

green sheet

INDIANA UNIVERSITY-PURDUE UNIVERSITY AT INDIANAPOLIS

volume two, number <sup>thirteen</sup>~~eleven~~

march 26, 1972

iupw

DEADLINE CHANGE

Because of the Good Friday holiday on March 31, the Green Sheet will be going to press a day earlier than usual. Ergo, all news and feature items, rumors, gossip goodies, earth-shaking meeting notices must be in the News Bureau (Fesler 104) no later than 5 p.m. Tuesday, March 28.

* * *

GOINGS-ON "OUT THERE"

A University of Maine plan to provide free tuition, room and board to the state's Indians has been challenged in a law suit charging that preferential treatment for a particular group violates the 14th Amendment . . . Dr. Robert L. Ebel, president of the American Educational Research Association, says the time has come to allow unwilling learners to leave the educational system: "Good intentions which led us to enact compulsory school laws have trapped us . . . School attendance can be made compulsory, but learning cannot be." He suggested that all students be guaranteed 12 years of education, but that no one be forced into it . . . The City University of New York faculty union has instructed members to refuse to complete HEW questionnaires aimed at determining whether CUNY hiring practices discriminate against minorities. The union claims the requests for such information violate Constitutional guarantees for privacy . . . Michigan State University's board of trustees has voted to publicize faculty and administration salaries . . . (from University Today Newsletter)

* * *

THREE-DAY HERRON PROGRAM SCHEDULED

Two lectures and a symposium are on the docket this week in the auditorium at the Herron School of Art. The sessions, part of the school's Visiting Artists Program, are free and open to faculty, students and friends of the school.

Wednesday's program at 5 p.m. will be a slide presentation by Duane Michals, nationally acclaimed photographer. A native of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, Michals was educated at Carnegie Tech, the University of Denver and Parsons School of Design. Though he shoots assignments for commercial magazines like Esquire, New York and Mademoiselle, he is best known for his personal work dealing with what he refers to as his "interior journey." He has created virtually a new art form--photographic sequence images.

Nathan Oliveira, professor of art at Stanford University, will present a "Slide Presentation Dealing with the Development of a Suite of Lithographs" Thursday at 5 p.m. Prints and paintings by Oliveira are included in most major American public collections, including the Whitney Museum of American Art and the Museum of Modern Art in New York City.

(continued)

Herron Dean Benjamin de Brie Taylor will moderate a symposium Friday morning on "The Artist's Obligation to Society." Participants will include Michals and Oliveira, as well as Tom Walsh, associate professor of art at Southern Illinois University; John Hooper, Canadian painter; Jerome Savage, painter and sculptor from the University of Illinois; Carol Summers, New York printmaker, and Don Trousdell, graphic designer and illustrator from Atlanta. The Friday session will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

* * *

"CLASS COMMUNICATION" SEMINAR APRIL 7-8

A two-day faculty seminar on "Inter-Racial, Inter-Social Class Communication: Perspectives on the Problem," will be held April 7-8 in Room 509 of Cavanaugh Hall.

Sponsored by the Racial and Ethnic Affairs Committee of IUPUI, the seminar will provide specific information concerning the socio-economic and historical situations that are responsible for the communication problems and will provide the IUPUI faculty a chance to share information in an inter-disciplinary setting.

Papers will be presented by Gerry Rosenfeld, Ph.D., chairman of the Department of Anthropology at Hofstra College; Gordon Alexander, special assistant to Senator Birch Bayh; Orlando L. Taylor, Ph.D., director and chairman of the Institute of Urban Languages Research, and Ronald Williams, Ph.D., chairman of the Department of Communication Sciences, both from Federal City College in Washington, D.C.

Also Juanita Williamson, professor of English at LeMoyne-Owen College in Memphis, and Jack Daniel, Ph.D., chairman of the Department of Black Community Education Research and Development at the University of Pittsburgh.

A $5 charge will cover Friday dinner in the Union Building. Applications for the course (enrollment will be limited to 60 persons) should be in by Friday (March 31). Interested persons may contact a member of the conference committee: Mrs. Anita DeFrantz, (Speech Pathology), Ext. 8141 or Ext. 8868; Miss Regina Edwards (Graduate School of Social Service), Ext. 8185, or Stanley Warren (University Division), Ext. 3986.

* * *

CALENDAR CHECK-OFF

Monday through Friday -- Last week for "Student Exhibition 1972" at Herron School of Art. Displays in gallery at 110 East 16th Street show off best of student work in foundation, painting, printmaking, sculpture and visual communications departments. Hours are noon to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Tuesday -- Former Indiana Governor Matthew Welsh will be featured speaker for POLSA (IUPUI Political Science Association) meeting at 3:30 p.m. in Lecture Hall Building, Room 102. Welsh, now vying for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, will make a 15-minute presentation and leave time for questions and answers.

Tuesday -- IU's Singing Hoosiers will be on stage at 8 p.m. in North Central High School auditorium for final performance in Showcase of Music Series. Tickets ($3, or $2 for students) are available from Mrs. Helen Zapp in the Union Building.

Wednesday -- Stanton T. Friedman, nuclear physicist-lecturer, says flying saucers are real and he'll explain why in two lectures at two IUPUI locations. First is a 3 p.m. program in the student lounge of the Krannert Building. Second is a public lecture in the Union Building cafeteria where non-student admission is $1 per person. The program is sponsored by the IUPUI Convocations and Lectures Committee.

Wednesday and Thursday -- A Family Planning Institute, conference on the role of family planning in comprehensive family health care, will be held at the Ramada Inn East starting at 9 a.m. Wednesday and ending about 2 p.m. Thursday. Participants will be those who have responsibility for family health and welfare, including administrators, physicians, nurses, social workers and educators. Interested persons can register at the door but should first notify the Planned Parenthood Association of Indianapolis, 615 North Alabama Street, or the Indiana Family Planning Project at Marion County General Hospital.

Thursday -- "Can Man Exist Without Machines?" will be the topic of the Dimensions of Modern Man colloquium at 8:15 p.m. in Room 507 of Cavanaugh Hall. Faculty panelists include Edmund Byrne and John Riteris, Department of Philosophy, and David Neal, Department of Computer Sciences.

April 4, etc. -- The Research Computer Center has announced its spring semester schedule of classes, open to all faculty, staff and students on a no-fee, no credit basis. All classes will meet in Room B13 of the Medical Science Building. The instructor will be Adeline C. Seifert. Classes are: April 4, 6, 11; 13, Introduction to Computers and the Computer Center (3 p.m. to 4 p.m.) and Fortran IV (4 p.m. to 5 p.m.); April 18, 20, 25, 27, Fortran IV (3 p.m. to 4 p.m.), BASIC (4 p.m. to 5 p.m.)

* * *

GOOD FRIDAY-EASTER HOLIDAY NOTES

Due to interinstitutional scheduling conflicts, Friday will be postponed this week. The Joint Observances Committee will issue a report on alternative dates for rescheduling Friday upon approval by appropriate faculty and staff bodies.

The campus post office will be closed Friday through Sunday for the Easter holiday. There will be no pick-up or delivery by the campus mail service on those days.

The holiday library hours at 38th Street will be: 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Friday; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, and closed on Easter. The School of Medicine Library will maintain its regular hours during Easter weekend.

Good Friday through Easter Sunday food service in the Union Building cafeteria will follow this schedule: breakfast, 7 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.; coffee, juice and pastry, 9:30 a.m. to 10:45 a.m.; dinner, 10:45 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; grilled short-order selections, 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.; supper, 4:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. The snack bar, faculty dining room and Hideaway will all be closed.

* * *

GRAND RIGHT & LEFT DEPT.

A special workshop in square dancing will be presented April 4 by the IUPUI Normal College of the American Gymnastic Union in cooperation with the Indiana Dancers Association. The workshop, to be held from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. on the Normal College campus at 1010 West 64th Street, is designed primarily for dance instructors and physical education teachers.

The workshop is free, but attendance will be open only on a reservation basis. Reservations may be made by telephoning the Normal College, Ext. 3764. The teacher for the workshop will be James Hedge of Muncie, a widely known square dance caller.

* * *

HONORS & ACCOLADES DEPT.

Richard G. Lawrence, dean of the Graduate School of Social Service, will serve next year as president of the Indiana Central Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers.

Dr. A. K. Naghdi, associate professor of engineering sciences, has published an article in the Journal of Engineering for Industry, Transactions of the ASME. The title is "A Note on the Hoop Stress in a Cylindrical Tank with Hole."

* * *

TRAVELLERS

Alvin S. Bynum, assistant dean, University Division, is in Chicago this week for the 1972 Convention of the American Personnel and Guidance Association. The featured speaker will be B. F. Skinner of Harvard University, one of the nation's foremost behavioral psychologists.

Dr. Eugene E. Levitt, director of the section of psychology and professor of clinical psychology, and Dr. Frank J. Connolly, assistant professor of psychiatry and senior staff psychologist, will be in Fort Wayne April 7-8 to participate in the spring meeting of the Indiana Psychological Association.

* * *

RIDE NEEDED "DESPERATELY" from Riley Hospital at 6 p.m. weekdays to Tara Apartments, 34th and Moeller Road. Willing to pay. Call Beverly Neel, Ext. 4076 or 297-3682.

* * *

SARAH A. HOSTETLER
SECRETARY TO DEAN OF STUDENT SERVICES
38TH STREET CAMPUS