Hoyt also asked Faculty to please forward all recommendations for nominees to the positions of IUPUI Faculty Council President and Vice President [to be elected in Spring 2004] to the Nominating Committee at dhoyt@iupui.edu.

Agenda Item V: [INFORMATION ITEM] Report on Representatives to Be Elected in Spring 2004.

The annual report on Faculty Council Representatives to Be Elected in Spring 2004 was presented to the faculty and is available for review online at <http://www.iupui.edu/~fcouncil/documents/to-be-elected-04.htm> . The report highlights the fact that the 2004-05 Faculty Council will contain 39 Representatives At-Large (21 will need to be elected in March 2004) and 39 Unit Representatives (election needs vary by unit and will be communicated to school governance leaders).

This report is made per tradition and not constitutional mandate.

Agenda Item VI: Chancellor's Report: Charles Bantz (IUPUI Chancellor & IU Vice-President).

Chancellor Bantz reported the following:

- o The Chancellor, with the assistance of the Faculty Council Executive Committee, is seeking faculty to serve on three teams that will help identify the key elements necessary to achieve the doubling of IUPUI's accomplishments in Research, Teaching and Service by the year 2010.

Aside from being mindful of creative strategy and careful prioritizing to achieve these goals, Bantz noted that all three teams will be asked to “focus on the long-term goal of enhancing educational and learning attainment of Indiana, enhancing IUPUI's knowledge contribution in the broadest sense, and enhancing our student/faculty/staff engagement in the civic community.”

- o IUPUI has much to be proud of as two of its female student athletes have received special recognition in recent weeks. An alumnus of the Fitness and Sports Studies program and American soldier serving in Iraq, Billie Grimes, was featured on the cover of TIME Magazine's annual “Man of the Year” issue.

Additionally, Tiffany Kyser, IUPUI graduate and Indianapolis native, was named one of the ten finalists for the NCAA Woman of the Year. Kyser, currently playing professional basketball in Greece, maintained an impressive academic record, volunteered in the community and remained an integral member of the IUPUI women's basketball program.

Agenda Item VII: President's Report: Mary Fisher (IUPUI Faculty President & UFC Co-Secretary, 4-8027, mlfisher@iupui.edu).

President Mary Fisher welcomed the Faculty back from the holiday break and expressed her thanks to President Herbert for his participation in the meeting. She also emphasized the need for faculty volunteers to work on Chancellor Bantz's doubling efforts. Interested parties should contact the Faculty Council office at 274.2215 or molmarti@iupui.edu.

Agenda Items VIII - IX: [SPECIAL PRESENTATION] Remarks by Indiana University President Adam Herbert.

Vice President Ng welcomed and introduced Indiana University President Adam Herbert, who then addressed the Council.

President Herbert thanked the IUPUI Faculty Council for inviting him and mentioned that (despite the cold weather) "there is no place he'd rather be than at Indiana University." He noted how very proud of and impressed by IUPUI he has been, acknowledging how much other campuses and other institutions might learn from the remarkable work in academic support, assessment and research being done in Indianapolis.

Over the next decade, Herbert noted, the university will continue to grow and develop—and he "[does] believe we are one university"—and that, soon, Indiana University will engender more support and recognition from citizens across the state for what the university does to enrich the quality of life in Indiana.

President Herbert identified the current economic climate (one of great fiscal challenges) as of central concern as the university engages in strategic and long-range planning. In response to the threat of financial exigency, a committee on the efficiency of government has been convened, featuring a subcommittee on higher education. The President has been and will continue to work independently and alongside other administrators to educate this subcommittee on reconciling stated goals for state universities with predicted revenue levels.

Herbert identified his highest priority as enhancing the academic enterprise of Indiana University. He shared that some legislators may feel that the university is "losing its touch" and need to be made aware of "how good we really are." He is committed to demonstrating to them how critical the university is to the enhancement of cultural and economic life in the state of Indiana.

The President went on to specifically compliment IUPUI on the following areas (among other things): this campus, in particular, focuses on students (honors, great strides in academic support area); research is critical at IUPUI and the goal to increase the volume of research demonstrates this value; the School of Nursing has quadrupled its external funding in recent years; The Center on Philanthropy has developed an amazing and far-reaching reputation; and the Liberal Arts and Sciences continue to do great work in teaching and learning.

Herbert expressed his confidence that IUPUI can meet and exceed the "doubling goals" set by Chancellor Bantz.

Aside from teaching and learning, President Herbert identified other foci for the university in years to come:

- 1) Enhancing interdisciplinary collaboration (IUPUI, he notes, has a head-start on this effort), which will allow the university to excel even in the face of flagging resources. The university boasts great intellectual capital and must invest it wisely.

- 2) The Life Sciences and Information-Technology are very marketable areas to legislators as both areas will prove critical to economic development.

The university, President Herbert urged, "must develop these major centers of excellence."

In closing, the President acknowledged the outstanding work of the faculty in making Indiana University the vital and impressive institution it is today and the influential force in Indiana that it will be tomorrow.

President Herbert than addressed questions from the Faculty Council.

Faculty emphasized the need for the identity of, contributions of and unique challenges faced by the Indianapolis campus to be given equal time and energy by university administration. Herbert noted the collaboration between his office and all university vice presidents, an important collaboration he intends to foster and further. He also noted the thorough and frequent evaluation of vice presidents which he plans to institute.

Diversity (within faculty, staff, student and administrative populations) was identified as a major concern. Herbert agreed and noted that increasing diversity was a priority of his administration. In fact, evaluations at administrative levels will assess individual records on diversity issues. President Herbert urged faculty, deans and anyone involved in search committees to pay close attention to the importance of a diverse and culturally rich community to the success of the university.

Herbert also emphasized the importance of the cultivation of faculty careers through adequate support and better recognition of the impressive work being done in the classrooms and research facilities
