

green sheet

volume fifteen, number twelve

march 24, 1985

SEEK HOST FAMILIES FOR FOREIGN SOCIAL WORKERS

 Spring has arrived and for the seventh year it will bring foreign social workers to Indy. Along with their work in agencies all over the city and on campus, their time with host families is one of the most valuable factors in their stay here.

Host families are needed for three, five-week periods, beginning April 23. The cultural exchange is sponsored by IUPUI and the Council of International Programs. Among the first group of 14 foreign social workers are people from Israel, Thailand, Ireland, Sweden, Peru, Denmark, Korea and Venezuela. Over the years many IUPUI families have opened their homes to our foreign guests and have found it an enriching experience. Host families must be able to provide a private room, daily morning and evening meals and all weekend meals for their guest. Transportation should be available, but the visitors are encouraged to use public transportation as much as possible. For more information, or to volunteer as a host, call David Metzger, Ext. 7405.-SAR

PUBLIC FORUM TO FOCUS ON 'SERVICEABLE EXPERTISE'

A free public forum on March 29, sponsored by our new Metropolitan Affairs Committee, will focus on community health care, urban land use, the relation of urban universities (that's us) to their city neighbors and computer education. It will be held in Lecture Hall and opens at 1 p.m. with a keynote address by well-known educator and civil-rights activist Frank Hale, vice provost for minority affairs at Ohio State U. He will speak on "Relations of Urban Universities to their Constituent Communities." Beginning at 1:45 p.m. Lawrence S. Connor, managing editor of The Indianapolis Star, will respond to Hale's address. Other respondents include Howard G. Schaller, executive dean and dean of faculties, and Kenneth Morgan, director of the Madame Walker Urban Life Center. From 2:45 to 4:30 p.m. there will be three concurrent panel sessions that include a moderator and panelists. A reception follows at 4:30 p.m. in Bus/SPEA, Room 4095. Chairman of the forum is Steven Mannheimer, assistant professor, Herron School of Art. For more information, call Bernice Chumley, Faculty Council Office, Ext. 2215.

2,000 EXPECTED HERE FOR ASPA CONFERENCE

A couple thousand delegates from around the U.S. are expected here for the National Conference of the American Society for Public Administration at the Convention Center, March 23-27. Hosts are I.U., our campus and the School of Public and Environment Affairs (SPEA). Among the speakers and panelists are Rudolph Penner, director of the Congressional Budget Office, who will be on a panel to discuss the huge federal deficits forecast for the rest of the decade; James W. Lucas, director of the crisis management planning staff of the National Security Council; Arthur Flemming, former chairman of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, who will head a panel to discuss affirmative action, and another former Civil Rights Commission member Jill Ruckelshaus, who will lead a debate-format panel about equal pay for equal work. Indiana senior Senator Richard G. Lugar will open the convention March 24 at noon. Mayor William H. Hudnut III and Gary Mayor Richard G. Hatcher will also be on panels discussing the affects of federal budget cutbacks on local governments. Gov. Robert D. Orr will speak on the role of governments in economic revitalization efforts. For more information, call Ext. 2016.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Name Change--For the sake of consistency, the Dept. of Psychiatry, I.U. School of Medicine, Riley Child Guidance Clinic, will now be officially changed to Riley Child Psychiatry Clinic. Phone number and address are the same.

Microbiology/Immunology Seminar--Dr. Steve A. Martin, Dept. of Chemistry, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, presents "Applications of Fast Atom Bombardment Mass Spectrometry to Biological Molecules" on March 28, 4 p.m., MS 205.

Lunch Series Continues--Dr. Nancy Roeske presents "The Woman Patient" on April 4 at noon, CA 537. Bring your lunch.

Pre-Law Seminar--Faculty can remind students interested in law that there is a pre-law seminar March 28, noon-1 p.m., CA 438. Sponsors are Political Science Student Assn. and Dept. of Sociology.

Pathology Seminar--Kenneth W. Ryder, Ph.D., associate professor, Dept. of Pathology, IU School of Medicine, presents "What is New and Exciting in the Wishard Chemistry Laboratory" on March 28, noon, UH C303. All welcome.

Half-Price Pass Time--Sally Lanham from the natatorium reminds faculty and staff that it is time to get your recreation pass for the spring term that gets you into the School of Physical Education and the natatorium. Call Ext. 3517 for more.

Social Open House--The Social Work Dept., University Hospital, invites all to an open house March 26, 2:30-4:30 p.m., UH C140. Celebrates Social Work Month.

Book Bargains--The annual spring book sale at bookstores in Cavanaugh Hall, and the Union and Krannert Buildings runs March 25-April 12. Books for little people, crafters, fixers, gardeners and cooks are featured.

Lose Something?--Betty Martin found a piece of jewelry in the parking lot of the Medical Science Building. Call her in toxicology, Ext. 7900.

Rehab Research Seminar--Steven Mazzuca, Ph.D., IU School of Medicine, presents "Impact of Education on Chronic Disease" on March 29, noon, 38th Street.

To Fete Lady Bird--Lady Bird Johnson will be honored during the City Assets Conference, April 14-17, in Indy. It is an international conference on the relationship between economic development and the quality of city life. For more, call Ann Woolman, 633-5273.

Physiology/Biophysics Seminar--Dr. Thomas Sullivan, assistant professor of medicine, IU School of Medicine, presents "Effects of Airway Anesthesia in Hypercapnic Breathing in Man" on March 27, 4 p.m., MS 205.

Student Art--The annual student exhibition at the Herron Gallery is March 22-April 6. You can delight in paintings, prints, photography, ceramics, sculpture and more. For gallery hours, call 923-3651.

Not Least--The IUPUI Faculty Council meets April 4, 3:30 p.m., Law School, Room 116. For information, call Bernice Chumley, Ext. 2215.

HARVARD PHYSICIAN/AUTHOR TO SPEAK ON NUCLEAR CONSEQUENCES

Dr. Helen M. Caldicott, Australian-born instructor of pediatric medicine at the Harvard U. Medical School, will give a free public lecture on March 28, 5:30 p.m., Lecture Hall, Room 101. The founder of Physicians for Social Responsibility, she will discuss "The Medical Consequences of Nuclear Warfare." The lecture is one in a series sponsored by the League of Women Voters, Indianapolis Peace Center, Central Indiana Chapter of the World Future Society, Physicians for Social Responsibility-Indianapolis Chapter and the IUPUI Division of Continuing Studies. Author of two books and a frequent speaker on national television, Caldicott also has appeared in nine films, including the Academy Award-winning film, "If You Love This Planet."

Sometimes bizzare, sometimes comical, John Rassias knows how to teach oral fluency in foreign language and he is bringing his crusade to teach others what he knows to our campus for a workshop March 29-31. The Rassias Method Workshop for language educators is sponsored by the School of Liberal Arts. For more info, call Leon Burke, Ext. 3902.

HAIR LOSS, SKIN CANCER, WRINKLES AND SCARS ON DERMATOLOGY AGENDA

The School of Medicine, Department of Dermatology, will present a continuing medical education program March 27 for family and general practitioners, internists, pediatricians and other physicians. About 150 people are expected to attend the Dermatology Update for the Non-Dermatologist, which includes presentations by IU faculty members on cosmetic surgery for scars and wrinkles, hair loss and replacement, Kaposi's Sarcoma (a complication sometimes seen with AIDS), skin cancer and also a number of public health concerns which doctors must deal with. Also featured will be the latest information on Lyme Syndrome, a skin disease which can lead to a type of arthritis.

SUMMER STIPEND CAN HELP FACULTY GAIN COMPUTER SKILLS

A limited number of summer stipends are available to provide faculty members with time to plan and develop a learning sequence for interested colleagues and themselves in order to become computer literate. The stipend is 10 percent of salary. A proposal and other data are required. For details, call Dr. Carol Deets, coordinator, IUPUI Faculty Computer Literacy Project, Ext. 8872.

POSITION AVAILABLE--Affiliate or assistant librarian, circulation/interlibrary loan at IUPUI University Library. Requires master's or higher degree from an ALA-accredited school. Tenure track, library faculty. Send application letter, resume and three current letters of reference about qualifications by April 15 to: Barbara B. Fischler, director, University Library.

FIRST ART FLEMING COLLEGE BOWL GAME HERE MARCH 23-24

Seventeen teams from colleges and universities all over the U.S. will be here March 23-24 for the First Art Fleming-Circle City Invitational College Bowl at the Union Building. Similar to TV's Brain Game, the College Bowl is a question and answer game with two teams of four players. The 17-round-robin tourney will include playoffs and finals. For info, call Kurt Taube, Ext. 2400.

ARCHIVES CELEBRATES 10TH WITH FREE, PUBLIC SERIES

The Archives at IUPUI celebrates its 10th anniversary in April with a series of free, public lectures entitled, "Archival Chats: The Way it Was." Archives was established in 1975 to preserve the memory of the campus, according to Jeannette M. Matthew, archivist and associate librarian. The lectures that follow are all in Room 318, University Library:

April 2--10-11 a.m., Vice President Irwin presents "Westside Story--Indianapolis Style."

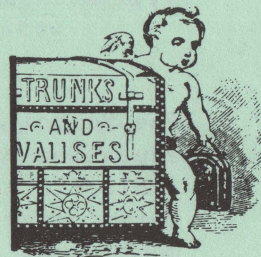

April 3--2-3:30 p.m., Joseph T. Taylor, former dean of the School of Liberal Arts and special assistant to the vice president, presents "Historical Aspects of the Neighborhood of the Westside Campus."

April 9--10:30 a.m.-noon, Dr. Maynard K. Hine, chancellor emeritus, presents "Problems Associated with Merging Two State Universities."

April 10--2-3:30 p.m., Hugh A. Wolf, associate dean for administration in the School of Education, presents "Development of Student Activities and Services of I.U., P.U. and IUPUI."

April 11--2-3:30 p.m., Robert R. Baxter, special assistant to the vice president, presents "Exciting Indianapolis Projects Surrounding IUPUI."

Herron School of Art is organizing a bus trip to the International Art Exposition, Navy Pier Show in Chicago, on May 12 that will include 160 international galleries. Deadline for the $35 one-day trip, which includes reduced admission to the expo, is April 8 at noon. For more, call 923-3651.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES

Need 'Nother Directory?--If you need an extra '84-85 campus telephone book, Caroline Palmer from Telecommunications Services invites you to call her at Ext. 4338.

Great Decisions '85--Dr. David Mason, associate professor of political science, Butler U., presents "Intelligence Operations: How Undercover Diplomacy Works" on March 26, 7:30 p.m., International Center. Call Ext. 8877.

Remind Students--An informational meeting about the School of Business Honors Program is March 29, noon, Business/SPEA, Room 3013. Call Ext. 1466.

IU-Kokomo--Dr. Guinevere Griest, acting director, Div. of Fellowships and Seminars of the National Endowment for the Humanities, will conduct a workshop about new programs and writing fundable proposals on March 28, 1-4:30 p.m., Haven Room.

Biochemistry Seminar--Dr. Thomas E. Roche, Dept. of Biochemistry, Kansas State U., presents "Regulation of Pyruvate Dehydrogenase Kinase and Potential Role of a New Protein of Mammalian Pyruvate Dehydrogenase Complex" on March 25, 4 p.m., MS 326. Refreshments, 3:30 p.m., MS 409.

Surviving Rape--A workshop, "How to Survive Rape" is March 30, 2-4 p.m., at the Stress Treatment Center. No charge. To register, call 546-8518.

green sheet

*News Bureau

Indiana University-Purdue Univ
at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

(ARCH-791205)

ARCHIVES
UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
420 BLAKE STREET