DR. GROSSMAN NAMED TO NURSING POST

The Indiana University Board of Trustees has approved the appointment of Dr. Elizabeth Grossman as dean-designate of the School of Nursing, effective September 1. A search and screen committee of 16 members reviewed more than 60 individuals before making their recommendations.

Dean Emily Holmquist will serve as dean until December 31, 1972. In the interim, Dr. Grossman will visit nursing schools throughout the country, interview faculty and administrators, and make long-range plans.

Dr. Grossman has been on the faculty of the School of Nursing since 1959, in the Division of Nursing Education in Bloomington and was named professor in 1970. She has been active in alumni affairs and is well known for her work in nursing education.

"I think Dean Grossman ideally combines a respect for the traditions of nursing with an unusual comprehension of the continual need for innovation in the changing environment of modern nursing," said Dean Holmquist.

Dr. Maynard K. Hine, chancellor of IUPUI, said: "This is a good appointment. Nursing is undergoing tremendous changes and these are reflected in new curricula in nursing education, increased emphasis on specialization, and greater responsibilities for patient care. Mrs. Grossman already has proved herself as an exceptional nursing educator who can continue the school's standards of excellence in education and service."

Dean Holmquist had asked several months ago to be relieved of the deanship. Dr. Hine commented Dean Holmquist deserves much credit for the excellent development of the program in nursing education at Indiana University, and is gratified that she has agreed to continue to serve as a special consultant in nursing education for Indiana University.

"DATING" SERVICE SET UP

A Calendar-Register service has been established in the Office of the IUPUI Chancellor. To aid in planning and to reduce the possibility of conflicts in scheduling, the Calendar-Register will include information on future meetings, conferences, concerts, lectures and similar events of general faculty-staff-student interest involving 50 or more persons.

Information is being gathered from program chairmen, offices that assign campus facilities and other likely sources. The Calendar-Register is designed to serve as a coordinated source of information on key dates and events during the coming academic year for IUPUI.

When sufficient dates are fixed for the months until Commencement (3 p.m. Sunday, May 20, 1973, in the Convention-Exposition Center), a selective list will be published.

If you have one or more events to register, please send a memo to the Calendar-Register, Chancellor's Office, 1219 West Michigan. If you are planning an event and wish to consult on what has been scheduled thus far, call Ext. 8710.

STUDY THE SELF-STUDY

A detailed self-study of IUPUI has just been completed and copies are available in the Chancellor's Office. This study was prepared by nine faculty members, with Dr. James R. East, associate dean of the Downtown Campus serving as chairman, in preparation for a site visit by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for the purpose of accreditation of the academic programs of IUPUI. Chancellor Hine reported that the study is a comprehensive one and those preparing the report deserve much credit for their efforts.

MOORE FACT COLLECTING

John D. Moore of Moore and Associates has been commissioned by Chancellor Hine to collect data regarding the possible uses of several of the buildings on the Medical Center Campus which are to be renovated or demolished in the next few years. Detailed studies are being made of the eventual use of Ball Residence when the new School of Nursing is opened and of Coleman Hospital, Long Hospital and the Clinical Building when the University Hospital is completed. Chancellor Hine is also hopeful that the Cottages and the Allied Health (Administration) Building can be torn down and replaced.

Moore will be interviewing many individuals on campus for the next month. He will carry a letter of introduction from Chancellor Hine.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE. . .PLAN C?

Season football coupon books, due (according to Plan B) to arrive last Tuesday, didn't. The problem is a printing company in Philadelphia, which may be invaded soon by irate Big Red fans. Mrs. Helen Zapp in the IUPUI Student Activities Office pleads for tolerance and understanding (both here and with the Bloomington ticket office) and says that the books should be here this week and go on sale till the end of the month ($15 for five home games). Hopefully, there will be no Plan D.
