The new JAGs website (www.alumni.iupui.edu/jags) will keep you updated on the JAGs program, list volunteer opportunities, refresh your memory with the volunteer manual, and feature pictures from JAG events.

Happenings at SPEA

School of Public and Environmental Affairs

A few notable projects from students in the Public Safety Capstone Course:

1 In 2009, the class conducted a Threat Assessment for the approaching 2012 Super Bowl hosted by the city of Indianapolis. The assessment required students to explore potential hazards facing the city and metropolitan area that might affect planning and organization. Students presented the report to the Super Bowl organizing committee and Marion County Emergency Management.

2 During 2010 the Capstone class is working with the Indiana War Memorial Commission to conduct a threat analysis on the commission's properties. Indianapolis is second only to our nation's capitol in memorials honoring members of our military. Brigadier General Stewart Goodwin, the Executive Director of the Indiana War Memorial Commission, requested the assistance of IUPUI-SPEA in conducting this valuable assessment. More importantly, the Indiana War Memorial Commission will be able to utilize the findings of the study as a basis to develop a comprehensive counter-measure protection plan.

THE NEWSLETTER RE-CONNECTING ALUMNI WITH IUPUI

The Impact of Our Work

A heartfelt Thank You to all of our alumni who have helped with our recruitment efforts! It is because of you that we welcomed one of the largest, strongest and most diverse freshman classes again this fall. We are genuinely grateful for your work in helping guide them to IUPUI.

Kaylee Shirrell, a Brownsburg High School grad and Bepko Scholar, is a perfect example of the caliber student we're welcoming to campus this year. Kaylee was recognized as a member of Parade Magazine's All American Service Team for her work in developing Hats of Hope. After her grandmother was treated for breast cancer and lost her hair, Kaylee began knitting hats for her. Kaylee's commitment continued to grow as she worked to provide caps for more and more cancer patients. She was welcomed to the White House this summer in recognition of her work (see her introduction to Vice President Biden <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tHueiet86hQ>).

This year, U.S. News & World Report included the opinions of college counselors in their selection criteria—a wise decision from my perspective—and high school counselors from across the country ranked IUPUI #47 among universities nationwide! For the third consecutive year, we were listed as one of U.S. News & World Report's Up and Coming national universities (we are now #5 on that list), and were recognized for our:

- First-Year Experience
- Learning Communities
- Service Learning
- Ethnic Diversity
- Economic Diversity
- International Student Population

We could not have reached these achievements without your support and we hope we can count on it as our work continues.

This issue is dedicated to many of the great things happening on campus now—the programs, people and news that embody our commitment. It's been a pleasure working together to make it happen and to help students pursue their educational goals!

All the Best,

Chris J. Foley
Director of Undergraduate Admissions
