

Cr

volume eleven, number thirteen

april 5, 1981

Caring for the Chronically Ill Child

Growth and development of children with long-term diseases such as leukemia, birth defects, diabetes or rheumatic diseases will be discussed in an innovative course to be held Thursday and Friday at Stoffer's Indianapolis Inn by the I.U. School of Nursing Continuing Education Program, supported by a grant from the Little Red Door. Program begins at 9 a.m. each day.

Unique will be two sessions including discussions among parents of affected children, doctors, nurses, social workers and educators. The first, "The Child with Congenital Birth Defects, His Potential Psychosocial and Biomedical Dysfunctions," will be at 1:45 p.m. Thursday. The second, Friday at 9 a.m., will focus on "The Child with Leukemia--Interruptional Patterns in Growth and Development" and "Family and Community Dynamics."

Dr. Morris Green, chairman of the Department of Pediatrics at the I.U. School of Medicine and physician-in-chief at Riley Hospital, will give the keynote address at 9:15 a.m. Thursday. At 10:30 a.m. Margaret Martin, chairman of nursing services for children at Riley Hospital, will discuss "Normal Childhood Growth and Development." Luncheon speaker Thursday is Dr. Virginia Wagner, president of the board of directors at the Little Red Door, a pediatrician and clinical associate professor at the I.U. School of Medicine. Luncheon speaker Friday is Barbara Smith, adult health continuity of care co-ordinator with the Marion County Bureau of Community Health.

* * *

Summer Course Reservation Coming

Students planning to attend IUPUI this summer or fall may select and reserve classes from among more than 1,000 offered in the two six-week summer sessions, or from 3,300 offered in the fall of 1981, during early course reservation April 13-14.

Early course reservation is in the Registrar's Office, Room 301, Cavanaugh Hall. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays; 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, closed Sunday.

IUPUI's first summer session begins May 12 and ends June 24. The second session runs from June 29 to Aug. 10. Fall classes begin Aug. 26. Fee payments are not due until just before the summer or fall sessions begin. Class schedules for both summer sessions and the fall term are available in the Registrar's Office. For more information call the IUPUI Office of Admissions, ext. 4591, or the Registrar's Office, ext. 4916.

* * *

For the Record--IUPUI won the College Division trophy again this year as Bell Ringers for the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights Program. This is the third year in a row.

* * *

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE & SOMETIMES WHY

Biochemical--"The Energy Metabolism in the Reconstituted Cell-free System," Department of Biochemistry Seminar by Yaw-Shong Jong, graduate student in the Department of Biochemistry, I.U. School of Medicine; Medical Science Building, Room 326, Monday at 4 p.m.

Diabetes Seminar--"Pancreatic Insulin Cell Function in Starvation and Aging," Diabetes Research and Training Center Seminar by Dr. Franz Matschinsky, director of the Diabetes Research and Training Center at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania; University Hospital, Room C-420, Monday at 12:15 p.m.

Physiological--"The Hypertensive blood Vessel: Functional and Mechanistic Implications" Department of Physiology Seminar by Dr. Shirley Mueller, assistant professor of Neurology, I.U. School of Medicine; Medical Science Building, Room 205, Monday at 4 p.m.

Psychiatric--"Issues and Concerns Surrounding the Mental Health Needs of the Elderly," first of a series of seminars on Interdisciplinary Psychiatric Treatment of Disadvantaged Client Population sponsored by the Department of Psychiatric/Mental Health Nursing; speakers will be Elizabeth Carter from Columbia University and Eleanor Dougherty of the I.U. School of Nursing; Nursing Building, Room 110, Tuesday, 9 a.m. to noon.

Biological--"Physiological Ecology of Oscillatoria rubescens," Department of Biology Seminar by Dr. Alan Knopka, Department of Biology, Purdue University; Krannert Building (38th Street Campus), Room 357, at noon Tuesday.

Collegial Conversation--IUPUI Center for American Studies features Dr. Ralph Gray and his specialty, Indiana history and the history of transportation; Cavanaugh Hall, Room 208, at 1 p.m. Tuesday. Interested faculty members are invited to attend and participate in the discussion. Come and leave as your schedule requires.

What's on WAT--"The Newborn; Evaluation of Thrombocytopenia in the Newborn," with Dr. Richard Schreiner as program host and Dr. Patricia A. Kenner, director, pediatrics and nurseries, Community Hospital of Indianapolis, and clinical associate professor of pediatrics, I.U. School of Medicine, presenting a practical approach to analyzing thrombocytopenia in the newborn. Live with talkback at 12 noon Tuesday. The medical television program will be repeated on the WAT system at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and at noon and 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Pharmaceutical--Pharmacy displays: Abbott Laboratories at Riley Hospital Wednesday, Beecham Laboratories at University Hospital Friday.

Oncological--"Reconstruction in Head and Neck Cancers," Grand Rounds in Oncology by Dr. Ronald Hamaker, clinical associate professor of otolaryngology, I.U. School of Medicine; Radiation Therapy Building, Room R-104, Wednesday at 11 a.m. Open to all residents and medical, dental and nursing students.

Inner-City--Rozelle Boyd, minority leader in the City-County Council, will speak at the Y-Noon Forum at the Athenaeum at 12 noon Wednesday. Sponsored by the Inner-City Y's Men's Club and the YMCA of Greater Indianapolis, it is open to the public. For reservations call 635-5417.

Executive Committee--The Executive Committee of the IUPUI Faculty Council will meet at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in the AO Building.

Chemical--"Cosmochemistry: Extraterrestrial Chemistry is Not Necessarily Spaced-Out," Department of Chemistry Seminar by Michael E. Lipshutz, Purdue University; Krannert Building (38th Street), Room 231, Wednesday at 4:30 p.m.

I-HETS Presentation--"Intellectual and Ethical Development in the College Years," special re-broadcast of the keynote address by William G. Perry Jr., Harvard University, given March 7 at the conference on Individual Differences in the College Classroom; Cavanaugh Hall, Room 141, Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. For more information call the Learning Resources Center.

Research in Women's Studies--"His Daughter Seduced: A Theme in 18th Century German Drama," research paper by Gabrielle Bersier, assistant professor of German and Women's Studies; Cavanaugh Hall, Room 141, Wednesday from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Brown Bag Lunch. For more information call Kathleen Klein at ext. 7611 or 2812.

Mathematical--"Factorization of Operators and Function Theory," Mathematical Sciences Department Seminar by Professor Marvin Rosenblum, Commonwealth Professor of Mathematics, University Library, Room 318, Wednesday at 3 p.m. For reservations call ext. 2554.

Dental--"Preventing Disease Transmission in the Dental Office," School of Dentistry Continuing Education Course presented by the Department of Oral Microbiology, Dr. Chris H. Miller and Charles Palenik; School of Dentistry, Wednesday, all day.

Dental II--"Relative Analgesia in the Dental Practice," Continuing Education Course for the dentist, dental hygienist and the dental assistant, by Dr. Harry Langa, clinician, lecturer and postgraduate instructor for universities and dental societies; School of Dentistry, all day Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Lecture, demonstration, and participation.

Child Development--"The Developing Brain and Child Language," Child Development Program Seminar by Dr. Peggy C. Ferry, professor of pediatrics and neurology, head, Section of Child Neurology, University of Arizona Health Sciences Center; School of Nursing Auditorium, Thursday at 3:15 p.m.

How to Use the Calcomp Plotter--This series of Computer and Information Science Section seminars begins with "Basic Calcomp Calls" by Professor G. David Huffman; Krannert Science Building, Room 059, 3:30 p.m. Friday. Knowledge of FORTRAN programming (the equivalent of CSCI 220) will be assumed.

Biophysical--"An Interdisciplinary Approach to Detection of Masses in the Female Breast," Medical Biophysics Seminar by Dr. Elizabeth Kelly-Fry, associate professor, I.U. School of Medicine and Research Scientist, Indianapolis Center for Advanced Research; Medical Science Building, Room 205, at noon Friday.

Banquet--IUPUI Honors Day Banquet, Champions Room, Indianapolis Sports Center, Friday at 6 p.m. Speaker John Krauss, director of Department of Metropolitan Development of City of Indianapolis.

Last Chance--"The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-In-The-Moon-Marigolds," Paul Zindel, award-winning drama, presented by the IUPUI University Theater will show for the last time this Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, 2 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $3 for adults, $2 for children, and they are available at the IUPUI theater box office in the Marott Building. For more information call ext. 2094.

Walk-Run-Jog--The Fourth Annual "Walk-Run-Jog for Heart" event will be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Saturday sponsored by the American Heart Association. The day opens with bicyclists at 10 a.m., with entertainment at 11 a.m., and the Walk-Run-Jog begins on the track at noon and ends at 3 p.m. Entry forms available at Burger Chef restaurants, AFNB banking centers and Athletic Department sporting goods stores. Purpose is to promote physical fitness and raise funds for the American Heart Association, Marion County Chapter's community programs and heart research. Last year nearly 10,000 people participated and raised more than $90,000 for the Heart Fund. Call 635-2104 for information.

Advance Date--"Metacarpophalangeal Pattern Profile Analysis: Definition and Application," Medical Genetics Department Seminar by Dr. Stephen G. Kaler, Riley Research Wing, Conference Room 138, 4 p.m. Tuesday, April 14.

* * *

NEWS & NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Computing Network Conference--Dr. Donald Bitzer, inventor of the PLATO system, will present the keynote address, "Home Computers: Where Are Our Dream Machines Heading?", at the 1981 I.U. Computing Network Conference to be held Friday, April 17, at the Lecture Hall and Cavanaugh Hall. Registration begins at 8 a.m., opening remarks at 10 a.m. The conference will feature many exhibits from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Registration fee $15 ($6 for students) if received by April 10. For further information contact Conference Director Kristin Froehlke, IUPUI Computing Services, ext. 2982.

IUPUI Computing Services Open House--In conjunction with the above conference, Computing Services will hold open house at the Engineering and Technology Building, 799 West Michigan Street, from 12 noon to 4 p.m. April 17. Tours conducted every 15 minutes.

Move--The IUPUI Day Care Center has moved to 525 North Blackford Street (the Cable Building, or School 4). The center is in Room 1 and 2 and you should use the entrance off North Street. The phone number remains the same, ext. 3508.

IUPUI Honors Program Director--Applications are invited for the half-time position of Director of Honors, IUPUI. The director works with the IUPUI Honors Council to encourage the development of honors programs and courses. Interested candidates should send a resume and a letter of application to Dean Paul J. Nagy, AO Building, Room 108, before April 15.

Honors Course Development--The Honors Faculty Council has funding available to support new course development. The deadline for application is April 15. Contact the Honors Office (Cavanaugh Hall, Room 303; ext. 2660) for more information.

Director of Continuing Medical Education--Indianapolis Methodist Hospital is seeking a full-time board-certified physician to direct its program in continuing medical education. Experience in education and use of the computer as an educational tool. Salary commensurate with experience and background. Reply with c.v. to Edward M. Hackman, Ph.D., associate director of medical education, 1604 North Capitol, Indianapolis, Ind. 46202. An Equal Opportunity Employer.

Visiting Professor--Dr. C. Donald Christian, professor and chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Arizona at Tucson, will be the Carl P. Huber Visiting Professor at the I.U. School of Medicine Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology. He will speak at 4 p.m. Tuesday, April 14, at the Ob/Gyn classroom (University Hospital North, Room 247) on "Endocrinology of Pregnancy." He also will speak at the Indiana State Ob/Gyn Society meeting at 11 a.m. April 15 on "Polycystic Ovarian Disease." The Carl P. Huber Memorial Visiting Professorship was established by donations of his former residents to honor Dr. Huber for his contributions during his years as chairman of the I.U. Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology from 1948 to 1969.

Tennis?--The Second Annual Tennis Tournament will be held by the IUPUI Faculty Club from May 11 through May 20 at the Indianapolis Sports Center. Categories: Men's and Women's Singles, Men's and Women's Doubles, and Mixed Doubles. Entry fee, which covers court costs and tennis balls, will be $8 per person per singles event and $8 per doubles team. Send entry fees to William DeMyer, M.D., Riley Hospital, Room N130, by Thursday, May 7. For further information call ext. 8951.

Hair Implant Complications--An article describing some complications arising from hair implantation for pattern baldness and pointing out the illogical basis of hair implantation for hair restoration authored by Drs. C. William Hanke, assistant professor of dermatology; Arthur L. Norins, chairman and professor of dermatology and professor of pathology; John G. Pantzer Jr., clinical assistant professor of plastic surgery, and James E. Bennett, director, section of plastic surgery and professor of surgery, is published in the April 3 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Occupational Therapists Give Presentations--Miss Cel Hamant, director of Occupational Therapy Hospital Services, and Miss Judy Feinberg, supervisor, adult physical disabilities/psychiatric OT service, presented papers at the annual American Occupational Therapy Association Conference in March in San Antonio, Texas.

Typographer--Rolf F. Rehe, associate professor for typography at the Herron School of Art, spoke on "Legibility: the key to effective newspaper typography" at a newspaper design symposium in Mainz, Germany, last Thursday. The symposium enrolled journalists from Western European nations, the United States, Japan and other countries under the auspices of the International Research Association for Newspaper Technology.

New Number--7702 is the new telephone extension for Blessie Cunanan, architect, Physical Plant.

Honors--The I.U. School of Education at IUPUI will recognize the outstanding academic achievement of about 45 graduating seniors at its first honors program at 2 p.m. Sunday (April 12) in the Hoosier Room of the IUPUI Union Building. Sue Talbot, an elementary school teacher from the Monroe County School System who was first runner-up for the National Teacher of the Year and the Indiana Teacher of the Year in 1978, will give the keynote address.

Shroud of Turin--Daniel Scavone, professor of history at Indiana State University, Evansville, who was one of the 25 Americans invited to study first hand the "Shroud of Turin" in Italy, will give a lecture/slide presentation on the shroud at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in Lecture Hall 100. He will speak at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Jordan Hall of Butler University. The lecture is free and sponsored by Indianapolis Lutheran Campus Ministry and Metropolitan Indianapolis Campus Ministry.

Secretaries Day--Professional Secretaries International is sponsoring a National Secretaries Day dinner, April 22 at the I-70 Sheraton Inn, East. Alvin Fernandez, president of the Downtown Merchants Association, will speak. Cocktails at 5 p.m.

with dinner at 6 p.m. $12.50 per person. For reservations, call Martha Beidelman at 263-2427. C'mon, bosses! Show that "right hand" how much you appreciate her!!

Attention--Introducing Microfilm Services. Available to all University departments. A space saver, a time saver, it could make filing cabinets obsolete. No more going to the files, no more thumbing through papers trying to find something you know was there, but can't find. Your documents can be filmed and stored neatly on 16 mm roll film. You could store more on this roll of film than in a four-drawer cabinet full of hanging file folders. For further information, contact T.E. Alberding at ext 2771.

New York Tour--A special tour for those who want to join the I.U. School of Music in its five-concert tour of New York City, is being arranged by the Alumni Association. Cost $370. For information contact Joan Curts, I.U. Alumni Association, Indiana Memorial Union M-17, Bloomington or phone (812) 337-6030.

Hypertensive?--Make an appointment for a free blood pressure check. You may have high blood pressure and not know it. If your pressure is between 100 and 120 mm Hg diastolic without high blood pressure medicine, you are eligible to participate in an eight week drug study. As part of the study you will receive a blood pressure cuff and learn how to take your own blood pressure. You will also have a complete history and physical examination. Contact Carlene Grim, Hypertension Research Nurse Practitioner, ext. 8546 or 8153.

Work-Study Depleted--Funds for the work-study program at IUPUI have been exhausted by employment within the academic year. Since sources of funds that have been tapped for the summer program in the past are unavailable, there will be no awards for summer (May 10-Aug. 30), according to Golam Mannan, dean for student services. Awards for students through May 9 will be honored.

International Data Bank and Resource Center--The International Center of Indianapolis is updating its data bank, the most widely used referral service offered by the ICI Library and Resource Center. It holds names of persons who would like to serve as tutors, interpreters, translators and speakers on foreign languages, cultures and traditions. The ICI also is able to refer callers to any of the 42 ethnic groups in Indianapolis. The Center also has books, records, educational material, pamphlets, posters, maps and current periodicals which relate to foreign countries and international issues. Call 923-1468 for detailed resource information.

Want to Quit Smoking?--The American Cancer Society, Marion County Unit, has free clinics to help smokers quit. Next clinic forms April 21 and meets Tuesday and Thursday nights. Meetings typically consist of 8 sessions (two hours, twice weekly for 4 weeks, 7-9 p.m.). Call 257-7121 to make reservations or get more information.

Hypnosis Workshop--Dr. Eugene E. Levitt, director of the Section of Psychology of the Department of Psychiatry, I.U. School of Medicine, will present an "Advanced Hypnosis Workshop" for the Indiana Psychological Association at the organization's 1981 Spring Workshops this Friday at the Marten House. The workshop is open only to persons holding a doctorate in clinical or counseling psychology who attended the IPA hypnosis workshop last year.

* * *

Honors and Accolades

Dr. Ralph W. Phillips, associate dean for research at the I.U. School of Dentistry, received the Fifth International Award given by the Friends of the University of Connecticut School of Dental Medicine on March 14 in Farmington, Conn. The annual award recognizes "outstanding achievement as reflected either in singular achievement or in a life's work."

Bill G. Cassell, director of IUPUI bookstores, has been appointed to the Education Committee of the National Association of College Stores.

J. John Harris III, associate professor of Education, will present three papers next week at the national conference of the American Educational Research Association in Los Angeles. Assistant Professor Reynaldo Contreras (School of Education-Bloomington) will co-present "Student Discipline: Legal and Historical Trends" with Harris. "A Study of the Causes of Disproportionality in Suspensions and Expulsions of Male and Black Students in Desegregated High Schools" will be co-presented with Assistant Professor Christine Bennett of Bloomington. The third paper is "Second Generation School Integration Problems."

Gerald L. Bepko associate dean of academic and administrative affairs at the I.U. School of Law-Indianapolis, chaired an American Bar Association and Association of American Law Schools accreditation inspection of the University of Colorado College of Law at Boulder, March 30-April 1.

David A. Funk, professor law, organized and chaired a program at the Association of American Law Schools annual meeting in San Antonio in January. The program on "Church and State--A Comparative and International Perspective," was presented to the Law and Religion Section of the Association. Professor Funk completed three years as chairman of the Section, and was elected a member of the Executive Board for the coming year.

Business Professor Victor E. Childers, who teaches international business on the Indianapolis campus, is conducting research and work with administrators of government social programs in Venezuela who want to achieve better efficiency using American management skills to improve public services such as health care, nutritional, housing and education programs and child care among low-income communities. Professor Childers has received a Fulbright grant for the project.

Elizabeth Grossman, dean of nursing, was elected treasurer of the American Association of Colleges of Nursing at the organization's recent meeting in Washington. The AACN represents the deans and directors of baccalaureate and higher degree programs in nursing across the country.

A paper presented recently in Acapulco by Dr. Richard Curtis, professor of speech-theater-communications, was chosen one of 10 award-winning presentations from a field of 700. The meritorious award for "outstanding work on the Universal Value System" was presented at the close of a 42-nation International Congress of Applied Systems Research and Cybernetics.

Marjorie A. Lyles, assistant professor in the Indiana University School of Business at Indianapolis, has been selected for inclusion in the book "Outstanding Young Women of America for 1980." The honor is based on her "ability, accomplishments and service to the community."

Tony Carr, assistant director of planning for University Hospital, has been elected president of the newly formed Indiana Society for Hospital Planning. The group's major objectives are to promote the development and professional practice of planning in hospitals and to encourage interaction among medical staff, trustees and administrators.

The new president-elect of the Indiana Chapter of Hospital Management Systems Society is Tom Tapscott, director of management systems for the I.U. Hospitals.

Dr. Roscoe E. Miller, distinguished professor of radiology, was awarded the Alter B. Cannon Medal at the annual meeting last fall of the Society of Gastrointestinal Radiologists at Maui, Hawaii. Dr. Miller is recognized as one of the world's leading authorities on using barium and other materials in taking X-rays of the gastrointestinal tract.

Donald Kinzer, professor of history, delivered a paper to the Western History Association annual meeting last fall at Kansas City. His topic was "The Congress and State Making, 1889; Centennials and Precedents."

Barbara Minckley, adjunct professor of nursing, recently was installed as secretary of the American Academy of Nursing. She also is executive director of the Midwest Alliance in Nursing.

Steve Hanson, assistant director of hospitals, has been elected president of the Central Indiana Emergency Medical Services Council.

Dr. Elizabeth Kelly-Fry, associate professor in the School of Medicine and research scientist at the Indianapolis Center for Advanced Research, has received the Presidential Recognition Award from the American Institute of Ultrasound in Medicine. The honor came at the group's 25th annual meeting in New Orleans.

In recognition of her "many years of service and dedication to the organization," the National Council of College Publications Advisers has awarded a life membership in the organization to Shirley Quate, coordinator of journalism. The award was made in Chicago during the group's annual convention. Only two other persons have been so honored in the 26-year history of the organization, whose 600 members are college journalism educators and advisers to student newspapers, literary magazines and yearbooks.

* * *

FRIENDLY AD SERVICE

Pet Department--For sale, full bred, blonde, female cocker spaniel, registration papers, 5½ years old, $125. Also one of her offspring not full bred, also housebroken, female, 1½ years old, loves children, some tricks, $25 or both for $140. Call 856-3983 after 5 p.m. Monday-Friday only.

Houses for Sale-- 3 bedroom ranch, convenient westside location; fireplace, fenced yard, many extras, assumable low rate mortgage. 293-3887 or ext. 7256. . . .
3 bedroom ranch near Broad Ripple, gas heat, central air, newly redecorated, assume current mortgage. 255-3142 after 6 p.m.. . . . Minutes from IUMC, walking distance to Marian College, attractive brick and alum tri-level with family room, dining room, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, sewing area, 2 car garage, fenced yard, gas heat, central air, immediate possession. Located between Kessler and Cold Springs. 849-3483 after 7 p.m. . . . By owner, super family home. 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, basement, wooded lot, Washington Township schools, located 91st and Meridian. 9 years old. Under $130,000. Call 844-3867.

green sheet

*News Bureau
Indiana University-Purdue University
at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

(ARCH-800321)

ARCHIVES
UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
420 BLAKE ST