Movable Feats

HISTORY COUNCIL COMES TO CAMPUS

Headquarters for the 1,800-member National Council on Public History is now at IUPUI and is directed by Elizabeth B. Monroe. The Council was at Northeastern University in Boston. Monroe, assistant director of the POLIS Research Center at IUPUI, also is the new executive secretary for the national council. It was organized to promote interest in public history and publishes a quarterly newsletter, "Public History News." It also sponsors special projects, conferences and other publications about the subject. Monroe, who teaches constitutional history at IUPUI, notes that Council membership includes historians who work and research in academia, as well as other venues, such as private industry, libraries and the media. Companies such as Coca-Cola Co., Sears and Wells Fargo hire historians, and she noted that last year the state of Florida had 448 employers who hired historians. "While many historians still teach in classrooms, many work in other areas, which reflects the growing popular appreciation of history brought about by the bicentennials of the Revolution and the Constitution, 'Roots,' and other creative historical presentations," Monroe said. The National Council on Public History has offices in room 301, Cavanaugh Hall; phone 4-2456.--J. Grim

ENVIRONMENTAL GROUP "CENTERS" AT SPEA

Bloomington announces that the Midwestern regional center of the new National Institute for Global Environmental Change (NIGEC) will be located at IUB, and through SPEA, will operate an interdisciplinary, multi-investigator research center. Senior personnel will initially be drawn from SPEA and the departments of biology, geography and geology and they will explore global environmental changes, particularly those associated with increasing global temperatures caused by humans. The program was expected to get under way following approval last month of an agreement between the U.S. Dept. of Energy, which is providing $6 million for start-up, and the University of California, where the NIGEC will be directed. Directing the regional center at IUB will be J.C. Randolph, professor of public and environmental affairs and former associate dean for research and external programs at SPEA. For more, call him at 812-855-0193.--J. Spencer, News Bureau, IUB.

ON CAMPUS

Publications moved from the Administration Building, AO 136, to the Union Building, ground floor, UN G001. Phone numbers are the same; FAX is 4-3322. Call 4-2101.

Media Relations, formerly the News Bureau, remains in the Administration Building, but moved across the hall from AO 139 to AO 136. Phones are the same. Call 4-7711.

Purchasing Services, which was Purchasing Dept., moved up in the Union Building from the second floor to the fifth, UN 542. Phone numbers are the same; FAX is 4-8840.

The Division of Continuing Studies, non-credit only, moved from the ground floor to the second floor in the Union Building, UN 230. Call 4-4501.

The Dept. of Oral-Facial Genetics has moved from Ball Residence to the School of Dentistry, DS 213. Call 4-8201.

MARRIOTT BEGINS MANUAL FOOD SERVICE; CANTEEN HAS VENDING

A new look and wider offering has already begun in the cafeteria at the Union Building as Marriott begins manual food service across campus. Susan Wetzel, 4-7358, will handle all your catering needs, as well as reservations for the Hoosier Room, and Sharon Davis, 4-8138, will handle reservations for the Roof Lounge. Canteen of Indianapolis, 786-1454, will handle vending services, and can be called for information or to make comments. Frank G. Dolk, director of the Office of Food Service Contract Administration, welcomes the new services.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

It's a Fund, Fund World--This year $58,000,000 in federal funds will be spent on lead-lined trucks to house the administration during nuclear attack. Next year the President proposes spending $85,000,000 on the program. Last year $2,000,000 in federal funds were spent on drug-rehabilitation programs for state and local prison inmates. This year the amount is $0.--Harper's Index, August 1990

Business First--Owners and would-be owners of small businesses are invited to attend the first meeting of the newly formed Indiana Small Business Coalition, Aug. 9, 6 p.m., B/S 2007. All welcome. For more, call the Small Business Development Center at IUPUI, 4-8200.

Library Closings--University Library will be closed Aug. 9-10 and Aug. 11-12 for bar coding and other "housekeeping" chores. It resumes shortened hours Aug. 13 and goes on full schedule when fall classes begin. Herron, Engineering and Technology, Medical, Dental and Law libraries have other hours. Call for a schedule.

Hyper Planning--The IUPUI Hypercard Group will meet Aug. 17, 1 p.m., ES 2121, for an organizational meeting to plan activities for the fall semester. The group is devoted to educational applications of Hypercard. Everyone is welcome. For more, call Gregor Novak, physics dept., 4-6911, EMAIL IMPX100&INDYCMS.

Lens Coating--The Optical Shoppe in the Rotary Building on campus is happy that so many of you called about services, but reminds ye ol' editor that it does not coat your VDT screen to cut glare as the last Green Sheet incorrectly said, but rather it coats eyewear to reduce glare. The Shoppe offers frames and lenses, contacts and exams. Call 4-8360.

For Professionals--"Alternate Delivery Care Models" and "Reversing the Trend of Chemical Abuse among Professionals" are the topics of the 11th annual conference of the Midwest Alliance in Nursing, Sept. 12-14 in Dearborn, Mich. Deadline to register is Aug. 20. Call 541-3600.

Two Seminars--In upcoming medical genetics seminars, John J. Trill, senior scientist, SmithKline & Beecham Laboratories, presents "Expression of Heterologous Proteins in Mammalian Cells" on Aug. 7. Anthony Lipson, pediatrician, head of the Birth Defects Unit, The Children's Hospital Camperdown, Sydney, Australia, presents "Moebius Syndrome: Human Animal Model Correlation and Evidence for a Uterine Vascular Etiology" Aug. 9. Both are at 4 p.m. in the Medical Research and Library Building, Room IB233. All welcome.

Us at the Eiteljorg--You have until Aug. 14 to pick up "cents-off" coupons to see the Smithsonian Institution exhibit, "Crossroads of Continents," at the Eiteljorg Museum. IUPUI Days run through Aug. 15. Coupons are at the information booth at Cavanaugh Hall, all bookstores, the gift shop at University Hospital and the reception desk at the natatorium. The free IUPUI reception at the museum is Aug. 9, 5:30-6:30 p.m.

AROUND CAMPUS

GROUNDBREAKING FOR THE NEW UNIVERSITY LIBRARY went without a hitch Aug. 1 as Presidents Ehrlich and Beering, Chancellor Bepko, Mayor Hudnut and Governor Bayh commended the Library Committee and others for work they have to done to begin the library. Inside LE 101 an audience watched some speakers in person and others on a huge screen who were outside on the bright, balmy day.

UPS MAY INTERRUPT SERVICE, according to James Geswein, director of mail services on campus. The union membership may not ratify a new contract and service could be interrupted after Aug. 10 when the votes are counted. Campus Post Office and the 16th Street Mail Center, through the U.S. Postal Service, can provide alternative services regarding shipping and receiving. Call 4-7742.

WORK PERMITS ARE NOW REQUIRED FOR 17-YEAR-OLD EMPLOYEES, notes Cliff Robinson in Human Resources Administration. Younger teens have always required the permit, but the law changed July 1 to include minors 14-17. Young people must have permits before beginning work, and the regulation applies retroactively to people already employed. However, a permit is not required for 17-year-olds not enrolled in secondary school, or those who are college students. You are asked to review departmental records for minors. For more, call the Employment Section, 4-7617.

STAFF/FACULTY RELATIONS' ANNUAL FALL WORKSHOP IS SEPT. 28 AT UNIVERSITY PLACE, from 8:30 a.m.-noon, reminds Dawn Lawrence. The title is "Partnerships - We All Work Better If We Understand Each Other." Mark your calendar and watch for details later.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

RESEARCH ASSOCIATE, full-time for diabetes-related study. Includes frequent interviewing of patients in a general medicine clinic, phone scheduling and accurate record keeping per research protocols. Must work cooperatively and communicate with a variety of patients and staff. Prefer experience in research protocols, medical records or two or more years' college, including research methodologies. Immediate opening. Call 630-7280.

RESEARCH ASSOCIATE, NIH-funded program on the cellular biology of smooth muscle. Will involve measuring intracellular ions by introducing luminescent photoprobes into cells and the measurement of mechanical responses of smooth muscle tissues. Should have a B.S. in physics or engineering, experience with electronic equipment and expertise in computers. Send resume by Aug. 13 to Dr. Susan Gunst, Dept. of Physiology, 635 Barnhill Dr., Indianapolis 46202.

RESEARCH ASSOCIATE, molecular biology, research laboratories, Pediatric Hematology/Oncology, Riley Hospital. Requires master's degree in microbiology, biochemistry, molecular biology or related field, with experience in molecular biology techniques. Involves studies of acute lymphoblastic leukemia and pancreatic carcinoma. Will prepare messenger RNA, subtractive cDNA libraries and probes, and more. Send letter with current CV to Dr. Jeffrey Goldman, Dept. of Pediatric Hematology/Oncology, Riley Hospital for Children, 702 Barnhill Dr., Room 2729, Indianapolis 46202.

FACULTY/ACADEMIC OPPORTUNITIES, Dept. of Pediatrics, School of Medicine and Wishard Hospital/Regenstrief Health Care Center. Openings in ambulatory/general pediatrics. Responsibilities include education of medical students and residents and patients at Wishard and Regenstrief. Send inquiry and CV to Dr. Patricia Keener, Chief of Pediatrics, Wishard Memorial Hospital, Myers A303, 1001 W. 10th St., Indianapolis, 46202.
(IUPUI is an AA/EOE Employer)

IUPUIites, their families and friends can take advantage of the 10% off tickets for musicals under the stars. The discount coupons are for the "The Student Prince," Aug. 8-12, "Jesus Christ Superstar," Aug. 15-19, and "The Phantom of the Opera," Aug. 22-26--the remaining musicals at Starlight Musicals in the Hilton U. Brown Theatre. Discount coupons can be presented at the box office when purchasing tickets. They are available on campus in all bookstores, the information booth at Cavanaugh Hall, the lower level reception desk at the natatorium, and the gift shop at University Hospital.

ROBBINS' IDEA SENDS DOZEN HOOSIERS TO HOME OF PETER THE GREAT

Ten Indiana elementary and high school students and two teachers will visit picturesque Pereslavl-Zalessky near Moscow, the boyhood home of Peter the Great, where they will join others from across the globe at the International Children's Computer Camp, Aug. 4-25. The Indiana travelers are in an Ambassadors in Education program conceived by Edward L. Robbins, associate professor of education and director of the Indiana Public School/University Partnership at IUPUI, along with Jane Lommel, instructional computing coordinator for IPS. Helping with travel costs is the Indiana Dept. of Commerce and the Soviets, who are waiving camp fees. Sharing their knowledge of the Russian culture and people in an orientation for the group was Tom Fedor, associate professor of geography, and Inne Scherbakova, Ukrainian now living in Indianapolis.-M. Hopper

FINALLY...

...Vice Chancellor for External Affairs Gene Tempel was guest speaker at a recent award dinner of the Hoosier Connection Chapter of the American Business Women's Association. Three of the five scholarships awarded by the group went to IUPUI students.

...John I. Nurnberger, Sr., M.D., distinguished professor of psychiatry, School of Medicine, presents "An Effort to Quantify Changes in Serotonergic Structures in Forebrain and Brainstem of Alcohol-Preferring Rats" Aug. 9, noon, conference room, the Institute for Psychiatric Research.

...this month in Buenos Aires, Argentina and Lima, Peru, two IUPUI women will present two papers during international conferences. Irene Queiro-Tajalli, director of undergraduate social work education, and Gayle Cox, professor of social work, both in the School of Social Work, will present papers on minority women and on aging.

...several errors were made in the July 15 Green Sheet regarding times and days for wellness and fitness programs offered through MAX*WELL. The Walking Program is Monday and Thursday only, and Corporate Challenge training sessions are only on Tuesdays, noon-1 p.m. Call 4-0610 for complete MAX*WELL offerings.

...led by Miriam Z. Langsam in shorts, a visor, tennis shoes and T-shirt, 300 other gifted people (all a little younger) are on campus participating in the Young Scholars Program, sponsored by the IUPUI Honors Program. Langsam, director of the Honors Program, founded Young Scholars eight years ago and remains an active participant in the program designed to inspire creativity, confidence, original thinking, fun and fitness in bright students in grades 3-10.
