WILLIAMS EVALUATION IN PROGRESS

An Indiana University committee, appointed by President John W. Ryan in accordance with review procedures adopted by the University Faculty Council in 1978, is conducting a review of the administrative performance of I.U. Vice President for Administration Edgar G. Williams.

Committee Chairman Warren Meinschein, geology, Bloomington, has asked interested members of the I.U. faculty, staff and student body to be in touch with the committee as soon as possible.

IUPUI personnel may telephone or write either Dr. Carl Fuller, Audiology and Speech Clinic, Riley Hospital, Room A56, or Dr. Meinschein, Department of Geology, 1005 E. Tenth Street, I.U. Bloomington, 47405. Dr. Fuller's campus phone is 8868. Any information furnished the committee will be treated as strictly confidential.

Other committee members are Professors Frederick Kirchoff, English, Fort Wayne; William Perkins, business, Bloomington; and Phillip Saunders, economics, Bloomington. Representing the I.U. staff is Rebecca Sims, supervisor of transcripts, Bloomington. Kelly Powrie, IUB senior, is the student member.

HOMEcoming SET WEDNESDAY

Alumni, students and friends are invited to attend IUPUI's fourth annual homecoming this Wednesday at Market Square Arena.

Festivities will get under way when the IUPUI Metros take on Marion College at 4:45 p.m.

Representatives from seven IUPUI schools have been selected as candidates for homecoming queen. Winning candidate will be selected through official ballots that were printed in the February 11 issue of the Sagamore.

Candidates are Tammy Lynn Gold, junior dental hygiene student; Sandy Lovett, senior in elementary education; Sherri Leach, junior in physical education; Victoria Long, junior nursing student; Lori Jacobson, senior in criminal justice; Linda Lee Bryant, senior in accounting, and Marta Cruz, junior majoring in Spanish. The queen will be crowned during half-time activities during the Indiana Pacers and Atlanta Hawks game that follows the Metros' contest. There will be a reception immediately following the crowning ceremonies at MSA's restaurant, Aisle 25.

Tickets for the Metros and Pacers games are available through the Student Activities Office, Room 322, Cavanaugh Hall, and at the School of Physical Education, 1010 West 64th Street.
