SPECIAL AWARDS HONOR SERVICE, INTEGRITY, LEADERSHIP

Faculty, staff and students were honored recently for their special dedication during the 11th Annual IUPUI Honors Banquet, sponsored by Student Activities. Douglas Covert, assistant professor of journalism, was given the Lola L. Lohse Faculty Appreciation Award for exhibiting the integrity of the former dean of the School of Physical Education, for whom the award is named. Susan B. Sutton, assistant professor of anthropology, was selected by students to receive the Outstanding Educator Award. Students also selected W. David Bostwick, professor of supervision and associate dean of the School of Engineering and Technology, as winner of the Edward C. Moore Award. For interest and work beyond her duties as a secretary in the Allied Health Sciences Division of the School of Medicine, Sue Hilt was given the Extra Mile Award. For his positive attitude and volunteerism, Jackie T. Boards, former chairman of the Black Student Union, was given the Student Services Award. For exhibiting leadership and interest in the university, several students received the William L. Garrett Award, named for the deceased former dean of student services. They are Stephen J. Akard, first place; Lori R. Colburn, second place, and Dean E. Beckman, Sandra J. Holliday and Mark D. Preston, third place. Circle City Scholarship winners are students Linda J. Bradburn, Susan K. Boyles, Grover R. Evans, Janice O'Connell, Donald E. Perry and Laura M. Swan.

A reception to welcome Sheldon Siegel, new dean in the School of Social Work, is May 3, 5-7 p.m., fourth floor commons, E/S Building. Sponsors are the School of Social Work and its Alumni Association.
