

IUPUI Center for Service and Learning Celebrates 2012 Plater Civic Engagement Medallion Recipients

Volume 1. Issue 6

The 2012 William M. Plater Civic Engagement Medallion awardees have been announced. This year's Plater Civic Engagement Medallion recipients represent a broad variety of backgrounds, majors, and types of engagement that have had a major impact both on the IUPUI campus and within the Indianapolis community. The William M. Plater Civic Engagement Medallion is designed to honor the IUPUI students that are most dedicated to civic engagement. This engagement could take the form of volunteer service at a non-profit agency, participation in a service learning course, contribution of voluntary work on a political campaign, advocacy on specific social issues, and involvement with a faculty member on a community-based research project, or employment in a community work-study position.

The following list includes the 2012 Plater Civic Engagement Medallion recipients, their major(s), and their school.

Danielle Davis, IU School of Liberal Arts
Kathryn DeLaCruz, Purdue School of Science
Laura DeMougin, IU School of Public and Environmental Affairs
Mary Kate Dugan, IU School of Liberal Arts
Colleen Games, Purdue School of Science
Renee Hart, IU School of Education
Lael Hil, IU School of Social Work
Linsday Hill, IU School of Social Work
Jessica Jackson, Purdue School of Science
Angelic Jaramillo, IU School of Social Work
Daniela Klaz, IU Kelly School of Business
Ryan Logan, IU School of Liberal Arts
Megan Newbury, Purdue School of Engineering and Technology
Jaclyn Newton, IU School of Social Work
Daniel Popoola, Purdue School of Science
Taylor Rhodes, IU School of Liberal Arts
Rebeca Rodriguez, IU School of Social Work
Pich Seekaew, Purdue School of Science
Emily Sutter, IU School of Public and Environmental Affairs
Ashley Winfield, Purdue School of Science

This year's recipients were honored at the Civic Engagement Showcase and Symposium on April 24, 2012 at IUPUI in the Campus Center.