Congratulations to the 2006-2007 CICIUAA Scholarship Recipients

Melissa Maxwell, Brownsburg

Melissa is a junior at IUPUI. She is a non-traditional student.

Hongbin Bao, Indianapolis

Hongbin is a third year student at the School of Law-Indianapolis. He is from China and is interested in returning to China upon graduation to become a criminal defense attorney in an attempt to reform the Chinese criminal justice system. He is also very interested in becoming involved with the IU alumni chapter in China. Hongbin is married with two children.

Thomas Krupski, Noblesville

Thomas is 2006 graduate of Noblesville High School and is a freshman at IU-Bloomington. He is one of six children and hopes to become a pediatric physician and surgeon.

David Lane, Indianapolis

David is a 2006 graduate of Northwest High School and is a freshman at IUPUI. David is one of five children between the ages of 14 and 18. David was very active at Northwest High School and intends to pursue a business degree at IUPUI.

Brian Caputo, Plainfield

Brian is a 2006 graduate of Cardinal Ritter High School and is a freshman at IU-Bloomington. Brian has been admitted to the Hutton Honors College on the Bloomington campus and hopes to obtain a degree from the Kelley School of Business.

The Central Indiana Chapter of the IUAA is proud to assist these students in realizing their dreams. We thank them for continuing the IU tradition of hard work and success. If you would like to be a part of this program, please contact a board member about donating to the CICIUAA Scholarship Fund. Without the financial and physical activity of the alumni in central Indiana, the Chapter would no longer be able to facilitate such a wonderful program. Please consider donating to the

Going to Homecoming?

Help represent Central Indiana alums by walking with the CICIUAA in the 2006 IU Homecoming parade on Friday, October 27!

We will meet at 7th Street and Rose Avenue. Please plan to arrive no later than 5:15 p.m.

The parade begins at 5:30 and will travel West on 3rd Street, then North on Indiana Avenue to the Sample Gates, where immediately following the parade, a pep rally will take place. Coach Hoeppner, football players, the IU Marching Hundred, cheerleaders, RedSteppers and fireworks will be featured.

For more details, please contact

The Central Indiana Chapter of the IUAA had a great time in a horse-drawn surrey at the 2005 Homecoming Parade.

Holiday Night at the Children's Museum

Wednesday,
December 6
6:30 - 9:00 p.m.

Graduates of all Indiana University campuses are invited to bring their families to come out and play at the Children's Museum! Decked out for the holidays, you can expect sightings of Santa Claus and his big polar bear neighbors from the North Pole. All of the wonders of the museum, including the Dinosphere exhibit, will be open during this private party. Also featured is the Fireworks of Glass, the largest permanent sculpture of blown glass by renowned artist Dale Chihuly. The 43-foot-tall tower rises about a glass ceiling.

Ticket prices—which include food, beverage, admission to the museum, and free parking—are $16 for adults, $8.50 for children 3-12, and no charge for children 2 and under. Reservations may be made online at www.alumni.iupui.edu after November 1.

Alumni News

Dave Mossbarger, MBA '88, now working at the Regenstrief Institute, IU School of Medicine (IUSM), recently appeared as a co-author in two publications. The June issue of the monthly newsletter Forum of the Society of General Internal Medicine featured the article, "Changing Organizational Culture," in its Ask the Expert column, which was written by Mossbarger with Thomas Inui, MD, of IUSM. In May, Mossbarger appeared with several others from IUSM as a contributor to a chapter in a newly published book, Professionalism in Medicine: Critical Perspectives (Wear and Aultman, eds.). Their chapter, "Educating for Professionalism at Indiana University School of Medicine: Feet on the Ground and Fresh Eyes," discusses means by which medical schools might reinvigorate education for professionalism, describing a culture change project which Mossbarger has coordinated for the past three plus years. This project received coverage in the Indianapolis Star on May 16, in American Medical Association News in April, and in the Wall Street Journal last September.

Jeff Stanger, BA '94, was invited to the NCAA Baseball College World Series this past June for a behind the scenes look at the premier college baseball event. He is working on the sequel to Trolley Dodgers, which was released in September 2005. Trolley Dodgers is set in Bloomington and follows the town's efforts to buy the L.A. Dodgers and move them to the Midwest. "It's light-hearted fun...think Field of Dreams meets Waiting for Guffman," says Stanger. The working title for the sequel is Roll With It, and Stanger says Hoosier baseball will get to take center stage in this book. Look for it on bookstore shelves soon!

Dave Johnson, BA '73, was born with cerebral palsy, weighing two pounds, twelve ounces at birth. He recently accepted a post to manage an international banking office in Australia. "I have worked all of my life to overcome other people's attitudes and preconceptions about my disability, and about my abilities. The only limitations that cannot be overcome are the limitations we place on ourselves," says Johnson. Proving that, Johnson is also a Wealth Management Executive, an ordained Christian minister, a Mensan, a motivational speaker, a musician, a poet and a life member of the IUAA.

Have good news you want to share?

In an effort to better connect with our members, the Central Indiana Chapter of IUAA is interested in hearing about your human-interest stories. We are looking for uplifting, encouraging and exciting stories about the wonderful people with ties to IU!

So, if you are starting a business, receiving an award, traveling the world or just making good in your neighborhood....we want to know!
