

MCBRIDE NAMED DEAN OF SCHOOL OF NURSING

Good things come in pairs for Angela Barron McBride, who was named the new dean of the IU School of Nursing earlier this month, then was honored as a distinguished professor during the traditional Founder's Day ceremony. McBride will bring a national/international reputation to her post as head of the nation's largest nursing school. She is the president-elect of the American Academy of Nursing and is a past president of Sigma Theta Tau, the international nursing honor society. During her term at the helm of Sigma Theta Tau, she was instrumental in locating the organization's international headquarters on the campus.

— Sandy Matthys Roob

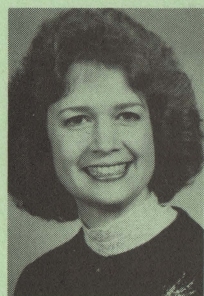

McBride

SIX EARN FOUNDERS DAY RECOGNITION

Six faculty members earned special recognition during Founders Day ceremonies at the IU Auditorium in Bloomington. Nursing school dean Angela B. McBride (see above) and Clement J. McDonald of the School of Medicine earned Distinguished Professorships for their academic work. Among the President's Award winners were Diane M. Billings of nursing, Richard N. Dexter of medicine and Linda L. Haas of sociology and women's studies. Barbara Cambridge of English and women's studies earned a W. George Pinnell Award for outstanding service.

NEW VICE CHANCELLOR FOR PLANNING, IMPROVEMENT CHOSEN

Banta

Nationally recognized education expert Trudy W. Banta will become the new vice chancellor for planning and institutional improvement July 1. Banta, an authority on defining and measuring outcomes in education, was chosen after a nation-wide search and approved earlier month by the IU Trustees. She also will hold an academic appointment as professor of educational psychology in the School of Education. Banta has been the director of the Center for Assessment Research and Development at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville and consultant to the U.S. Office of Educational Research. She also has been the director of the National Institute of Education Program for Minorities and Women, a consultant to the UCLA Value-Added Consortium, the university liaison with the 1982 World's Fair in Knoxville and a director of Tennessee's State-wide Nutrition Education Evaluation.

'MOM' PROJECT DIRECTOR HONORED AS 'UNSUNG HERO' BY MAGAZINE

Joanne Martin, director of the Maternity Outreach and Mobilization ("MOM") Project and part of the School of Nursing, was honored this month as an 'unsung hero' in the "As They Grow" Awards presented by Parents Magazine. The awards are given to recognize the outstanding achievements of eight individuals devoted to improving the lives of children. Winners are chosen each year in six major categories, including health (Martin's area), the arts, education, social action, environment and 'good neighbor.' The award was presented to Martin by Kathie Lee Gifford during special ceremonies in New York City.

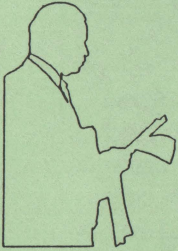

Martin

CHANCELLOR'S HONORS CONVOCATION RECOGNIZES EXCELLENCE

Winners of the annual Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Teaching, the Alvin S. Bynum Award for Excellence in Academic Mentoring and the Glenn W. Irwin, Jr., M.D. Experience Excellence Recognition Awards were honored at the fourth annual Chancellor's Honors Convocation at the conference center this month. Chancellor's award winners included Florence L. Juillerat of the School of Science and Jo Brooks-Brunn of the School of Nursing for their teaching. E. Paul Sechrist of the Undergraduate Education Center and Susan K. Blizzard of the School of Liberal Arts at IUPUI Columbus received Bynum Mentor Awards. Faculty members receiving Irwin Awards included Sarah S. Baker and Deborah L. Cullen of the School of Allied Health Sciences, Ulla M. Connor of English, Kenneth B. Lipkowitz of chemistry, Carol D. Nathan, associate dean of faculties, and Edward L. Robbins of the School of Education. Staff members given Irwin recognition included Shirley Halcomb of the Human Resources Administration, David Kelly of Fire Protection Services, Marilyn Pesci of the School of Nursing, Edward A. Smith Jr. of Campus Facility Services, William A. Spencer, assistant to the chancellor, and Mary M. Von Burg of Wishard Memorial Hospital.

NORTH CENTRAL ASSOCIATION REPORT DRAFT READY FOR REVIEW

The first draft of the IUPUI Self-Study narrative for the university's 1992 North Central Association (NCA) accreditation visit is now ready for review by faculty, staff, students and community representatives. Drafts of the document will be available for reading and copying in all university libraries. Members of the NCA steering committee are hoping for input from all segments of the university. Suggestions and comments can be marked upon photocopies of the document; the committee hopes to have that input by May 15. A revised draft is tentatively set for completion by June 30, with the final copy due the NCA by September 1. For further information, call 4-8974.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE--Beverly Malone, dean of nursing at North Carolina A&T University, will be the featured speaker at the 1992 Nursing Services Leadership Conference April 22 at the University Place Conference Center. Those interested in attending this year's event, titled "Catch a Rising Star: Mentoring, Collaboration and Communication," can register at the door. For more, call Holly Belton at 4-1792 or Kay Clevenger at 4-4041.

'ART' UNVEILED--Hidden talents of the medically inclined will be displayed at the Conference Center auditorium at 7:30 p.m. April 25. School of Medicine faculty and students will stage the first annual "Evening of the Arts" as they sing, play instruments and display original art. Tickets are $3 for students and residents, $5 for faculty, staff and others and can be ordered by calling 4-3729. Proceeds will be donated to the Wheeler Mission Clinic to provide medical care for the homeless.

RICHTER CONFERENCE--The 15th annual Arthur B. Richter Conference in Child Psychiatry will feature several campus medical authorities during its April 24 program at the Conference Center. The program runs 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. and will feature Magda Campbell of the New York University Medical Center. For more, call 4-5189.

AFRICAN DEMOCRACY?--Philip Rutledge, director of the Center for Global Studies, will discuss "Africa South of the Sahara: Fresh Winds of Democracy?" during the April 24 segment of the International House's 1992 Great Decisions brown-bag luncheon series. The program will run from noon to 1 p.m. in the International Commons, second floor of the Warthin Apartments. For more, call 4-5024.

DOWNTOWN TOURS TO SUPPORT NURSING SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Future IU School of Nursing students will benefit from ticket sales to tours of the homes and neighborhoods of school faculty members in Lockerbie Square, the Old Northside and Herron-Morton from 2-5 p.m. April 25. The tours will cost $15 per person and proceeds will be used to establish a scholarship for nursing students from downtown Indianapolis. The tours are part of the Healthy Cities project which the school supports. For more information or reservations, call 4-1545.

NEW PARKING GARAGE CLOSED FOR PAVING

Paving work on entrances and streets at the Blake Street Parking Garage just east of the Natatorium will briefly close the garage April 24. The garage is expected to be closed just for that morning. For more, call Parking Services at 4-4637.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES

EDUCATION SEMINAR--SPEA's Indiana Education Policy Center will focus on "The 'Golden Age' of Indiana Public Education: Fact or Fiction" during a seminar April 24 in BS 4095 from 2:30-4:30 p.m.

WOMEN IN THE '90S--Linda Haas of sociology and Paul Carlin of economics will discuss "Who's Minding the Children?" during the April 22 "Women in the 1990s" program at the Broad Ripple Library. The free lectures run 7:30-9:30 p.m. and are sponsored by the Friends of Women's Studies at IUPUI. For more, call 4-4784.

HIGH-TECH HELP--Robert Fuller of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln will discuss multimedia technology in the physics classroom in a 4 p.m. seminar April 23 in the Krannert Building, room 131, on the 38th street campus.

HEALTH EXPO--The American Medical Students Association "Health Expo '92" will run from 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. April 21 at the Conference Center. For more, call 926-1369.

MEDICAL HISTORY--The John Shaw Billings History of Medicine Society's April 20 session will focus on "Microbiology at the IU School of Medicine, 1920-1970." The program will begin at 4 p.m. in Emerson Hall.

STRIKE UP THE BAND--The IU School of Music at IUPUI's concert band will stage a free spring concert at 8 p.m. April 30 in the University Theatre. For more, call 4-4000.

LEND YOUR VOICE--Staffers are invited to join the IUPUI Staff Choir, with rehearsals each Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in SI 229. For more, call 4-8990.

BATTER UP!--Indianapolis Indians tickets are on sale at the bursar's office for $6 (box seats) and $3.25 (general admission) weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

TEE TIME--Take part in the annual IUPUI Metro Athletic Club golf tournament June 3 at the Golf Club of Indiana. The entry deadline is May 29. For more, call 4-0622.

HEALTH, MEDICAL STUDY SUBJECTS NEEDED

TEENS NEEDED--Teens 14 or older interested in being part of a Volunteer Services Department summer program at Riley and University Hospitals should call 4-8682.

LUNG STUDY--Male infants up to 24 months in age are needed for an evaluation of lung function. There will be compensation, and those interested should call 4-7208.

HERRON SENIORS DISPLAY CREATIONS

Herron major Mark Kelso contemplates one of his paintings displayed during the Senior Show.

Seniors at the Herron School of Art are going out with a bang — and a brush, a piece of sculpture and a myriad of other art forms in the annual Senior Show through May 1. The event allows Herron artists to put their creations on display in a full range of media. The art is available for purchase, which many of the students hope to do both to earn money or repay student loans. The show is free at the Herron Gallery, with hours set 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday. The gallery is located at 1701 North Pennsylvania Street. Parking is available on both Pennsylvania and Talbott streets.

— Sandy Matthys Roob

STUDENT NEWSPAPER EARNS SILVER CROWN AWARD

Silver Crown Award recognition, the second-highest honor given by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, has been given to The Sagamore. The weekly newspaper was one of 14 student publications nation-wide to win the Silver Crown honor, while 10 were designated Gold Crown winners signifying the top honor bestowed by the association. Awards are given to newspapers, magazines and yearbooks run by students and represent the top five percent of all publications evaluated during the 1990-91 academic year.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

NURSING SCHOOL—Nominations and applications for an associate dean of research position within the School of Nursing are being accepted. The position is set to begin July 1. The school also is seeking applicants in nursing administration and faculty for 1992-93. For more about the positions, call 4-3796.

IUPUI COLUMBUS—IUPUI Columbus is seeking assistant professors of sociology and psychology and a librarian, all to start as of August 1. The deadline for applications for all three posts is April 24. For more, call the director's office at 6-372-201 (using the SUVON system).

LIBRARIAN—An associate librarian or librarian, head of public services, University Library and Science and Engineering Library is being sought. The application deadline is April 20. For more, call 4-8278.

HEALTH TECHNICIAN—The Research & Development Service of the Richard L. Roudebush VA Medical Center is seeking help with a national study of lens implants in eye patients. The study is expected to last five years. For more, call 635-7401.

PHYSIOLOGY TEACHER—A temporary physiology teaching position is open in the Medical Sciences Program at IU-Bloomington. The appointee will start July 1 with the possibility for renewal. For more, call 5-8118.

green sheet

*News Bureau
Indiana University—Purdue University at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

