HONORARY DOCTORAL DEGREES HIGHLIGHT COMMENCEMENT CEREMONIES

Five honorary doctoral degrees will be among the nearly 4,000 degrees conferred during the 23rd IUPUI commencement ceremonies May 10 at the Hoosier Dome. Among those to be honored are: Washington Post columnist William James Raspberry (doctorate of humane letters degree); Joyce C. Clifford, vice president for nursing and nurse in chief of Beth Israel Hospital in Boston (doctor of science degree); Peter Fischer-Appelt, president emeritus of the University of Hamburg, Germany (doctor of laws degree); Henry A. Rosso, director of the Fund Raising School at the IU Center on Philanthropy (doctor of laws degree); and Anthony San Pietro, distinguished professor emeritus of plant biochemistry at IU and consultant to the vice chancellor for undergraduate education at IUPUI (doctor of science). San Pietro's degree will come from Purdue, while the rest are being conferred by IU.

Of the 3,923 degrees conferred during the 3 p.m. ceremonies, 3,086 are from IU and 837 are from Purdue. In addition to the university ceremonies, 17 schools and divisions will recognize graduates at separate ceremonies both before and after the commencement. The public is welcome to attend the commencement exercises. No tickets or reservations are required.

IBM PLANNING 'SPRING FLING' FOR COMPUTER LOVERS

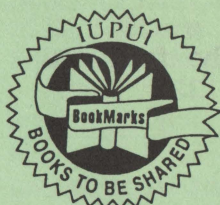

Computers galore will be set up for demonstrations and display at a "Spring Fling" for IBM and Lexmark computer equipment May 6 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in front of the Library. Among the demonstration items will be IBM computers and Lexmark printers, with special discounts for faculty, staff and students. In case of bad weather, the event will be moved into the Lecture Hall lobby. For more details, call 4-0767.

TIME TO FIRM UP: FITNESS DAY HEALTH FAIR RETURNS

Faculty, staff and students can learn how to improve their health and fitness at the ninth annual IUPUI Fitness Day Health Fair May 13 from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. just north of the University Place Conference Center. Exhibitors will cover such subjects as managing stress, cancer control, recreational activities and coping with physical disabilities, along with health screenings. For more, call 4-8338.

BOOKMARKS BALLOTS IN, '92-'93 READING LIST SET

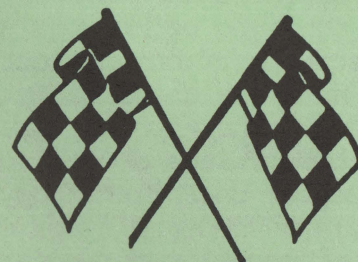

The voters have spoken and the 1992-93 BookMarks reading list is set. Six books make up the list, including The Mismeasure of Man by Stephen Jay Gould, Sacred Cows--and Other Edibles by Nicki Giovanni, Rachel and Her Children: Homeless Families in America by Jonathan Kozol, You Just Don't Understand; Women and Men in Conversation by Deborah Tannen, Candide by Voltaire and Malcolm X by Alex Haley. The BookMarks committee is seeking individuals who would like to serve as discussion leaders. Those interested should call 4-4371.

SPECIAL EVENTS KICK OFF OPENING OF UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL'S OUTPATIENT CENTER

Grand opening events will be celebrated next week to honor the May 11 opening of University Hospital's new Outpatient Center, adding another gem to the medical community's facilities on the IUPUI campus. For more details about the events, see the insert in this Green Sheet.

CREDIT UNION MEMBERSHIP DRIVE IN HIGH GEAR

A $500 U.S. Savings Bond can help you "Join the Winners' Circle Today," the theme of the Indiana Federal Credit Union's current membership drive. To be eligible for the bond, you must do one of the following before a May 30 deadline: sign up for credit union membership, add direct deposit or payroll deduction, open a checking account, apply for a Cirrus ATM (automated teller) card, apply for the credit union's Mastercard or bring in a relative or co-worker to open a new account. Special enrollment sessions are scheduled outside the cafeteria in the Union lobby May 12-13 from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day.

HEALTH CARE WORKSHOP AVAILABLE FOR NURSES

Campus nurse practitioners and community health nurses will be able to take part in a tri-state workshop on "Opportunities for Nurses in Medically Underserved Health Care Areas" May 7 in Ft. Mitchell, KY. The sessions will focus on practical approaches to meeting health-care needs of families in areas that need health-care workers. The event will run from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Drawbridge Inn. For more, call Helen Scheibner of the Indiana Public Health Foundation Inc. at 4-7766 or Mary G. Mueller of the School of Nursing at 4-4664.

NORTH CENTRAL ASSOCIATION REPORT DRAFT READY FOR REVIEW

The first draft of the IUPUI Self-Study narrative for the university's 1992 North Central Association (NCA) accreditation visit is now ready for review by faculty, staff, students and community representatives. Drafts of the document will be available for reading and copying in all university libraries. Members of the NCA steering committee hope for input from all segments of the university. Suggestions and comments can be marked upon photocopies of the document; the committee hopes to have that input by May 15. A revised draft is tentatively set for completion by June 30, with the final copy due the NCA by September 1. For further information, call 4-8974.

HOOSIER AMONG SIX ADDAMS FELLOWSHIP WINNERS

Six recent college graduates, including one Hoosier, will take part in the Jane Addams Fellowships in Philanthropy Program. Included among the six is Mary Leslie Carson of Columbus, a 1991 Harvard graduate. The other five come from across the country and include: Laurel Cannon Alder of Salt Lake City and Utah State University, Sarah E. Conning of Berkeley and Carleton College, Angela D. Davis of Wichita and Clark Atlanta University, Alexander M. Mutebi of Kisubi, Uganda and Macalester College and Joseph P. Palus of Detroit and Franklin and Marshall College. The program honors 19th-century social reformer Jane Addams. The six will spend 10 months working and studying at the Center on Philanthropy.

HONORS 'N' ACCOLADES

GIRLS INC. HONOREES--Two more members of the School of Nursing faculty have been chosen as Girls Incorporated Forum Series Honorees for 1992, including Doris Froebe, chair of the Department of Nursing Administration, and Shirley Ross, acting associate dean for administration. The awards recognize women for significant achievements in their business and volunteer lives.

LEVITT NOMINATED--Eugene Levitt of the Department of Psychiatry has been nominated for the newly established Karl Heiser Award, to be determined by the American Psychological Association. Levitt was nominated by an Indiana Psychological Association member for his work on behalf of psychology in Indiana, including helping to draft legislation for a state certification law.
