DEADLINE MUSTS! News notes and items for the GREEN SHEET must be received in the News Bureau by 9 a.m. Thursdays. Straight calendar items for IUPUI WEEK must be received by Wednesday noon of the week preceding the event. Your co-operation is needed and appreciated. Please send information for both publications to Miss Gretchen Wolfram, News Bureau, 104 Fesler Hall.

Jay Smith has been appointed director of a new "Office of Minority Student Affairs --School of Medicine" by Dr. Glenn W. Irwin Jr., dean. Activities of this office will be directed toward the development of programs which will attempt to identify and encourage members of minority groups to enter the health professions. Smith, a graduate of Ball State University, is president of the Greater Indianapolis Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He will assist applicants for various programs in the health professions field and acquaint student counselors, at all levels of education, with the potential career opportunities in the School of Medicine and the Medical Center. Smith is in Room 124 of the dean's office in the Medical Science Building and can be reached at Ext. 7173.

A Committee on Commencement and Special Ceremonies for IUPUI has been appointed by Chancellor Maynard K. Hine. The group will plan and coordinate special events on an institution-wide basis. Co-chairmen of the Committee are E. Nicholas Kestner, alumni relations director in Indianapolis, and William A. Spencer, university relations officer. Members are John C. Krivacs, director of admissions; Dr. Edward A. Tyler, assistant dean for student affairs at the School of Medicine; H. Ronald Gines, assistant to the dean at the School of Medicine; Dr. Robert L. Bogan at the School of Dentistry; G. Kent Frandsen, assistant dean at the Indianapolis Law School; Dr. James R. East, associate dean at the Downtown Campus; Eugene F. Schlebecker, registrar at the Herron School of Art; Mrs. Harriet R. Becker, associate professor at the School of Nursing; Miss Mary E. Fortner, assistant professor at the Graduate School of Social Service; Dr. Vernon H. Broertjes, director of instructional programs for the Division of General and Technical Studies; R. Martin Bruns, assistant director of the Division of Allied Health Sciences; Dr. Edward W. Shrigley, director of graduate programs; Miss Margaret H. Applegate, assistant professor at the School of Nursing; Hugh A. Wolf, dean for student services; John G. Williams Jr., registrar; and Dr. LaForrest D. Garner, associate professor of orthodontics and chairman of the Faculty Council Commencement Committee. Two students are to be appointed as members of the IUPUI committee.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Alien registration due now! All persons of foreign nationality must register their current addresses with the Post Office during the month of January. The Medical Center post office in the Administration Building can perform this chore for IUPUI students, faculty members and staff.

The fenced area north of the Berkey Building is being classified as a green parking area since the City Department of Transportation has posted Agnes Street from Michigan Street to North Street for No Parking in view of heavy traffic and the need for fire apparatus to use this sheet.

If you have moved your office, or have transferred any office machinery from one office to another, please notify Miss Ann Moore, Purchasing Department, P & S Building, in writing. Please list serial number and exact new location of the machine, giving building name and room number. Also please notify Miss Moore of any stolen office machine. This will help her make necessary changes in your office machinery maintenance contracts.

FLOWER PEOPLE & OTHERS -- Two non-credit courses in flower arrangement and design are being offered at IUPUI 38th Street Campus next semester. One is a professional floral design training course called Basic Floral Design. Designed to prepare students to work in retail flower shops, the class is held for eight Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., beginning February 1. The other flower course, called Flower Arrangement, is more informal. It's a six-week, Tuesday night course starting February 1.

HELP FOR PARENTS OF POOR READERS -- Parents of children with learning disabilities may be interested in two non-credit courses at 38th Street. Helping the Child with Learning Disabilities will meet for 10 Tuesdays from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., starting January 26. Sponsored by the Department of Education, the course will be taught by Dr. Mary John, co-ordinator of the West Central Joint Services Program and associate at Northside Psychiatric Center. An Overview of Remedial Reading is a six-week intensive course providing an insight into some of the causes of reading failure and some approaches to overcoming these problems. Dr. John also will instruct this class on six Thursdays from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. starting January 28.

Further information about these and other adult education courses may be obtained from the Continuing Education Department, 1201 East 38th Street, or by calling 923-1321, Ext. 335.

HONORS & ACCOLADES DEPT.

Dr. Hanus J. Grosz, professor of psychiatry and director of Alcoholism Research Training, has been appointed a member of the executive committee of the Mayor's Drug Abuse Task Force.
