

To Help Homeless

Dental Students Join Service Program

Dental students from the IUPUI campus will have a unique opportunity to practice their chosen profession and provide community service at the same time through a new program starting this September.

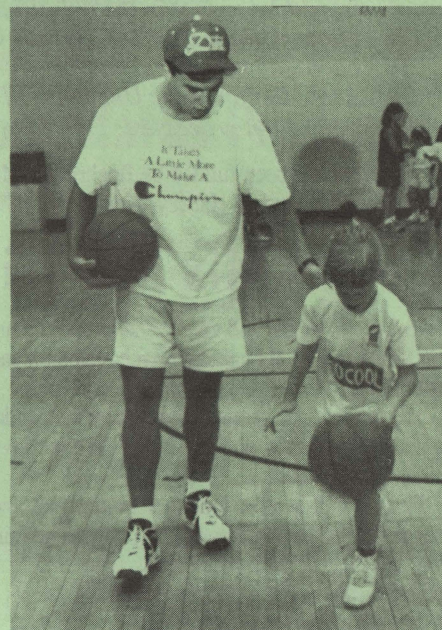

The School of Dentistry and People's Health Center have developed the Center's Homeless Initiative Program, which begins Sept. 2 at the community facility, 2340 E. 10th St.

The program has a dual purpose: to provide dental care to people in need and to heighten the community awareness of the fourth-year dental students who will provide the service under the supervision of Dr. Matthew C. Moeller and Dr. Jennifer R. Kugar.

Moeller is the director of the program and Kugar is the dental director for People's Health Center. Both serve as part-time faculty members at the School of Dentistry.

"We are pleased to introduce our students to this outreach opportunity, which will positively affect the oral healthcare needs of underserved persons while providing a significant educational experience for future dental practitioners," said dental school Dean H. William Gilmore.

Each member of the school's fourth-year class will work at the Center at least once during the 1993-94 academic year, as part of their graduation requirements. Patients will be seen once a week -- on Thursdays -- and a wide range of services will be offered.

Dental School Programs Earn ADA Accreditation

Eight programs offered by the IU School of Dentistry at IUPUI have again received accreditation from the American Dental Association (ADA).

The programs in dental education, dental assisting education, dental hygiene education and the advanced education programs in endodontics, orthodontics, pediatric dentistry, periodontics, combined prosthodontics and combined maxillofacial prosthodontics were approved by the Commission on Dental Accreditation, a specialized body recognized by the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation and the United States Department of Education.

Gilmore said the renewed accreditation was a tribute to the entire school.

"I am extremely proud of the contributions made by the many faculty, staff and students who were involved in this lengthy process," said Gilmore, noting that the site evaluation was the IUSD's first since 1982. "Working with the school during this review period has been one of my most valuable and rewarding experiences as dean."

"Shoot for the Stars"

IUPUI Metro basketball player Mike Archer and six-year-old Lauren Marks of Indianapolis work on dribbling skills at one of several "Shoot for the Stars" basketball camps held in the School of Physical Education gym this summer. Dozens of Indianapolis youngsters took part in the first-year program, which is designed to give the youngsters a chance to work with men's coach Bob Lovell and members of both IUPUI basketball teams, serving as counselors. The program was started this summer by the IUPUI's men's and women's basketball teams and the Indianapolis Parks Department.

Fireworks, Fun Coming to Campus Labor Day Weekend

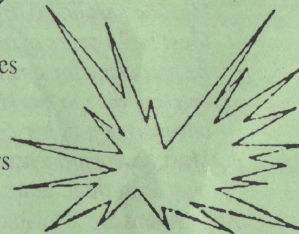

Fireworks and fun will be the order of the day on Labor Day weekend when IUPUI, an unofficial host to the community at the annual WENS-FM Skyconcert fireworks show on previous Labor Day weekends, becomes an official festival partner this year by offering a full day of activities Sept. 4 at "The Blast of Summer."

The campus event is sponsored by Alumni Relations and the IUPUI Alumni Roundtable.

Volunteers are soliciting individual schools for donations to use as prizes for a tailgate contest. More volunteers are needed to park cars and fill other tasks for the day's events. Anyone interested in working may contact Alumni Relations at 4-8905.

Activities include free concerts from 12:30-7:30 p.m. at the Track and Field Stadium, the tailgate competition beginning at 2 p.m. in designated parking lots located south of the IU School of Dentistry, use of IUPUI sports facilities including swimming in the Natatorium (at $3 per person) and outdoor tennis and basketball courts (free), discount admission to the Indianapolis Zoo and Eiteljorg Museum of American Indian & Western Art, and a carnival in Military Park sponsored by White River State Park. IUPUI alumni bearing special admission fliers will have access to "Alumni Hospitality Row," with a free beverage and the chance to win prizes.

The fireworks, sponsored by WENS-FM, Marsh Supermarkets and Coca-Cola, will begin at 8:27 p.m.

Product Development Headlines Conference Agenda

"Speeding Quality Products to Market" is the focus of a Sept. 14 conference at the University Place Conference Center and is co-sponsored by the Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation and the Product Development & Management Association (PDMA).

The Center is part of the graduate program in the School of Business. The PDMA, based on the IUPUI campus, is the world's largest association of new product executives and has 1,300 professional members.

The one-day conference will run from 7:45 a.m.-4:30 p.m. It is designed to help executives find more effective methods of getting quality products to market, according to School of Business professor Thomas Hustad.

Among the featured speakers will be:

- Jim Stryker of Ingersol-Rand, who helped the company redesign its approach to business and climb from third to first in the industrial hand-held grinder market;
- Michael Thomas of The Thomas Group, a leading consultant in helping companies re-engineer their operation processes; and
- Abbie Griffin of the University of Chicago, who helps companies measure the performance of their innovation processes.

The event has been funded by Boehringer-Mannheim, IU, United Medical Manufacturing and The Walker Group. For more details about the conference, call Andrea Hartley-Green at 4-0889.

Fairs Mix Fun With Employment, Activity Opportunities

Ice cream, music and career and employment opportunities will again be linked in a pair of annual events scheduled on campus during the first full week of September.

The two events, sponsored again by the Student Activities Office and Career and Employment Services, will be held over a two-day period in tents next to the old University Library.

First up will be the Student Activities Fair and Ice Cream Social, from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. on Wednesday (Sept. 8). The fair will focus on student organizations and their activities and is designed to help students get involved on campus. The ice cream social will offer cones at 10 cents per dip. Music will be provided by the Indianapolis Concert Band.

The Student Employment Fair will run the following day from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. It is free of charge for current students and offers students opportunities to meet with employers who recognize that many students need to work while attending school.

Those with disabilities or other special needs are invited to call the Student Activities Office (4-3931) or the Career and Employment Services Office (4-2554).

Career Focus Job Fair Returns to Campus

Central Indiana employers will meet with seniors, alumni and other students interested in job or career opportunities at the fifth annual IUPUI Career Focus Job Fair Sept. 16.

The event, sponsored by Career & Employment Services, will run from noon until 4 p.m. at the University Place Conference Center and Hotel.

The focus will be on professional careers, although participants will learn about the current job market and future employment trends.

Workshops are planned in conjunction with the employer meetings, and will run from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. The workshops will be offered by employers, IUPUI alumni and career professionals.

The event is free to IUPUI students and alumni, and no registration is required. For more information, call Career & Employment Services at 4-2554.

Rotary Club, Women's Studies Announce Scholarship Opportunities

The Rotary Club of Indianapolis and the Women's Studies Program will offer a pair of $2,000 scholarships for the 1993-94 academic year for IUPUI students.

Application guidelines for the scholarships include:

- Must be enrolled IUPUI student;
- Must be 25 years of age or older;
- Be preparing for a new career, re-entering the job market or be seeking advancement in her career; and
- Must have experienced an interruption of at least three years in her education.

Applications are available in the Women's Studies office, CA 001 E. Applications must be typewritten and postmarked by Sept. 30, be accompanied by a one-page letter of recommendation pertaining to the applicant's qualifications.

The recipients will be announced in December.

Health Care Help

Workshop Links Collaborative Learning, Patient Care

Collaborative learning may help medical and health-care professionals improve patient care, according to "A Curriculum Workshop: Collaborative Learning in the Medical and Health Care Profession," a half-day conference that will be held Aug. 27.

The event will run from 9 a.m.-noon at Hurty Hall C in Fesler Hall and is part of the Faculty Enrichment Series in the School of Medicine's Division of Continuing Medical Education in conjunction with the Indiana Geriatric Education Center.

The featured speaker, Sharon Hamilton of the IUPUI English department, is the co-editor of the Sourcebook on Collaborative Learning in the Arts and Sciences. She is currently co-editing Collaborative Learning in Higher Education, which is intended for publication this December.

The workshop is intended to identify the benefits of collaborative learning in daily tasks and caseloads in ways most appropriate for effective patient care.

During the workshop, models of collaborative learning will be explored for their potential within medical and health-care environments.

The workshop is free, but seating is limited. To register, call 4-4083.

The next Green Sheet is due Sept. 7 and will help kick off IUPUI's 25th anniversary. Look for major changes. Anyone with material to submit for consideration should do so by the deadline of 5 p.m. Aug. 31 (Tuesday).

Technology Exposition Features Computer World Leaders

Computers, software, audio-visual and telecommunication industry leaders will be on hand Sept. 2 to take part in the sixth annual Technology Exposition, sponsored again this year by the Office of Integrated Technologies.

The event will run from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. at the Conference Center.

Among companies scheduled to be represented are Aldus, Apple, Claris, Epson, Hewlett-Packard, IBM, IOMEGA, Lexmark, Lotus, Microsoft, QMS, Sony, Wordperfect, Zenith and others to discuss information technology issues.

The exposition also will feature product and service displays and samples. A special gift drawing is planned for those who attend the 9 a.m. keynote address, which will be delivered by Georgia Miller, acting executive director of Integrated Technologies.

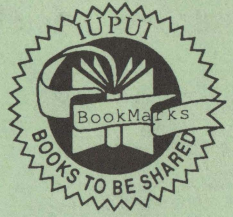

The event is free and open to all faculty, staff, students and others.

Faculty Presenters Needed for '93-94 BookMarks Programs

Faculty presenters are needed for the 1993-94 BookMarks programs scheduled at public libraries throughout Indianapolis and the counties surrounding Marion County.

Among the BookMarks selections available for presenters to choose are: Chaos: Making a New Science by James Gleick; Race: How Blacks and Whites Think and Feel About the American Obsession by Studs Terkel; Frankenstein by Mary Shelley; Fort Wayne is Seventh on Hitler's List: Indiana Stories by Michael Martone; Teacher by Sylvia Ashton-Warner; and The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People by Stephen R. Covey.

Also, audiocassettes of Frankenstein and The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People are now available at the reading program's office (UL 1110 A). To reserve a copy, call 4-4371.

GRANTS AVAILABLE -- Research grant-in-aid applications are available now from the James Whitcomb Riley Memorial Association for the 1994-95 grant year. Proposals are limited to those that deal with patients in Riley Hospital. Application forms are available in the School of Medicine dean's office, FH 207, or by calling Dave Scott (4-8270). The applications are due by Nov. 30.

SKATING CLASSES -- The National Institute for Fitness and Sport (NIFS) is offering a beginning in-line skating program. The class will meet Mondays and Wednesdays from 5:30-6:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 13 and ending Sept. 29. The cost is $35 for NIFS members and $50 for non-members. Call 4-3432 to register.

OFFICE MOVE -- The psychiatry department has moved into a new home and can now be found at 541 Clinical Drive. The office's telephone numbers will remain the same.

GERMAN CLASSES -- Children ages 5-13 will be able to take German language classes this fall through the German department at IUPUI. Classes will be held at the Mary Cable Building from 9-11 a.m. on Saturdays from Sept. 11-Dec. 4, skipping the Thanksgiving weekend. For more information about the cost or to register by the Sept. 7 deadline, call the department at 4-8290 or 4-0062.

Names in the News

PRESENTATIONS - George Stookey and Richard Gregory of the School of Dentistry offered presentations at a pair of international conferences earlier this year. Stookey made a poster presentation at the 40th annual congress of the European Organization for Caries Research in Dresden, Germany. Gregory's presentation came at a conference in St-Julien, France.

Health Line

INFANTS NEEDED -- Infants up to 24 months of age are needed for a study of lung function. Participants will be compensated. For more details, call Connie Angelicchio at 4-3604.

STRESS STUDY -- Victims of stress and anxiety, aged 18 or older, are needed by the Anxiety Disorders Center to take part in a research study probing the usefulness of a new medication. Those involved will receive free medical evaluation and care. For more information, call 4-1205.

License Plate Deadline Nears

There is still time to celebrate the university's 25th anniversary by purchasing a 1994 IUPUI license plate.

At least 50 more plates must be ordered for IUPUI to meet the minimum 200-plate requirement set by the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles, and the deadline for turning in an application is Aug. 30.

If you want to order the unique license plate, turn in a completed application form at the Visitor Information Center by the deadline. Many people have picked up forms but have not yet returned them; if you are in that category, you can still turn it in. If you have not yet gotten a form, you can still pick one up at the Center.

The plates will cost $35 more than a regular license plate, with $25 of that amount counted as a tax-deductible gift supporting IUPUI scholarships. You may turn in a check (payable to the IU Foundation-IUPUI Plate) for the $35 with your application. You may also turn in the form without a check and pay later.

If you need more information about the plates, or further instructions, call the Visitor Information Center at 4-2323. Remember, the deadline is near!

Soccer Metros Hosting Golden Boot Classic

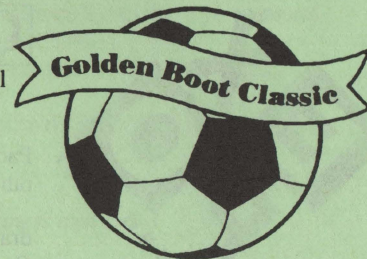

Three-time NCAA soccer champion IU will battle Notre Dame in the 1993 Golden Boot Classic at 8:15 p.m. Aug. 28 at Kuntz Stadium in Indianapolis.

The IU-Notre Dame game is part of this year's Golden Boot Classic tripleheader. The IUPUI Metros will play DePauw at 6 p.m. on the East Field. The same two schools will also meet in a 6 p.m. showdown between the women's teams of IU and Depauw.

The Metros are hosts for the Golden Boot Classic which kicks off the season for all three universities. The event was first held in 1988.

The classic also opens the youth soccer season in central Indiana. As part of the national Soccer Start program, community center youth teams from the Atkins Boys Club and Riverside Park will compete in a 4 p.m. match.

Tickets are $8 for adults and $5 for children under 18 and students with IDs. Youth groups of 10 persons or more pay $3 per person. Tickets are available by calling the IUPUI Athletics Office at (4-0622) and from participating Indianapolis-area sporting goods retailers. Tickets also will be sold game day at the Kuntz Stadium ticket office, 1502 W. 16th St. For more information, call 4-0622.

EMPF Facility Part of Electric Vehicle Consortium

An $8 million project to build electric buses and trucks, which includes participation by IUPUI, is tentatively set to begin in September with a special media event.

The EMPF (Electronics Manufacturing Productivity Facility), sponsored in part by IUPUI and the Purdue School of Engineering and Technology, will host the kickoff event, scheduled to be headlined by Gov. Evan Bayh. Among those scheduled to participate in the event is EMPF director Gary L. Burkart, a member of the School of Engineering faculty.

The electric vehicle project is funded in part by a $4 million matching grant from the federal government, which links public, private and governmental companies and organizations in the Mid-America Electric Vehicle Consortium (MAEVC). The consortium includes members from California, Wisconsin, Michigan, Massachusetts, North Carolina and Tennessee in addition to numerous members from Indiana.

Hoosier companies and institutions which are part of the program include Allison Transmission, Allison Gas Turbine, Citizens Gas Company, Delco-Remy, the Indiana-Michigan Power Company, the Indiana Office of Energy Policy, the city of Indianapolis, Indianapolis Power & Light, the Naval Air Warfare Center, the Northern Indiana Public Service Company, PSI energy and the Science Applications International Corporation.

The MAEVC is working on a two-year program to promote acceptance and use of electric vehicles. Vehicle delivery is scheduled to begin in the first quarter of fiscal-year 1994, with test vehicles targeted for the Naval Surface Warfare Center in Crane, IN, and the Tank Automotive Command in Warren, MI. Two shuttle buses also will be deployed to commercial sites in Indianapolis and Chattanooga, TN.

Spellers Needed for IUPUI 'Team'

If you can spell IUPUI, your university needs you!

IUPUI plans to field a team in the annual "Bee for Literacy," an adult version of the familiar children's spelling bee, planned for Sept. 8 at a location to be announced.

The contest mixes fun (and a chance to earn the university a traveling trophy) with a good cause: enhancing adult literacy programs in Indianapolis. The bee will run from 7-9 p.m.

Entry fees and admissions tickets will raise money for central Indiana adult literacy programs, with tickets costing $2 each. The event is sponsored by the Indianapolis Adult Literacy Coalition.

Those interested in representing the university are asked to contact Tracy Thompson as soon as possible at 4-6845.

'Good Friends'

Volunteers Needed for Successful Reading Program

A pilot program that was "an absolute success" is shooting for substantially larger goals during the 1993-94 school year.

The Good Friends program, co-sponsored by Alumni Relations and Indianapolis-based Community Leaders Allied for Superior Schools (CLASS), started as a simple idea. It would link volunteers -- including business leaders as well as IUPUI alumni, staff, faculty and students -- with Indianapolis public school students in a year-long reading program.

In the Good Friends program, volunteers read with elementary public-school students for an hour a week. In the 1992-93 pilot project, 84 volunteers worked in 43 schools. The challenge for 1993-94, given by CLASS president H. Dean Evans, is to increase the number of volunteers to 300.

Training sessions for Good Friends volunteers are set Sept. 2 and Sept. 14 in room 231 of the University Place Conference Center.

For more information about Good Friends, call the Alumni Relations office at 4-5060.

25th ANNIVERSARY
CAMPUS-WIDE STAFF EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH PROGRAM

In honor of the 25th Anniversary of the IUPUI campus, the Staff Council has initiated a program entitled, "25th Anniversary Campus-wide Staff Employee of the Month Program."

What is the program? The program is designed to recognize employees who are committed to IUPUI and who make special contributions that enhance the campus climate by demonstrating outstanding service and exemplifying the spirit of the campus.

Who's eligible? ANY staff employee in ANY staff classification is eligible.

How are nominations made? Any employee (co-worker, supervisor, department head) may nominate a staff employee from within their department by writing a brief summary statement about the nominee. But it doesn't stop there. Any employee from one department may nominate a staff employee from another department by submitting a brief summary statement about the nominee.

When does the program begin. The program will begin in September, 1993, and end in April, 1994.

How are staff recognized? Each month an employee will be recognized based upon how they, according to the nominator, have shown outstanding service and exemplified the spirit of the campus. The recognition will be published in Life at IUPUI with a short "blurb" about the employee along with a photograph. In addition, an appropriate recognition by the Chancellor will follow at the end of the program.

Note: Only those selected will be notified.
