

green sheet

volume nine, number seven

february 18, 1979

Did you know that...

IUPUI's spring semester enrollment has hit a grand total of 19,961, five short of last spring's enrollment of 19,966. I.U. East (Richmond) was the only campus in the system to register an increase, up 166 students to an enrollment of 1,379. System-wide, the spring enrollment is 71,121, down 1,669 for a 2.29 percent decrease compared to last spring's figures.

AEROBIC DANCING?

"Fundamentals of Magic," "Earthworm Farming," "Aerobic Dancing," "Greek and Roman Mythology," "Getting That First Job" and "Managing the Unsatisfactory Employee" are among 65 new non-credit courses for spring scheduled by the Continuing Studies Division of IUPUI.

Other new classes include "Cartooning," "Home Maintenance--Electrical and Non-Electrical," "Financing a College Education," "Russian People and Politics," the "American Value System," "Introduction to Spelunking," "Home Movie Making," "Business Economics," and "If Life Begins at 40--What's Next?"

Almost 200 non-credit courses for adults on a wide variety of subjects are offered, most of them beginning the first week in March. "Keeping up with requests for new subjects is a big part of our job," says Marjorie L. Stonehill, assistant dean of the division.

"This year we have expanded our business course offerings, as well as adding some 25 new personal interest courses. Meanwhile, the old favorites keep filling up each semester.

"More than 12,000 adults attended our classes last year," she added. Classes will be held at two IUPUI campuses, as well as at Carmel and Warren Central high schools, plus several private locations.

Registration for continuing studies courses is being held this month at the Continuing Studies Office, 1201 East 38th Street. You may enroll by mail or telephone at Ext. 4501. Free schedules are available by calling Ext. 4501.

(more)

The length of classes may vary from one-day workshops to 16-week classes. Most are six- to eight-week courses and fees vary according to class expense. (N.B. For most continuing studies courses, IUPUI faculty and staff are entitled to a one-third fee waiver. Inquire when registering.)

* * *

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE & SOMETIMES WHY

From Chicago with Art -- "Chicago Alternative," an exhibition centering on the most exciting new artists in Chicago, is in full swing at the gallery at the Herron School of Art, now through March 9. The exhibition presents current trends in the art movement away from traditional painting and sculpture. More than 40 works by 14 artists represent a new generation exhibiting in Chicago. Gallery hours are from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Displays -- Pharmacy displays this week in University Hospital will be Abbott Laboratories on Monday, Lippincott Publishers on Wednesday, and Bristol Laboratories on Friday. Mead Johnson Laboratories will have a display in Riley on Wednesday. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Traumatic -- An interdepartmental conference on "Head Trauma" is scheduled for Tuesday at noon in Lilly Auditorium at Wishard Memorial Hospital.

Measurable -- Dixie W. Ray from the Department of Community Health Nursing will give a Nursing Research Colloquium on Tuesday about "Measuring Health Status in a General Population." The hour-long session starts at noon in Room 305 at the School of Nursing.

Therapeutic -- "Effects of Therapeutic Levels of Ultrasound on Coronary Blood Flow Distribution in Ischemic and Normal Myocardium," seminar by T.D. Franklin Jr. of the Ultrasound Research Laboratories; University Hospital, Room N436, Tuesday at 3 p.m.

Genetic -- "Legal Aspects of Disputed Paternity Proceedings," Medical Genetics Seminar by attorney John Rader; Riley Research, Conference Room 138, Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Slick -- The all-new Ice Capades hit the Market Square Arena spotlight Tuesday evening for a seven-performance run through next Sunday.

Grand Rounds -- Dr. Robert J. Lefkowitz, professor of medicine and biochemistry at the Duke University School of Medicine, will give the Department of Medicine grand rounds Wednesday at 8:15 a.m. in Myers Auditorium at Wishard. His topic: "Regulation of Adrenergic Receptors: Physiological and Clinical Implications."

Programmatic -- Division of Personnel Career Development Programs this week will be "Introduction to the Computer" on Wednesday at the 38th Street Campus and "The Supervisor and the Interviewing Process" on Thursday in the School of Nursing. Both sessions are 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Mathematic -- The Third Annual Ernest R. Johnston Colloquium Lecture will feature Peter Hilton from Case Western Reserve University who will discuss "New Directions in Mathematical Curricula." The program will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 131 in the Krannert Science Building.

Thoracic -- The Indiana Thoracic Society will meet Wednesday and hear Dr. Thomas V.N. Ballantine, assistant professor of surgery, talk about "Surgically Correctable Causes of Respiratory Distress in Neonates." The society, which acts in a medical advisory capacity to the American Lung Association of Indiana, will meet at 7 p.m. at the Sheraton West.

Anatomic -- "Mineralization and Metabolic Response in Cultured Adult Rat Bone Cells," Anatomy Seminar by Dan Williams, Eli Lilly Research Laboratories; Medical Science Building, Room 205, Thursday at noon.

Cinematic -- "The Reformation" is this week's entry in the "How Should We Then Live" series being shown at the School of Dentistry in Lecture Hall S116 on Thursday from 12:15 p.m. to 12:45 p.m.

Legalistic -- The final program of a three-part series on "Social Work and the Law" will be held Friday and deal with "Family Law, Social Workers and the Court." The all-day session will deal with a discussion of paternity, divorce and its impact on children, plus a "how-to" session on preparing oral and written reports for the courts. Sponsored by the I.U. School of Social Work and the Children's Rights Project, the program starts at 9 a.m. at the Essex House Hotel.

Resourceful -- "Evaluating Your Teaching" is the focus of the second annual IUPUI Learning Resources Committee Symposium which gets under way Friday at 1 p.m. in the School of Nursing auditorium. Hoping to repeat last year's SRO response from faculty members, planners have organized an afternoon of workshops dealing with student evaluation by teacher and vice versa, self evaluation and test construction. The featured general session speaker will be Robert L. Ebel, professor of education and psychology at Michigan State University.

Psychological -- Roger Bell, associate professor in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences and the Department of Family Medicine in the School of Medicine at the University of Louisville, will be on campus this week to deliver a colloquium on "Needs Assessment: State of the Arts." Bell, who also is director of the National Conference on Needs Assessment, will speak at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Krannert Science Building, Room 031. The colloquium is sponsored by the Department of Psychology in the Purdue School of Science and by the Department of Psychiatry in the I.U. School of Medicine. For information, call 612-358.

Friday Comes But Once a Week -- The Adult Education Council of Central Indiana will have a TGIF meeting Friday at 4 p.m. at the Speedway Motel. For details, call Gemma Shortridge, Ext. 4166.

Biochemical -- "Pharmaceutical Enzymes," Biochemistry Seminar by Dr. Albert Lauwers from Ghent, Belgium; Medical Science Building, Room 326, 4 p.m. Friday.

Memorial -- The IUPUI Black Student Union will sponsor the Martin Luther King Memorial Dinner on Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the Hoosier Room at the Union Building. Cost is $5.50 for students and $6 for faculty, staff and community members. Paid reservations will be accepted until Wednesday. For more information, call Ext. 2279 or Ext. 2519.

Mimic -- Marcel Marceau will give a performance at 8 p.m. Friday in the I.U. Auditorium in Bloomington. For information, call the box office, 812-337-1103.

Flick -- Olivia De Havilland and Montgomery Clift star in "The Heiress," 1949 William Wyler film which will be shown at 8 p.m. Friday in the DeBoest Lecture Hall at the Indianapolis Museum of Art. Admission is $1 for members, students and senior citizens; $2 for non-members, and 50¢ for children 12 and under.

Symphonic -- Spanish pianist Alicia de Larrocha will perform Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 2 in B-flat Major with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra in concerts Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in Clowes Memorial Hall.

Coming Up -- "Pulmonary Afferents and Their Central Projections: Studies Using Transganglionic Transport of Horseradish Peroxidase," Physiology and Anatomy Seminar by Dr. Madhu Kalia from the Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia; Medical Science Building, Room 205, 4 p.m. February 26.

* * *

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Canadian Sunset -- Frederick W. Kleinhans, associate professor of physics, and about 30 students and amateur astronomers will head to Winnipeg, Manitoba, to see the eclipse of the sun on February 26. The eclipse can be viewed in totality in some portions of the continent, but only partially in Indiana. Kleinhans' record on eclipse viewing is 50-50: He was rained out in New England in 1958 but was successful in Canada in 1963.

Prize -- The Thelander Award, a $100 cash prize given to the student submitting the best paper on a subject of historical interest, will be presented at Honors Day this spring. Candidates must be regularly enrolled undergraduates at IUPUI and their papers may be either assigned term papers or the product of independent research. Deadline for entries, which should be submitted to the chairman of the Department of History, School of Liberal Arts (Cavanaugh Hall, Room 503R) is March 16. For more information, call Ext. 3811.

Business Professor -- William E. Gifford III, a member of the School of Business faculty since September, died February 10 as a result of an accident at his home. Burial was in New Canaan, Connecticut. For those who wish to do so, contributions may be made in his name in care of the School of Business Development Fund of the Indiana University Foundation.

Science -- The School of Science Dean's Convocation Series will convene on Wednesdays at noon again this spring and the first program is scheduled for February 28 in the faculty lounge of the Krannert Science Building. Wendell F. McBurney from Research and Sponsored Programs will talk about "Internal Sources of Support."

Ride Needed -- From 6620 West 10th Street to University Hospital, 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. shift. Please call Ext. 4770 or 241-3908.

Lost -- An envelope containing very important papers for a hearing was lost between the Union Building parking lot and Riley Hospital. If anyone has any information about the envelope, please call Jowanna Moreland at Ext. 8723 between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. The papers are needed for a hearing on February 26.

* * *

green sheet

*News Bureau
Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

ARCHIVES
ROOM 316
UNIVERSITY LIBRARY 420 BLAKE ST