

green sheet

volume twenty, number fourteen april 8, 1990

UNDERGRADUATE EDUCATION REALIGNS TO IMPROVE SERVICES TO STUDENTS

More than half of IUPUI's 20,000 undergraduate students find their academic homes in different places. The reasons vary. Many haven't yet declared a major and are enrolled in the University Division. Others take courses in the University Access Center (UAC) to build basic skills before entering a school or division. Still others who are not necessarily seeking degrees have entered campus through the Adult Education Coordinating Center (AECC).

BLAKE

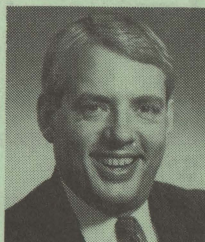

These students have many of the characteristics of the "new majority" in higher education: They are urban, employees, commuters, older, heads of households and dedicated to this community. "We can do a better job in bringing together the units which are the points at which most of these students enter IUPUI. We will do more to facilitate their entry to the university and enhance their staying power here," said J. Herman Blake, vice chancellor for undergraduate education. IUPUI wants to better serve these students by developing one unit to coordinate and manage undergraduate education, including the UAC, University Division, AECC, Admissions and the Honors Program. The realignment will be guided by Blake, who brings to this position a history of successful programs of enhancing undergraduate learning at the University of California at Santa Cruz and Tougaloo College in Mississippi.

SAN PIETRO

"Our goal is to make IUPUI a national model of an urban university, effectively serving its clientele and its community with an emphasis on excellence as a combination of access to university programs of high quality," he said. The new unit also will place a major emphasis on strengthening the UAC, which opened two years ago with a relatively small number students and now enrolls 3,000, making it a "major avenue of entrance into the IUPUI campus," said Blake. "We need to bring these students and the unit more closely into line with the mainstream academic programs and tie them more closely to the academic programs in the undergraduate schools."

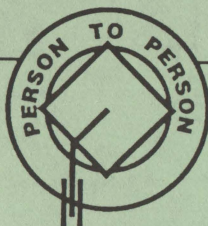

Scott Evenbeck, associate dean of the faculties, will work closely with Blake in this new endeavor, and Anthony San Pietro, distinguished professor emeritus of plant biochemistry, will focus his attentions on the UAC.

EVENBECK

"It is our intent that the University Access Center's function no longer be viewed in a remedial mode, but rather in a developmental academic/intellectual mode," San Pietro said. Evenbeck noted that the reading, mathematics and writing programs at the UAC have been the functions of the academic units from the very beginning. "They have not been courses taught by separate departments or disconnected from the schools, and Dr. San Pietro intends to build on that strength," Evenbeck said.

The reorganization has been considered and discussed by the Council on Undergraduate Learning, the primary advisory body for the program, and Chancellor Gerald L. Bepko was scheduled to present the program to a meeting of the Faculty Council Apr. 5.--smr

PERSON-TO-PERSON PREVIEWS AT UNIVERSITY PLACE

Everyone is invited to learn more about IUPUI's Person-to-Person program during a special preview night Apr. 23, 6-8 p.m. in the hallway of University Place. There will be an academic fair of booths from each school and from financial aid, admissions, counseling, Career and Employment Services and more. Person-to-Person is a program to match prospective students with volunteer campus faculty and staff who will welcome them and help them explore their interests in higher education. During Person-to-Person, Apr. 24-25, 9 a.m.-8 p.m., there also will be campus tours and other events. For more about preview night or the program, call the Person-to-Person Office, 4-2526.

REGISTRATION OPEN TO ALL FOR WOMEN'S HEALTH AWARENESS SERIES The OB/GYN Dept. is taking reservations for one or more talks in its spring series of women's talks in April and May. The series includes "Single Parenting" with Barbara Coleman, ACSW, Apr. 20; "Diets--The Best for You" with Cindy Smith, RD, Apr. 24, and "Babysitters--How to Choose the Best for Your Child" with Dr. Patricia Keener, M.D., Apr. 30. Also, "Quickie Tips for Fitness" with Sue Shattuc, assistant director for health and fitness, May 7; "Pregnancy-Monitoring Tools for the 1990s" with Dr. Ian Johnston, May 18, and "Teenagers and Sex" with Dr. Maggie Blythe, M.D., May 22. The informal talks are from 11 a.m.-noon in UH N436. To register, call OB/GYN, 4-8842.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Are You a Typ-O?--To celebrate National Medical Laboratory week (this week) and the important work they do, lab employees are offering free blood and Rh factor typing Apr. 10 at University Hospital and April 11 at Riley, both in the lobby, 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

Psych Rehab--Next in the Psychology Dept.'s speaker series is Mary Kay Woodward, Regional Assessment and Training Center, Denver, presenting "The Consumer Case Management Project," Apr. 12, 1-3 p.m., KB 031.

Medical Genetics--On Apr. 10 Timothy A. Busteed, graduate student, presents "DNA Repair Systems in Human Disease," and on Apr. 17 Jennifer L. Krieger, graduate student, presents "Highly Polymorphic DNA Markers: Applications and Implications," both at 4 p.m., IB 233.

Max Deadline Nears--Nominations for "The Max," the annual award given by Volunteer Services Dept., are due Apr. 19. The M. Maxine Mingle Pathfinder Award, named for its first recipient, will be awarded Apr. 24 to a volunteer whose special interest and characteristics have resulted in beneficial innovations or developments in the hospitals. For forms or more, call 4-8682.

Voters Welcome--The Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, celebrating 100 years of serving and leading the city, welcomes voters, political hopefuls and volunteers, and business folks to "The Action Course in Indiana Politics," a four-part series that begins Apr. 19. Call 464-2219.

Learn to Drive--Anyone 18 or older who is eligible for a learner's permit can sign up now to learn to drive during Summer Session II, July 1-Aug. 6. The course is $25 and is offered as part of the Traffic Safety Education for Teachers Course, School of Physical Education, and will be taught by students. For more, call Joanna Osgatharp, 4-0604.

Watch for the Warning--Lowell Black from Fire Protection Services has sent your department detailed instructions and pointers for our annual tornado season. To help prevent injury or worse to yourself and colleagues, check out the emergency plan for your area and prepare to take cover when necessary.

HERRON GALLERY

INDIANAPOLIS
CENTER FOR CONTEMPORARY ART

★

-3-

HERRON'S SENIOR SHOW OPENS FOR US APR. 20 Herron seniors and their faculty members especially invite other IUPUI faculty, staff and students to attend the opening reception of the annual Senior Show in the Herron Gallery, Indianapolis Center for Contemporary Art, Apr. 20, 7-10 p.m. The exhibition of works in painting, sculpture, printmaking, woodworking, ceramics, photography, art education and communications continues in the gallery and other areas of the school through May 5.

LAW PROFESSOR IN SOVIET SUPREME TO SPEAK

Latvian Juris R. Bojars, a member of the Supreme Soviet, will give a free public lecture at the School of Law Apr. 9 at noon in room 116. He will talk about presidential power and constitutional changes in the USSR, and earlier in the day he will meet with geography faculty and students. Bojars initiated and is director of the Institute of Foreign Relations at the Latvia State University in Riga, where he is a law professor. Elected last year to the 2,250-member two-chamber Soviet parliament, Bojars is among a small number of legal experts in the Soviet Supreme who are playing a key role in drafting laws for the USSR. Marion physician Roland D. Paegle, also Latvian, is coordinating his visit, along with another Latvian in the Soviet Supreme, A. Plotnieks.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES

Concert-ed Effort--Everyone on campus is welcome to the free mini-concert of opera music by faculty and singers from the Moscow State Conservatory, Apr. 18, 2:30 p.m., in the all new LE 101. The School of Music at IUPUI is handling the special concert on this campus in conjunction with the IU Opera Theatre's production of "The Cry of Clytaemnestra" and "Francesca da Rimini." For IUPUI information, call 4-4000; for IUB, call 5-7433.

SHED* Starts--Nutrition and Dietetics begins a nine-week program, "Sensible Healthy Eating Daily" (SHED*) for anyone who is at least 10 percent over the recommended body weight and who is not pregnant or a nursing mother. The program for healthy eating and weight control is open to everyone on campus. It begins Apr. 17. For fees and more, call 4-7870 or MAX*WELL, 4-0610.

West German Lecturing--The School of Law - Indianapolis is sponsoring a lecture by Jost Delbruck Apr. 12, 1 p.m., LS 116, entitled "A European Peace Order and the German Question: Legal and Political Aspects." He is a fellow in the IU Institute for Advanced Study and former president of the U. of Kiel, West Germany. He is considered a leading German expert on international and comparative constitutional law with particular emphasis on international protection of human rights. All welcome.

We-Benefit-Luncheon--Proceeds from the 13th annual spring luncheon and fashion show at the Meridian Hills Country Club Apr. 28 will be donated to the Multipurpose Arthritis Center, School of Medicine. Kenneth Brandt, M.D., the center's director, will be the guest of honor. The sponsor is the Indianapolis Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority, which is celebrating its diamond anniversary. Tickets are $17 and are available by calling Betty Uebelhor, 873-1642.

Math Sciences--John McCarthy, IU, presents "Ranges of Toeplitz Operators" Apr. 13, 3-4 p.m., KB 059. Refreshments at 2:30 p.m., KB 060.

Need High Blood Pressurites--Non-obese people with high blood pressure are needed for various studies. Compensation is available for those who complete studies. Call 4-0796.

Need Babes--Boys and girls ages 0-24 months are needed for evaluation of lung function. Participants will be compensated. Call Connie Angelicchio, 4-7208.

CHANCELLOR'S HONORS CONVOCATION TO RECOGNIZE FACULTY, STAFF, STUDENTS

Outstanding faculty, staff and students from each school on campus will be honored during the IUPUI's annual Chancellor's Honors Convocation Apr. 20 in University Place. Chancellor Gerald L. Bepko will preside. A reception begins at 6 p.m., with seating in the auditorium at 6:30 p.m. and an academic procession at 6:45 p.m. There is no charge and all are welcome.

HOLOCAUST THE FOCUS OF EXHIBIT AND LECTURE

An international scholar of works about the holocaust and a poster exhibit of WW II events in Germany will be featured on campus this month. Deborah E. Lipstadt, professor of religious studies at Occidental College and author of "Beyond Belief," will give a free public lecture on "The Historiography of the Holocaust," Apr. 26, 8 p.m., auditorium, University Place. Also, throughout April the poster exhibit, "The Courage to Remember," on loan from the Simon Wiesenthal Center for Holocaust Studies, will be displayed on the main floor of University Library. It features vivid photo reproductions of the Jewish genocide. Lipstadt's lecture will be followed by a discussion by a panel that includes Joseph T. Taylor, Scott Seregny and William H. Schneider, all from IUPUI, and Alex Lande, holocaust survivor from Indianapolis. Sponsors are the School of Liberal Arts and Dept. of History.

PROMOTION AND TENURE WORKSHOP FILLS FAST The initial announcement of the promotion and tenure workshop offered on campus Apr. 20 has generated an overwhelming response and filled enrollment within 24 hours. The committee for the workshop is seeking ways to handle any overflow and to accomodate all those who are interested. The workshop will include sample dossiers that will be examined by participants, and then a mock committee of senior faculty members experienced in the promotion/tenure process, will make final notes and evaluations. To register, or for more information, call the Faculty Development Office, 4-8880.

FINALLY...

...the Philip Agee, former CIA officer who quit to become an outspoken critic, will give a free public lecture entitled "The CIA, Human Rights and American Democracy," Apr. 12, 7:30 p.m., LE 101. The author of the bestseller, "Inside the Company: CIA Diary," Agee has become the most controversial critic of the CIA since its founding in 1947. Sponsor is the POLSA, the Political Science Student Association, IUPUI.

...the complex and subtle ways prostitutes and prostitution are represented in media and entertainment will be discussed by Lisa McLaughlin, assistant professor in the School of Journalism, U. of Kentucky, Apr. 20, 3 p.m., CA 438. The built-in bias of reporters, writers and others regarding stereotypes in movies, literature and news will be discussed. Mariam Langsam, associate dean for student affairs and adjunct professor of women's studies, will lead a question and answer session after the lecture. Refreshments will be served. For more, call Linda Haas, 4-7384.

...Earth Day celebrations with gifts of 1,200 tiny trees, a tree and wildflower planting, music, a tent full of environmental information, seminars and much more are planned for campus Apr. 16-19. Look for details in next week's Green Sheet.

green sheet

*News Bureau
Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202