FIRST ANNUAL TEACHING CONFERENCE A COMPLETE SUCCESS

The members of the IUSD Committee on Teaching, including Drs. Starkey (Chm.), Dykema, Burstone, House, Gilmore and Standish, organized and administered the dental school's first annual teaching conference at Spring Mill State Park, Mitchell, Indiana, September 12-15. Comments received by the Teaching Committee from many of the faculty indicated that the conference was a success. Eighty-four members of the faculty participated including a number of dignitaries from the Bloomington campus. Dean Heffner, vice president of the University and dean of faculties reported to the general faculty of the University in Bloomington on Monday evening, September 27, that he had participated in our conference and deemed it a very valuable approach to improvement of teaching. He expressed the hope that other schools of the University would consider holding such conferences.
