OF ADMISSIONS, CONFERENCES, "GROSS GRAFFITI" & JOBS

According to the National Association of College Admissions Counselors, there are more than 600,000 places still available in U.S. Colleges and universities (as of mid-April) -- about half for freshmen and half for transfer students. Particularly hard hit are the private schools -- though as a group, the "privates" are faced with a "feast or famine" situation. They Ivy schools are filled to overflowing, and the same is true of the popular and less-expensive state universities. Ditto virtually all medical colleges and law schools. Basic reasons advanced for the empty seats: "high costs, end of draft, spreading doubts about higher education's real value." . . . Conferences continue to grow in number, causing Daniel S. Greenberg in April Saturday Review of the Sciences to reflect under his "Memoirs of a Conference Voyeur" that "while it is easy to draw the conferees to an attractive spot, it is often difficult to get them to sit still and pay attention to the purpose for which the conference was convened. Partial resolution has been achieved through a combination of attractive sites and isolation. Put simply, this amounts to luring them out and then locking them in." . . . Initial findings of comparative studies by the Fredonia Graffiti Society suggest that women's room graffiti exceeds men's room graffiti in the quality of "total grossness." . . . A Christian Science Monitor survey suggests: engineering and accounting job offers are up 80 to 100 per cent over last spring; employers seek women to fill slots customarily held by men; minority candidates are sought in technical fields; there are more openings in banks and retail businesses; teaching opportunities are still on the decline, and liberal arts students interested in ecology or social action may wind up "washing dishes." ANOTHER IUPUI FIRST IUPUI is numero uno among Indiana University campuses in the number of students enrolled for summer sessions. For the first session, IUPUI's enrollment total is 5,447, with the largest percentage increase (14.8) above last year among I.U. campuses. The Bloomington total is 5,360, a rise of 9.7 per cent over last year. Comparable totals last summer were Bloomington, 4,886, and IUPUI, 4,746.

ART EXHIBIT HELD OVER

About 10 members of the dental school "family" who have been wielding paint brushes as well as tooth brushes have their art on display on the ground floor of the Union Building. The exhibit has been held over for another month, till July 1.

Seascapes, landscapes and still life in oils and acrylics have been created by doctors, staffers and students in the School of Dentistry under the tutelage of Dr. Rolando A. DeCastro during once-a-week meetings of the art club.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Tune In -- Chancellor Maynard K. Hine will talk about his career and the growth of IUPUI on the IUPUI Magazine, WIAN-FM, at 1:30 p.m. Sunday (May 27), at 3:30 p.m. Monday and at 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

Joyce Kilmer Vs. Frits Loonsten -- Some changes in trees and shrubbery will accompany changes in driveways and parking spaces immediately north of West Michigan Street between Barnhill and Union drives. Indianapolis landscape architect Frits Loonsten's services are part of the project. His plan includes conservation of prime trees, removal of a few not in good condition, and the planting of added trees and shrubbery. The objective is to beautify and improve over-all landscaping in the project area.

The Number To Call Is 7324 -- Gene Levitt, director of the Section of Psychology, is getting depressed. Nobody's calling him to order tickets for Wednesday's benefit tennis match featuring top court stars like Pancho Gonzalez, Chuck DeVoe, Carrie Meyer and Pam Austin. The match will be held at 8 p.m. in the North Central High School gym. Tickets are $4 for adults, $2 for students (21 and younger), $7.50 for boxes and are available from Dr. Levitt (Ext. 7324). Proceeds will be used to buy wind screens for the North Central courts and to begin a fund for a tennis club house. The North Central courts are open for public use. "I just don't understand why nobody's calling," he said. "The hockey tickets sold so well. . ."

On to the Nationals -- The IUMC Medical Technology Intern Bowl Team won the regional competition in Memphis this month and they'll head for Boston next month for the big-time. The contest will take place at the national convention of the American Society for Medical Technology. Team members are Janice Sohns, Jean Stockrahm, Sharon Phillips and Mary Williams. Alternates are Janet Jones and S. Elaine Brown. Education co-ordinator is Mary A. Feeley, assistant professor of medical technology.

Pharmacy displays this week in University Hospital will be Parke-Davis on Wednesday and Riker Laboratories on Friday. Exhibit hours are 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Houses for Sale -- Stone home, 3 bedrooms, 2 glass baths, radiant heat, located on quiet street in School 84 (north) area. Call 251-7680 or Ext. 3855. . . .A 3-bedroom ranch-style home at 2934 Colerain Drive, 10 minutes from IUMC; 1½ baths, gas heat. Low 20s. Shown by appointment. Call Ext. 8960 days or 923-1616 evenings. . . .A 3-bedroom ranch-style at 4742 North Bluffwood Drive, 12 minutes from IUMC, 2 fireplaces and 2½ baths. Shown by appointment. Call 291-3879.

Places for Rent -- A 3-bedroom house, unfurnished, 1-car garage, fenced-in yard, $135 a month, 1-year lease. Available July 1. Call Ext. 8887. . . .A 7-room apartment available for subletting during July. Call 924-2727 or 923-1321, Ext. 356.

GIFT COMMITTEE SET UP

Indiana University President John W. Ryan has established a Major Gifts Committee which is seeking listing of any persons, foundations, industries or institutions that might be good prospects for a major gift to the university. Any ideas to their areas of interests would also be of concern to the gift committee.

Secondly, they would like to have a list of projects covering the next 10 years which might be presented in an exciting way relating to the progress of individual schools or IUPUI as a whole.

Dr. Doris H. Merritt in the Chancellor's Building will be glad to receive and forward any proposals you might like to submit.

HONORS & ACCOLADES DEPT.

3 Dr. Elizabeth K. Grossman, dean of the School of Nursing; Dr. Doris H. Merritt, dean for sponsored programs, and Dr. Catherine Palmer, professor of medical genetics, have been named to the Hunter College City University of New York Hall of Fame in recognition of their alumni service and professional achievement. The honors came at the 103rd birthday celebration of Hunter College recently in New York City.

Virgil Hunt, assistant registrar, has received an honorary doctor of laws degree from Oakland City College.

5 Dr. Hanus J. Grosz, professor of psychiatry at the Institute of Psychiatric Research, has become the first physician to be awarded Recovery's certificate of appreciation in recognition of his work with Recovery, Inc. Dr. Grosz was honored at the organization's annual meeting this month in Chicago.

Dr. William A. Nevill, dean of the School of Science and acting dean of the School of Engineering and Technology, has been promoted to lieutenant colonel in the United States Army Reserve.

7 Dr. David F. Mitchell, chairman and professor of oral diagnosis, was elected vice-president of the North American section of the International Association for Dental Research at the group's annual meeting last month in Washington, D.C. He will continue to serve as editor of the Journal of Dental Research. Appointed to the Journal's advisory board were Drs. Abdel El-Kafrawy, George K. Stookey and Dr. Chris H. Miller.

Dr. Eugene E. Levitt, director of the Section of Psychology, has been elected president of the newly organized Division of Professional Psychology, Division 2 of the Indiana Psychological Association. Also elected to one-year terms were Frank J. Connolly, treasurer, and Dr. Charles W. Perkins, member-at-large, both of the Adult Psychiatry Clinic.

Dr. Morris H. Aprison, professor of biochemistry and chief of the Section of Neurobiology in the Institute of Psychiatric Research, recently was honored by Kansas State University by being appointed one of their 1973 visiting Graduate School Guest Scholars. During his visit to that campus this month, Dr. Aprison gave two lectures to the students and faculty.

Dr. Morris Green, chairman and professor of pediatrics, has been selected as the consultant in pediatrics to Children Today, a journal published six times a year by the Children's Bureau, Office of Child Development, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

GREAT MOMENTS IN FACULTY CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY (PART III)

Chancellor Bogle returned to the role of the administration and noted that it is not represented in any part of this constitution. He said that it is not realistically recognized in this document that sooner or later there is going to be a clash on any one of these several items. "We are giving faculty all kinds of prerogatives, and yet we know that they really don't have it." Professor Byrnes asked Chancellor Bogle to name three items where administration has the authority and the faculty doesn't. Chancellor Bogle said the faculty has input on all of these items, and Professor Byrnes said "input isn't controlling." Professor Wennerstrom pointed out that the Council is considering a faculty constitution; it is not talking about an administrative constitution. (From the minutes of the University Faculty Council, April 17 meeting at the Fort Wayne Campus).
