

WORKSHOP ON FINDING FUNDING SET FOR FACULTY

Researchers, as well as would-be researchers who have little experience in seeking funding or whose experience is limited to government grants, are invited to a free workshop on the basics of seeking funding in the private, public and institutional sectors. "Finding Fund$ for Educational Need$" is Dec. 11 from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. in Hurty Hall C, Fesler Hall. Ways to locate outside funding for projects important to you and a demonstration of database searching will be presented by Ann B. Kratz, manager of Sponsored Program Services, Research and Sponsored Programs (RSP) at IUPUI. She will cover such areas as campus and IU resources, services offered by RSP, factors that influence success, pitfalls in seeking funding, strategies for successful proposals and funding trends. There will be a question and answer session. You are asked to assure your place at the workshop by calling 4-4083 no later than Dec. 9. The Faculty Enrichment Workshop series has been developed by the Medical Educational Resources Program (MERP), which plans a follow-up workshop on grant writing in the spring. Your suggestions for other topics are welcome.

HOLIDAYS BRING CONCERTS, BENEFIT SKATE, HERRON ART SALE

For your holiday enjoyment, there is a Pan Am Plaza skating party to benefit the hungry, three free concerts and a special Herron art sale.

Skate into the Night at the Pan Am Plaza is Dec. 4, 8-10 p.m. Faculty, staff and students and their friends and families are welcome. Admission and skate rental is a donation of canned goods that will be given to Gleaners Food Bank. There will be door prizes and "much more," according to the IUPUI Student Activities Programming Board, the sponsor. For more, call Freda Luers, 4-3931.

The African-American Choral Ensemble of IUPUI presents an evening of praise and Christmas music, Dec. 8, 7 p.m. in Lecture Hall, room 101. Thomasina Neely-Chandler will direct the 30-voice choir in gospel compositions and "The Black Nativity," a cantata by IU's James Mumford, and the beautiful African ceremony, the lighting of the Kwanza candles.

The IUPUI Jazz Ensemble will warm winter hearts with hot arrangements of traditional big band hits in a concert Dec. 10 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Indiana War Memorial, 431 North Meridian Street.

The IUPUI Concert Band Holiday Extravaganza Dec. 10 at 8 p.m. in Lecture Hall 101 will feature music from the best of America's symphonic and popular music. Doug Smith will direct his "orchestra without strings" in marches and preludes to selections from "The Phantom of the Opera."

The annual Herron School of Art sale Dec. 13-14, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. in the auditorium at Herron features unique holidays gifts of pottery, prints, sculpture, and books.

THE IUPUI EMERGENCY POLICE NUMBER IS 4-7911

JOURNALIST RICCHIARDI RETURNING TO CROATIA TO WORK AND REPORT

Sherry Ricchiardi, assistant professor of journalism, has been teaching her students how to cover war, not by the book but by her firsthand experience in covering the bloody civil war in Yugoslavia for two weeks last fall. She is returning Dec. 13 to find relatives who have been displaced in the strife between Croatia and Serbia, to work with the University of Zagreb and do more reporting. Since 1980 Ricchiardi has frequently visited relatives who lived in a peaceful farm area 30 miles from Zagreb. Recent fighting has turned the countryside into a battle zone, and Ricchiardi fears for the safety of cousins who she thinks were forced to flee their homes. On her return to the former Yugoslavian republic she plans to continue to cover the human side of the conflict, to interview people in refugee camps and to talk with mothers of both Serbian and Croat soldiers. She will return around Christmas.

FACULTY DEVELOPMENT: DEADLINE IS DEC. 2 FOR SEVERAL AWARD NOMINATIONS

The Faculty Development Office reminds staff and faculty that Dec. 2 is the deadline for the following awards (For details, call 4-8880):

FACET--1991 Faculty Colloquium on Excellence in Teaching. IUPUI can nominate 10 people for this system-wide opportunity. Send nominations to Dean Erwin Boschmann, AO 139.

The W. George Pinnell Award for outstanding service to the university, a profession, discipline or the public. Five can be nominated. Send to the Faculty Development Office, AO 139.

Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching. Submit nominations to nominee's dean. Full- and part-time faculty are eligible.

Bynum Mentor Awards. Two awards will be made to outstanding academic mentors. Names of full- or part-time faculty and academic professional staff can be sent to nominee's dean.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Geography Week--Indiana joins National Geography Awareness Week, Dec. 1-7. IUPUI joins schools and institutions across the state with fairs, special school lunches and geography contests. The theme "Geography: New Worlds to Explore," focuses on Christopher Columbus and his influence.

Dump Your Plump--Informational meetings on IUPUI's fun and effective 8-week weight loss program are Dec. 11 and Dec. 18, in room 230, Union Building, 12:15-1 p.m. As teams get together and chose a name, MAX*WELL, the IUPUI Wellness Program, will provide healthy lifestyle tips, prizes to the winners and more. The contest runs Jan. 8-Mar. 4. The deadline to enter is Dec. 18.

Lessons Less--The Indianapolis Indoor Sports Center on campus has a sale on private tennis lessons for IUPUI faculty and staff and hospitals' staff for $30 an hour, rather than the usual $38. Lessons can be taken weekdays before 4:30 p.m. For details, call 636-7719.

Samples and a Show--Healthy holiday cooking tips with samples and a slide show are featured in "Home for a Healthy Holiday," Dec. 10, 11 a.m.-1 p.m., ET 1201. Free.

That's History--In the next meeting of the John Shaw Billings History of Medicine Society Dec. 9 at 4 p.m. in the auditorium of Emerson Hall, Francis J. Fry from the Indianapolis Center for Advanced Research will present "The History of Ultrasound in Medicine and Biology." All welcome. Refreshments at 3:30 p.m.

MOTHER AND FIVE CHILDREN ARE THE HOLIDAY FAMILY

Lisa, a 22-year-old mother and her five children under six years old make up this year's IUPUI "adopted holiday family." She is challenged with cervical cancer and needs assistance in many ways--money to pay the utilities, food and warm clothing for winter. Individuals and groups or units on campus are invited to help out in any way they can. New and good used items are welcome. The children and their sizes are: girl, one, size 2T, shoes 3 1/2 or 4; girl, two, size 3-4T, shoes 7; girl, three, size 4T, shoes 8; boy, four, size 5-6, shoes 9, and girl, six, size 6X-7, shoes 11 1/2 or 12. Their mother wears size 11-12, blouse 36-38, shoes 8. Take checks, cash, food and clothing to Archie Anderson in the Undergraduate Education Center in the Union Building, room 142. For more, call her at 4-4772. This is a special project by the Undergraduate Education Center's Holiday Family Committee which includes Anderson, Rose Gaither, Sylvia Hooks and Beth Marple.

HARMONICA GRADS TO HUFF AND PUFF AND BLOW SOME BLUES AT BOW SPRIT Many of the 200 former IUPUI blues harmonica course alumni will have a reunion Dec. 5, 8 p.m. to midnight at the Bow Sprit Lounge, 7402 N. Michigan Rd.

Larry McCullough, the highly entertaining Ph.D. in the School of Music who plays all sorts of weird and wonderful instruments, has taught all these folks and will join them for the party. "Real" entertainers, Jay Stein & the Night Owls, also will be there and there's no cover charge. The blues harmonica class offered in the Div. of Continuing Studies was named the most innovative course of the year by Learning Resources Network, an international organization that specializes in curriculum development and creative course planning. Everyone who can stand it is welcome.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES

Last Reminder--The next issue of the Green Sheet, Dec. 15, is the last one until Jan. 12, 1992. The deadline is Dec. 10 at 5 p.m.

METRO MENTORS TEAM UP WITH KIDS

Once a week lately a dozen or so players from the IUPUI men's and women's basketball teams have gone back to grade school where they have captured the attention of little people trying to learn. The IUPUI Metro Mentor Program is a pilot program in its first year and is designed to offer IUPUI athletes the opportunity to be active in the community, help kids and help the university establish ties in inner city schools. So far, so good, says Greg Mingus, a men's basketball associate coach and a PE teacher at the John Hope Elementary School 26, where some of the players invested themselves in talking with students and teaching them the value of education. "You might think it was just the young students who benefitted," he said, "but some of our players are getting more positive attention than they've ever gotten in their lives. It's a wonderful experience for everyone." In their classroom visits the Metros players focus on sportsmanship, cooperation, teamwork, trust and other positive skills. Field trips to such places as the Eli Lilly Center and a game at IUPUI are planned.--Ric Burrous

LOOK INSIDE FOR YOUR TV GUIDE IUPUI is the central headquarters for the Educational Access Cable Channel and a leading member of the Educational Television Cooperative that brings quality programming to cable TV. Inside this Green Sheet is your Educational Access program schedule, which includes IUPUI-produced shows such as "Consider This," "IUPUI Forum," and live classes from IE 101. Franklin Central, Decatur Central, Butler U., and the U. of Indianapolis also are in the cooperative that is funded by the City of Indianapolis. To get on the mailing list or for more information, call Dana Anderson in Special Media Projects, 4-2518.

THE DEADLINE NEARS FOR YOUR PROPOSALS DUE BY JAN. 6 Research and Sponsored Programs reminds you that its offices will be closed Dec. 25 to Jan. 1. Your proposals with a receipt date prior to Jan. 6 must be in the office by Dec. 17. No proposals will be processed during the holidays. Call Pam McKeough, 4-8285.
