WYCHE TO MEET FANS

Sam Wyche, I.U.'s new head football coach, will talk at an open meeting sponsored by the I.U. Alumni Association to be held at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday on the front lawn of the Union Building. There will be an opportunity for questions from interested students, faculty and staff members.

The Union Building will sponsor a food fair in connection with the coach's appearance. Sandwich service will be available, including menu items designated as appealing to gridiron gourmets. In the event of rain Coach Wyche will speak in the Hoosier Room on the mezzanine level of the Union Building.

CIRCLE CITY CIRCUIT PLANS ANNOUNCED

Winners in this year's Irwin Cup/Challenge Canoe Races in the annual Circle City Circuit festival (Sept. 14-23) will compete later with teams from Butler and Indiana Central Universities, IV Tech and Marion Colleges.

Schools, departments, students, staff and faculty members are urged to join the fun and to participate in the other CCC events, including an ice-cream social, 10K and Fun Run, volleyball rally, a street dance and two $1 cookout picnics.

Those who pay entry fees and register for sports events before Sept. 9 will receive a free CCC T-Shirt. Registration forms are on posters located in many places on campus, or may be picked up in the Student Activities Office, Library Room 002, Hideaway Lounge. Proceeds are allotted to several IUPUI student scholarships.

The ice cream social and running events open the festival on Wednesday, Sept. 14, and the golf outing is Friday, Sept. 16. Canoe races, volleyball and a $1 family picnic are all on Saturday, Sept. 17, on the White River at New York Street. The College Canoe Challenge is on Sept. 23 on the White River and includes a $1 cookout and a street dance.

LIBERAL ARTS PLANS "MINI-COLLEGE"

Combining their efforts and resources, the Indiana University School of Liberal Arts Alumni Association and the Liberal Arts Health Studies Committee will co-sponsor this year's Alumni Mini-College from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sept. 24 in Room 104 of the Lecture Hall, when alumni and friends are invited to the discussion of "The Rising Costs of Health Care." Tuition is $4.50 per person, including a box lunch served at noon.

The morning session, "Defining and Dealing with the Problems," will be led by guest speakers Robert L. Tapscott, manager of benefits at Detroit Deisel Allison; David Weinschrott, IUPUI professor of economics; Samuel Odle, vice president of professional services at Methodist Hospital, and Robert G. Specht, vice president of group administration at American United Life Insurance Company.

Following lunch, a discussion of "Ideas You Can Use to Control the Cost of Health Care" will be conducted by Michael B. DuBois, M.D.; Harriett H. Olson, director of clinical services for the Visiting Nursing Home Care Association; Carolyn Bailey Reimlinger, director of consultation and education at Gallahue Mental Health Center and director of business health enterprises at Community Hospital; and Michael Patrick, vice president for marketing at Metro Health Plan.

Those planning to attend should send their reservations and checks to the I.U. Alumni Association in the IUPUI Union Building, 620 Union Drive, Indianapolis 46202.

AQUATIC CLASSES OFFERED

A complete schedule of aquatic classes will be offered this fall at the I.U. Natatorium for persons of all ages and abilities. Classes will be offered in pre-school, children's learn to swim, pre-competitive, diving, Red Cross basic rescue and water safety, advanced lifesaving, water safety instruction, Aqua-Joints, water exercise and total fitness. Registration for all classes will be held Sept. 5-9, with most classes beginning Sept. 12.
