SCIENCE/ENGINEERING, TECHNOLOGY GET FINAL NOD TO JOIN US

The final go-ahead to begin construction of the long awaited Science/Engineering and Technology building on the "main" campus was given last week by the State Budget Agency, announced Vice President Gerald Bepko and Indiana House of Representatives Speaker Paul Mannweiler. The $20 million project will bring I.U. and Purdue universities together physically as well as organizationally. The 347,090 gross square feet building will connect to the existing School of Engineering and Technology Building at 799 West Michigan St. This is Phase II of a three-phase plan. Construction will begin next summer or fall, with completion expected by 1990.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Now They Know--Jane Engdahl, coordinatoir of continuity of care at Riley Hospital, was testifying before the state legislative subcommittee on family law and, though doing her best to make members understand the problems faced by sick children and their families, she knew the group had no concept of the realities at Riley. So, she invited them to visit. Last week committee head Virginia Blakenbaker and her subcommittee came to Riley for lunch and a firsthand look. They were overwhelmingly impressed and were reluctant to leave.

DOC Doc Speaking--Dr. Alan Blum, national leader in the physicians' battle against cigarette smoking and co-founder of Doctors Ought to Care, is guest speaker in special family practice grand rounds on Oct. 7, noon-1 p.m., MS B26. His topic will be "Madison Ave. vs. Medicine: Fighting Smoke with Fire." All welcome.

About Ethics--Next in the School of Nursing research program is "Ethics in Practice, Research and Education," Oct. 12, noon-1 p.m., NU 215. You are invited.

Opening--The 14-panel traveling exhibit, "'...Schools and the Means of Education Shall Forever Be Encouraged:' A History of Education in the Old Northwest, 1787-1880," opens Oct. 5 at the Indiana State Library. It has been developed in celebration of the Northwest Ordinance Bicentennial and will leave Indiana Nov. 6. Lectures and autograph parties are planned. Call 232-1938.

1587-1987--To commemorate the 400th anniversary of the publication of Johann Spies' "Historia von D. Johann Fausten" the Dept. of Germanic Studies, IUB, is holding a "Faust through Four Centuries" conference, Oct. 15-18. Call IUB, 5-4661.

Best from the West--Corn soup, cactus salad, beautifully baked chicken and vinegar pie are part of the next regional meal offered by advanced students in the Restaurant, Hotel and Institutional Management Dept. Meal is served in the Lockerbie Fare Restaurant, Oct. 6, 6:30 p.m. To reserve your place at the table, call Linda Brothers, 4-8772. Proceeds benefit the Ronald McDonald House. Cost is $12.50--no tips, no tax.

From Canada--Dr. Philip Polimeni, associate professor, Dept. of Pharmacology, U. of Manitoba, Winnipeg, presents "Drug Reducing Polymers and Their Effect on Hemodynamics, Atherosclerosis and Renal Function" in the next physiology & biophysics seminar, Oct. 14, 4 p.m., MS 205. Call 4-7772.

Bring Lunch--Next in the Women's Studies Forum is the Indianapolis Chapter of Peace Links presenting "The Women's Peace Panel" on Oct. 7, noon-1 p.m., CA 001C-D. All welcome.

For Riley Kids--Each Heinz Baby Food label you send in will net the Cheer Guild six cents. Send them now or save them 'til December and mail them to RI 403.

"EXTRA" OPPORTUNITY COMES TO EARLY GREEN SHEET RECEIVERS who would like to be in a movie about the 1919 Baseball World Series. On Oct. 3, all day, Black Sox, Inc. will film baseball action for the movie, "Eight Men Out" starring John Cusack, Charlie Sheen and Christopher Lloyd. You get prizes, food and a big bingo game, and for each extra, Ronald McDonald House gets a donation. A shuttle will take you from campus to Bush Stadium. Light shirts, dark slacks or skirts, narrow ties and dark shoes will be worn. No sneakers, please. For more, call Karen Campbell on campus, 4-4071 or off campus, call 236-1540.

EHRLICH

ACADEMIC APPAREL ORDERED FOR THE EHRLICH INAUGURATION will be ready for pickup in the Alumni Mail Room, Tunnel Level, Union Building on Oct. 7-8, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. It can be returned to the Alumni Office on the first floor, same building on Oct. 13-14, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. If you are attending ceremonies here and at IUB, you are asked to bring your apparel back to IUPUI. Questions? Call 4-8828.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES

Especialist from England--David Lowenthal, author/professor from England, who apparently specializes in being a generalist, will speak here in a free, public lecture on Oct. 8, 3:30 p.m., BS 4095. A professor at the University College at the University of London, he has two Ph.Ds. and has taught at Vassar, Harvard and MIT on such subjects as history, economics, landscape architecture, archaeology and geology. His topic here will be "The Changing Uses of the Past." Author of "The Past is a Foreign Country," Lowenthal will talk about history in its broadest terms. The Graduate School, IUB, and our History Dept. welcome you.

Internationals Note--Pat Biddinger from International Programs hopes you will advise foreign students of the new magazine "World Speak" which is available at $12 for 20 months. For a subscription form, call Student Affairs, 4-2546.

Jazzy Women--The second annual Indianapolis Women in Jazz Fest is Oct. 11, 5-10 p.m., Walker Ballroom. Proceeds provide scholarships for jazz students. Call 925-6312.

Triples--The Interdepartmental Molecular Biology Group is presenting three speakers at its monthly meeting at noon on Oct. 6 in RR 128. David Crabb presents "Glucocorticoid Induction of Alcohol Dehydrogenase, and Marios Kambouris and Steve Dlouhy present "Update of Localization of the Gene for Nephrogenic Diabetes Insipidus." Call 4-2241.

Tiny Teeth Care--Parents, parents-to-be, grandparents or others interested in child care can register now for the first workshop, "Infant and Toddler Dental Care" on Oct. 6, noon-1 p.m., NU 204. Presented by staff in the Dept. of Pediatric Dentistry, this new program is free. Call 4-8220.

Hoyt to the Hill--At last, there is an official German American Heritage Day in the U.S. It is Oct. 6 and it was made official on Oct. 2 in the White House Rose Garden when Giles R. Hoyt, chairman of the Dept. of German at IUPUI, joined President Reagan and 200 German American people for the ceremonies. Members of the Indiana German Heritage Society have pushed hard for several years for a special day honoring Germans who began immigrating to this country more than 300 years ago.

Special Rate--Faculty and students pay less than half the cost to others for a National Teleconference on Computer Local Area Networks (LAN), Oct. 15, E/T Building, 9:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Sponsor is the School of Engineering and Technology. Call Pat Fox, assistant dean, 4-0806.

IUPUI, PRESIDENT WANT FELLOWSHIP CANDIDATES

For any information about fellowships and grants that are listed here, or many more not listed, faculty and staff are asked to call Ann Kratz, Research and Sponsored Programs, 4-8285.

Oct. 16 is the deadline for faculty to apply for the 1987-88 IUPUI Summer Faculty Fellowship and Grant In-Aid for Research and Scholarly Activity programs, which are usually limited to 10-month tenure-track or tenured faculty on this campus who are in early stages of career development. There are New Guidelines.

Dec. 1 is the deadline for "outstanding faculty and staff" to apply for the 1988-89 President's Commission on White House Fellowships. Selected persons will serve as special assistants to cabinet officers, the vice president and others. All U.S. citizens are eligible.

Nov. 13 is the deadline for applying for the National Research Council Ford Foundation doctoral and postdoctoral fellowships for minorities.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

FIELD INTERVIEWERS, part-time, "generous" hourly wage. Will travel to several Indiana counties for gathering research data. Good communication skills essential. Interviewing, information-gathering skills desirable. To apply, or for more information, call Trish Moore, R.N., Diabetes Research & Training Center, Regenstrief Institute, 630-7605.

FACULTY, nursing, full-time, tenure or non-tenure track, available Jan. 1. Requires master's in nursing; prefer doctorate in community psychiatric mental health nursing. Recent undergraduate teaching experience desirable. Salary and rank commensurate with education/experience. Send CV to Dr. Louise Suleiman, Southeast campus, Ext. 340.

FACULTY, assistant professor, Div. of Infectious Diseases. Should have Ph.D. or equivalent with two years' postdoctoral research with strong background in cellular immunology. Will join research group investigating membrane structure and antigenic expression in Chlamydia trachomatis and the role of the immune response in infections with this agent. Will be expected also to develop self-designed competitively funded research program within three years. Send CV and three references to Robert B. Jones, M.D., Ph.D., Dept. of Medicine, Emerson Hall 435.

STAFF, FACULTY CAN ATTEND AIDS FORUMS

Open forums on "AIDS in the Workplace" are Oct. 20, noon-1 p.m., and Oct. 21, 4-5 p.m., both in the School of Nursing, Room 102-104. All staff and faculty can attend, or send a departmental representative. Your questions will be answered, and experts on the subject will teach methods to reduce the risk of HIV (human immunodeficiency virus) infection. Three doctors who are actively involved in the diagnosis and care of AIDS patients will offer latest information on the avoidance and treatment of AIDS. They are Dr. Martin Kleiman, professor of pediatrics and chairman of the Hospitals' Infection Control Committee; Dr. Kenneth Fife, associate professor of medicine and microbiology and immunology, and Dr. Lawrence Wheat, professor of medicine and pathology. Sponsor is the Employee Health and Wellness Dept. and the Infection Control Committee.
