Officials break ground on the new Wishard Hospital

An official groundbreaking ceremony for the new Wishard Hospital took place May 12 at the site of the new hospital, east of the Richard L. Roudebush V.A. Medical Center.

Indianapolis Mayor Ballard and leaders from across Central Indiana broke ground on the project using ceremonial shovels emblazoned with “The New Wishard” logo before a crowd of nearly 300 from across the Marion County community.

Joining Ballard to speak were IU President Michael McRobbie and IUSM Dean D. Craig Brater.

Also participating in the ceremony were state representatives Gregory Porter and Bill Crawford; Barbara Malone, city-county councilor; Matthew R. Gutwein, president and CEO of Health and Hospital Corporation of Marion County; Lisa Harris, CEO and medical director of Wishard Health Services; Virginia Caine, director of Marion County Health Department; and other invited guests.

The New Wishard construction project will create 4,400 jobs and transform the landscape of healthcare in Indianapolis. Facilities will include a 315-bed inpatient hospital, a 200-bed outpatient clinic, a 2,400-car parking garage, a 90-bed treatment room emergency department, a women’s health clinic, a central energy plant and offices for faculty, research and administration functions. Construction is expected to complete at the end 2013.

To learn more about the construction project, visit www.TheNewWishard.org.

Assistant Dean for Diversity Affairs appointed

Sheryl E. Allen, MD, has been appointed assistant dean for Diversity Affairs in the Office of Faculty Affairs and Professional Development's Division of Diversity Affairs.

In her new role, Allen will be responsible for assisting IUSM's efforts to recruit and retain residents from underrepresented backgrounds as junior faculty members. Dr. Allen will also work with the IU Student National Medical Association (SNMA) Chapter as a faculty advisor.

Dr. Allen is a pediatric emergency medicine physician in the IUSM Department of Emergency Medicine and an attending at Riley Children's Hospital. She is board certified in Pediatrics and Pediatric Emergency Medicine.

For more information, visit faculty.medicine.iu.edu/allen.html.

Renowned cancer researcher to present Gladstein Lecture

The second annual Harry and Edith Gladstein Visiting Professor Lecture, “Genomic Variation and Cancer,” will be presented at 1 p.m. Tuesday, May 25, in Walther Auditorium by Thomas J. Hudson, president and scientific director of the Ontario Institute for Cancer Research (OICR).

Internationally renowned for his work in genomics and human genome variation, Dr. Hudson’s past positions include leadership roles as director of the McGill University and Genome Quebec Innovation Centre and assistant director of the Whitehead/MIT Center for Genome Research, where he led a team that generated physical and gene maps of the human and mouse genomes. He has been a founding member of the International Haplotype Map Consortium, the Public Population Project in Genomics (P3G) and the International Cancer Genome Consortium.

Dr. Hudson’s laboratory at OICR is involved in the study of genome variation that affects cancer predisposition, progression, and response to therapy. His main project focuses on the genetic architecture of loci associated with risk for colorectal cancer.

IUSCC presents a Celebration of Wellness

The IU Simon Cancer Center (IUSCC) is partnering with Cancer Support Community of Central Indiana to present “A Celebration of Wellness: Honoring the Spirit of Survivorship” from 9:15 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. Friday, June 4 in Fairbanks Hall, room 1112.

This free educational symposium is for people with cancer and their loved ones. There is a $20 fee for health care professionals. The symposium includes opening remarks by Larry Cripe, MD, clinical director and interim director of IUSM Division of Hematology/Oncology and founder of the cancer center’s CompleteLife program.

Deanna Dewberry of WISH-TV, Sherman Burdette of Fox 59 and Lorene Burkhart, a central Indiana author, entrepreneur, philanthropist and cancer survivor, are guest speakers during the event. The symposium includes lunch, a butterfly release and an afternoon Q&A session with IUSCC physicians and researchers.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m.; closing remarks begin at 2:15 p.m. Free parking is available.

To RSVP, call 257-1505 or email events@cancersupportindy.org.

Gopen to present scientific writing workshop

“Scientific Writing from the Reader’s Perspective,” hosted by George D. Gopen, PhD, will be offered as a two-day workshop, Monday, June 21, to Tuesday, June 22, in the Walther Hall (R3) auditorium.

As competition for external funding becomes more challenging, the importance of getting one’s scholarly work successfully published is more important than ever. Dr. Gopen’s approach is based on a single idea: Learning to write for the reader allows the writer to control what readers learn.

Dr. Gopen has presented this workshop at IUSM for the past 3 years, and has changed participants’ writing habits permanently, often resulting in improved grant writing success. Both junior investigators and experienced scholars/mentors will benefit from this program.

Registration is available at faculty.medicine.iu.edu/events.asp. Registrants must be able to commit two full days (6/21-6/22) to this workshop, as each session builds upon the previous one.

Revenue processing training

The Office of Financial Affairs is providing training in IUSM revenue processing from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. Monday, May 24, in Fesler Hall 211 (Hurty Hall B). This training is mandatory for IUSM fiscal officers and revenue processors and is not open to other schools at this time.

This session will teach participants how to properly deposit and transport funds at IUSM. It is being offered in an effort to implement better internal controls and ensure university policy compliance. After participants attend an IUSM Revenue Processing training session they are not required to attend another session; however, everyone is welcome to attend.

To register, visit fdrs.fms.indiana.edu/cgi-bin/training/fis_schedule.pl/ScheduleIUPUI and select "Revenue Processing for the IU School of Medicine."

This Week on Sound Medicine

This weekend, May 15 and 16, Sound Medicine host Barbara Lewis and guests will discuss vaccinations, smallpox and changes to the categorization of autism disorders.

Anne Gershon, MD, professor of pediatrics and director of pediatric infectious disease at Columbia University Medical Center, will discuss the 2008 outbreak of measles in San Diego and what lessons were learned about vaccinations.

D.A. Henderson, MD, MPH, former director of the World Health Organization’s global smallpox eradication campaign, will discuss his book, Smallpox, the Death of a Disease: The Inside Story of Eradicating a Worldwide Killer, which details how he led the effort.

Cathy Pratt, PhD, director of the Indiana Resources Center for Autism at Indiana University, will explain changes in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders’ categorization of autism disorders.

Jody Hoffer Gittel, PhD, associate professor of management and MBA program director at Brandeis University’s Heller School for Social Policy and Management, will discuss relationship-coordinated health care and what it means for patients.

Richard Frankel, PhD, professor of medicine at the Indiana University School of Medicine, will present a new installment of “Patient Listening,” where he speaks with parents of a child who died of cancer. The parents now coach medical professionals in how to speak more effectively and empathetically to parents of seriously ill children.

This week’s Sound Medicine “Checkup” will explore posting calorie information in chain restaurants.

Archived editions of Sound Medicine as well as other helpful information can be found at www.soundmedicine.iu.edu.

Sound Medicine is underwritten by Clarian Health, IU Medical Group and Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis. Reports on Primary Health Care topics are sponsored by Wishard Health Services.

Assistant Dean in Faculty Affairs and Professional Development position available

The Dean's Office of Faculty Affairs and Professional Development (OFAPD) is seeking a clinician to join the faculty development team. Specifically, they are looking to identify a faculty member interested in helping other clinical faculty advance and be successful in their careers.

The assistant dean will work in collaboration with OFAPD, Graduate Medical Education, Medical Education and Curricular Affairs, Continuing Medical Education and the IUSM clinical departments to provide high quality professional development workshops, training and other opportunities for clinical faculty. Quality improvement, patient safety, scholarship of clinical service, balancing the demands faced by busy clinicians, leadership development and clinical education are all potential areas for faculty development efforts, plus any other needs identified by the IUSM clinical faculty in our vitality survey or other needs assessments. The position is 20 percent FTE and is available beginning in July.

Qualifications: The individual selected for this position must have excellent presentation and administrative skills, be a proven clinical leader and educator, and have a keen interest in conducting research about faculty, faculty vitality and the impact of faculty development. While some faculty development experience would be a plus, it is not essential that someone have vast experience in faculty development. For example, a relatively junior clinician who has excellent teaching skills and a passion for OFAPD's work and mission would be considered a strong candidate. This position represents a unique opportunity for a colleague who envisions service as their area of excellence.

Scope submission guidelines

Scope wants your news items.

The deadline for submission is 8:30 a.m. on Thursdays. Scope is published electronically and sent to faculty, staff, students, and residents on Fridays (except on holiday weekends when it is published on the following Monday).

There are three easy ways to submit story ideas or information to Scope:

- e-mail the information to scopemed@iupui.edu
- mail the information to Kevin Fryling, 1110 W. Michigan, LO 401, IUPUI
- fax your information to (317) 278-8722

Contributions submitted by e-mail should be forwarded in 12 point, plain text format. Word document attachments in lieu of fliers are encouraged.

In the interest of accuracy, please do NOT use:

- acronyms
- abbreviations
- campus building codes (use full, proper name of building and include the room number)
- Dr. as a preface before names (designate MD or PhD)

To keep the electronic version of Scope as streamlined as possible, only seminars and lectures of general or multidisciplinary interest will be included.
