

Feb. 6, 2014

INScope

Weekly news for faculty, staff and students from the Indiana University School of Medicine

top headlines

Strategic plan

IUSM has officially launched the Transforming Research Initiative, a plan to make its research enterprise more competitive.

Healing music

A new study by IU researchers found music therapy has a positive effect on young cancer patients' coping skills.

New leadership role

David Crabb has been named the new chief of internal medicine at Eskenazi Health.

editor's picks

News to Use

Remembering a colleague

IUSM faculty member Vince Gattone bravely shared his experience with terminal illness to educate his students and the public.

Opportunities

Mobile computing

Proposals are now being accepted for this year's Mobile Computing in Medical Education Conference.

Grants

Grant program extended

features of the week

story

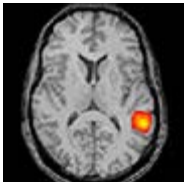

Ten years of care

The IU Health Proton Therapy Center, whose physicians are primarily members of the IUSM Department of Radiation Oncology, will celebrate 10 years of innovative cancer treatment during a special ceremony Feb. 10. Discover the center's history, and watch its video segment that aired Jan. 30 after the IU-Nebraska men's basketball game on the Big Ten Network.

podcast

The Indiana Spinal Cord and Brain Injury Research Fund Grant Program deadline has been extended to Feb. 24.

Kudos

Excellence in teaching

The American Psychiatric Association has award David Diaz the Irma Bland Award for Excellence in Teaching Residents.

'Sound Medicine'

This week, "Sound Medicine" reviews the history of the iron lung, which was created to treat patients who lost a lung to polio in the 1950s but inspired fear in the public due to its frightful and claustrophobic design. Other topics include the regulation of antibiotics in animals, the myth of "right brained versus left brained" and male contraception.

faculty & staff spotlight

Feels like home

Cardiovascular researcher Ching-Pin Chang joined IU after 20 years at Stanford to expand his research horizons.

events & lectures

TB testing clinic dates and locations

02-06-2014

The Changing Role of Imaging in Neuro-Oncology

02-12-2014

IUSM Dean TRIP keynote lecture

03-13-2014

IU School of Medicine Calendar

student spotlight

AMA meeting

The IU School of Medicine will host this year's American Medical Association - Medical Student Section Region V Meeting.

IUSM campus links

Bloomington • Evansville • Fort Wayne • Indianapolis
Lafayette • Muncie • Gary • South Bend • Terre Haute

Submit your news

Subscribe or unsubscribe to this newsletter.

IU Communications | 251 N. Illinois St. | Indianapolis, IN 46204