAD AGAIN, taking its music to celebrations around the Mid-west. The colorful circus wagon that houses one of the few remaining steam calliopes was hauled out of its winter home on campus for its first appearance on Apr. 30 at the Kentucky Derby Festival Pegasus Parade in Louisville. And, after a few years' absence, the calliope will appear in the 500 Festival Parade in Indy on May 23. Last year the calliope appeared in 38 events, travelling more than 5,000 miles. Sometimes pulled by teams of horses, more often atop a trailer, the calliope was seen and heard by more than a million people. Player and keeper is Larry MacPherson; crew chief is Kurt Nitsch. Others on the crew are David Huss, Roger Arms, Ken Sheppard and Harry Vogel. Calliope coordinator is Donna Syphers, News Bureau.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Archivist Retiring--After 31 years of service, IUPUI Archivist Jeannette Matthew is retiring. A reception for her is May 12, 4:30-6:30 p.m., Hoosier Room, Union Building. She retires June 30. Staff at the University Libraries invites us all to celebrate with Jeannette.

Say Bye to Bessie--Bessie May Starks, phlebotomy supervisor, Dept. of Pathology, University Hospital, wraps up 26 years of service this month. You are invited to a reception for her on May 14, 2-4 p.m., UH N436. All welcome.

Stop Fragmenting--The IUPUI Writing Center's last workshop for the season is "Writing Better Sentences," May 5, 11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m., CA 427.

Need Healthy Men--Healthy males, ages 50-70, are needed for a two-day outpatient experiment about hormones involved in water metabolism. Requires venous catheterization. Remuneration is $250. For more, call Dr. Mark Farber, VA Medical Center, 635-7401, ext. 2986 or ext. 2513.

About Aging--A three-part series on gerontology will be televised on MTN at noon on campus in the coming weeks. Mary Jane Koch, executive director, Office of Gerontology, is content consultant. First is "Substance Abuse," May 6. "Elderly Abuse" is May 27, and "The Home Environment" is June 23. For viewing sites, call 4-7212.

Moms Free--Mothers accompanied by their children will be admitted free to the Indianapolis Zoo on Mother's Day, May 10. A bunch of new moms are waiting there--a gibbon, pygmy goats--to name a few.

Deadline Nears--June 3 is deadline to request entry forms for the next White River Park State Games V; June 10 is entry deadline. Handbooks and entry forms are available by calling 237-2200. "Our" Dale Neuburger is co-chairman this year.

Two From West Germany--The Dept. of Microbiology and Immunology is sponsoring two seminars featuring scientists from the Robert Koch Institute, Berlin, W. Germany. On May 11, 9 a.m., Lilly Research Laboratories, Harold Labischinski presents "Structural Studies on Bacterial Cell Envelope Polymers: Peptidoglycan and Lipopolysaccharides." On May 14, 4 p.m., MS 205, Peter Giesbrecht presents, "New Data on Two Penicillin-Induced Killing Events: Lytic and Non-Lytic Death in Staphylococci." For details, call Marge, 4-7671.

BUSINESS' BEST HONORED AT BREAKFAST

During its annual Beta Gamma Sigma initiation and awards breakfast held recently, the School of Business presented the Schuyler F. Otteson Undergraduate Teaching Excellence awards to some members of the faculty teaching at Indianapolis. Full-time recipients are Peter W. Howard, Roger E. Jerman and Lawrence J. Lad. Adjunct faculty award winners are John C. Snell, Valerie B. Lindsey and Vernon S. Thomas. Those honored for excellence in teaching at the graduate level were Dan R. Dalton, Thomas P. Hustad, Lawrence J. Lad, R. Thomas Lenz and Ashok K. Soni. Their awards will be presented at the MBA/CIP banquet on May. 8.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES

You Are Invited--"Multi-Image Night" is May 5, 7 p.m., LE 101. The final projects of students in Doug Bartlow's course of nearly the same name (C-353) will be shown. Stop by and see some of the latest work in multi-synchronized, multi-slide communication.

Whoa Team--Betty Fields, 30-year elementary music instructor, School of Education, has been doing such a good job of horsing around as adviser to the IUPUI Equestrian Club that four of the club's 15 members qualified for the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association national competition at the fairgrounds May 2-3. Competing on steeds provided by the IHSA officials will be Jeff Boner, Missy Pennington, Michelle Goodwin and Jennie Lieber. They will try to reign over nearly 300 competitors from the U.S. and Canada.-JG

Get That Diploma--IUPUI employees who want to complete a high school diploma can register at University Hospital for classes that begin June 8. Registration is from 3:30 p.m.-5:30 p.m. on June 1 in C-139 and June 2-4 in C-304. For details, call 4-8119.

Poor Drains No Stopper--Plumbing problems will prevent the John Shaw Billings History of Medicine Society from meeting in the Central State Pathological Department Building as planned earlier, but it will meet anyway on May 13, 6:30 p.m., but in RI 4150. Dr. Charles A. Bonsett, M.D., will talk on "The Central State Pathological Department (1895) and the Indiana University School of Medicine." All welcome.

Learn Leadership--Next in the IU School of Business seminar series is "Leadership: Individual and Group Performance," May 20-22, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m., on our campus. To register, call IUB, 335-0229.

Welcome--Nan Hoffman, free-lance writer who has published articles about everything from the visual arts to mental health care, has joined the staff of the IUPUI News bureau as a medical writer. She will cover the Medical Center and School of Medicine. She has her master's degree in journalism from IUB.

Initiation--Sigma Xi will hold its annual banquet and new member initiation on May 7 in the Terrace Cafeteria and Lilly Center Auditorium. Registration is at 5 p.m.; buffet dinner at 6 p.m. Call 267-8729.

Brashear Speaking--Diane Brashear, Ph.D., assistant professor, School of Medicine, and noted sexual and marital therapist, will discuss psychological aspects of impotence affecting the couple at a meeting of the Indiana Impotence Support Group, May 7, 7 p.m., Myers Auditorium, Wishard Hospital. John Mulcahy, M.D., chief of Wishard's Urology Dept. and medical adviser to the group, will explain physical causes of impotence and treatments available for it. No charge; all welcome.

Watch the Parkway--From May 4-July 15 traffic will be restricted on North White River Parkway, West Drive, from Bloomington Street to 1200 north, near River Pointe and Belmont Park. DOT is widening the outer lanes.

PAN AMANIA: CENTER ON TARGET, ETC.

The University Conference Center attached to the Lincoln Hotel is coming along fine. Work is slightly ahead of schedule and, according to John Short, manager of the center, it will be ready and waiting for the Pan Am Games. During the Games CBS will be in the extraordinary communications facility in the building. Watch for dedication news.

The Windsor Symphony of Windsor, Ontario, Can., presents "Pan Am Preview" on May 9, Warren Performing Arts Center, call 898-9722. A folk dance concert, "Spring Concert With Scenes From Around the World," featuring Dans Ethnik, is May 9, Children's Museum. Call 924-5431.

Tickets are available now for the Dance Kaleidoscope concert June 10-14 at the IRT. The salute to the games is in conjunction with the Pan American Arts Festival and will feature special dances and costuming. Call 635-5252.

Details are still being worked out, of course, but Vice President Gerald Bepko asks that we be supportive of plans for the campus during the games. The safety of the athletes and our guests is extremely important. For example, buildings and parts of buildings will be "secure areas" and access will be strictly monitored. If your area is restricted, you will need security clearance. You already know that parking will be "interesting" as some lots will be used for the Games only and as always, access to medical facilities will be given priority.

FROM BRAZIL, ZAIRE, IRELAND, CHINA, AFRICA AND TANZANIA come young men and women in human service professions worldwide who are this year's visiting group in the Council of International Programs/School of Social Work summer project. Faculty members are encouraged to come to a coffee/conversation hour with them on May 5, 9 a.m., commons area, fourth floor, Education/Social Work Building. Part of the orientation activities, the reception is hosted by the School of Social Work and the Office of International Programs. Pat Biddinger from the Office of International Programs hopes faculty will attend and meet the new group "early on, so that they can get acquainted and explore mutual interests." For more, call 4-3261.

HONORS AND ACCOLADES

The highest level of certification, Certified Hazard Control Manager, Master Level, has been awarded to Lowell G. Black, Dept. of Fire Prevention/OSHA.
