SUPER PLAN

A master plan for the future Indianapolis Campus will be shown and told at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the auditorium of the School of Nursing.

A large, three-dimensional model of the future campus will be on display for the event, the fall meeting for the IUPUI faculty.

Representatives of Evans Woollen Associates and Urban Design Associates, who prepared the plan for the university, will present the results of their one-year study. The plan includes concepts designed to serve a full-fledged, multi-purpose complex on IUPUI's central campus.

SIGN UP TO SPEAK UP

The Bicentennial Year IUPUI Speakers Service directory is about ready to close. Faculty and staff members who want to be listed in the 1975-76 edition of the booklet have only until Wednesday (September 24) to get their data forms to the Information Services/Publications Office, Administration Building, Room 136.

This year the Speakers Service will feature a special section devoted to bicentennial topics. Those already submitted include "France's Contribution to the American Revolution: The Marquis de Lafayette," "Ben Franklin, America's First Continuing Education Student," "American Revolution through Contemporary Spectacles," "After 200 Years, Why America Died," and "Electricity from Ben Franklin's Kite through Color TV."

For an application form or more information, call Ext. 2101.

APPOINTMENT OF DICKINSON SPOTLIGHTS COMMUNITY SERVICE

An increased desire to provide more assistance to the community has prompted the I.U. School of Social Science in Indianapolis to appoint community service veteran, Valjean Dickinson, co-ordinator of community programs and assistant professor of social science.

"I will be looking for programs that will benefit the school and its students as well as the community," says Professor Dickinson. "This could possibly include the development of a wider range of social service programs on other I.U. campuses throughout the state."

Dickinson, who holds a master's degree in social service from I.U., has been associate director of the Community Service Council, an assistant commissioner in the Department of Corrections, superintendent of the Indiana Women's Prison, and served as a board member for Community Action Against Poverty and adviser to the Indiana Commission on the Aging and the Aged. He currently serves on the IMPACT Advisory Council to the Indiana Commission on Higher Education and is a member of the Indiana Employment Security Advisory Council.
