

green sheet

volume ten, number nine

march 9, 1980

NAME SYNONYMOUS WITH IRISH CULTURE TO BE HERE ST. PATRICK'S DAY

A member of one of Ireland's outstanding families will discuss his country and his ancestors while at IUPUI on St. Patrick's Day. Michael B. Yeats, son of William Butler Yeats, regarded by many as the greatest poet of the 20th Century, will be at IUPUI on March 16-17. He and his wife, Grainne Yeats, will appear in three public programs.

Their appearance at IUPUI is made possible by the Indiana University Addison Locke Roache Lecture series.

A member of the Irish Senate for many years and vice president of the European Parliament from 1975 until 1979, Yeats has been interested in social policy, women's rights and economics. An authority on Irish folk music, he was for some years the music critic of one of the country's leading newspapers.

Grainne Yeats is described as a distinguished Irish harpist and a moving singer. She has appeared often in the United States, Europe, the Soviet Union and the Far East. Her performances on stage, television and records contain some of the few remaining examples of the ancient harping tradition in Ireland, as well as music of the 20th Century.

The couple will appear Sunday (March 16) at 2 p.m. in Room 102 of the IUPUI Lecture Hall. Their program, titled "Words and Music," will describe Yeats's traditional words and tunes and the ballads he wrote in folk style.

At 3 p.m. Monday, St. Patrick's Day (March 17), Grainne Yeats will draw upon her repertoire of more than 300 folk songs, songs of exile, patriotic songs and humorous ballads in a program of "Irish Songs and Ballads." She will play an authentic reproduction of an ancient Irish harp. The program will be in Room 104 of the Lecture Hall.

At 8 p.m. Monday (March 17) Yeats will share a personal viewpoint of the remarkable family that provided Ireland with both its greatest poet, William Butler Yeats, and its greatest painter, Jack B. Yeats. He will be in Room 104 of the Lecture Hall.

Also, Yeats will be the guest at a luncheon at 11:30 a.m. on Monday (March 17). in the Roof Lounge of the IUPUI Union Building, given by the Office of International Programs, and will discuss international issues with members of Richard A. Fredland's political science class in contemporary political topics. The class meets at 1 p.m. in Room 227 of Cavanaugh Hall.

* * *

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE & SOMETIMES WHY

Biochemical -- "Enzymes Associated with Simian Virus 40 Chromosomes," Biochemistry Seminar by Dr. Howard Edenberg, assistant professor; Medical Science Building, Room 205, 2 p.m. Monday.

'Tis the Season for. . .Politics -- The Indianapolis Women's Political Caucus is offering "A Crash Course in Politics -- How to Get Involved" on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at La Scala restaurant, 110 South Meridian Street. Speakers will include Allan R. Sutherlin, secretary of the Indiana Republican State Committee, and Donald F. Michael, chairman of the Democratic State Committee. The program is open and free to the public.

And More Politics -- Two leading American scholars representing liberal and conservative thought will meet in debate at IUB on Monday. "The Politics of the Future" will be the topic when Henry Steele Commager, constitutional historian, faces Russell Kirk, social critic and author of The Conservative Mind. The program starts at 8 p.m. in the Psychology Building, Room 100.

Athenaeum Finale -- "Born Yesterday," the popular Garson Kanin comedy currently on stage at the Indiana Repertory Theater, is the IRT's last production at the Athenaeum. (Next October, the IRT will open its season in the "new" Indiana Theater.) For ticket information, call 635-5277.

Counseling -- The University Faculty Council meeting will be held Tuesday from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Roof Lounge at the Union Building.

Art -- The emergence of a national identity in art, architecture and music in 19th-Century America is the focus of the Spring Learning Program at the Indianapolis Museum of Art. "America -- The 19th Century," an eight-week lecture series starts Tuesday and Wednesday at the DeBoest Lecture Hall. For information, call 923-1331.

Display -- Squibb & Co. will have a pharmacy display in Riley Hospital on Wednesday from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Seminar -- "Role of Cell Wall Components in the Promotion and Prevention of Recognition of Staphylococcus aureus by Phagocytic Cells," Microbiology and Immunology Seminar by Dr. Brian J. Wilkinson, assistant professor of microbiology at Illinois State University; Medical Science Building, Room 205, 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Especially for Nurses -- All nurses and nursing students are invited to an open house in the Krannert Lobby at University Hospital on Wednesday from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sponsored by Nursing Services, "Opportunity Open House" is designed to provide information about the nursing program and facilities of the three University Hospitals. The open house is being coordinated by Judy Warner.

Shhhh! -- Incomparable mime Marcel Marceau will display his unique talents during a performance Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the I.U. Auditorium in Bloomington. Tickets range from $4 to $7. For information, call the box office at 812-337-1103.

Chemical -- "Allene Cycloadditions--A Theoretical Analysis and Kinetic Isotope Effects," Chemistry Seminar by Dan Pasto from the University of Notre Dame; Krannert Science Building, Room 225, noon on Friday.

Exotica -- A five-day "Festival of the Himalayas" opens Friday in Bloomington with a series of concerts, lectures, films and art exhibits. Events are scheduled for the Monroe County Library Auditorium and the I.U. Auditorium. For details, call 812-336-5544.

Opening -- The "1980 Student Show" opens Friday with a public reception at 7 p.m. in the Herron Gallery at the School. The show, which runs through April 11, features more than 240 works done by the school's freshmen, sophomore and juniors.

* * *

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Registrar -- The appointment of Dr. Richard E. Slocum as IUPUI registrar was approved by the I.U. trustees at their March meeting in Indianapolis. The appointment is effective July 1. Slocum, who holds degrees from I.U. and the University of Wisconsin, has been serving as acting registrar.

Dean -- William R. Jones, professor of law, has been named dean of the Salmon P. Chase College of Law at Northern Kentucky University, effective July 1. Jones, who joined the law school faculty in 1970, has degrees from the University of Louisville, University of Kentucky and the University of Michigan.

Remember the Boss -- Once a Year -- The IUPUI Women's Club's fifth annual Bosses' Night is slated for March 19 in the 500 Club at the Speedway Motel. The social hour starts at 5:30 p.m., dinner at 6:45 p.m. The cost is $6.95 and checks should be sent to: Barbara McQueen, Krannert Science Building, Room 153A -- by March 17. All IUPUI Women's Club members, their bosses, guests and friends are welcome. For details, call Ext. 2438.

Books -- The School of Nursing Staff Council is sponsoring a used-book sale March 17 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the school (main entrance area). Books are in good condition and will be sold at 75 percent off the original sale price. Stop in, browse and buy.

Compilation -- The Proceedings from "Distant Crises," the Global Education Conference held last October, have been published and are available from the Office of International Programs and Services, Allied Health Building, Room 228. Leslie Wood at the School of Education served as chairman of the conference planning committee and editor of the Proceedings.

Open Longer -- The IUPUI Division of Continued Studies has extended office hours this month: from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. The office is in the Administration Building at the 38th Street Campus.

Harboring Any Old Photos? -- Does your school or division have some photographs that include portraits of deans and faculty members, internal and external views of buildings, pictures of classes or extracurricular activities, or anything that might have potential historic significance for this campus? If so, would you please notify the IUPUI archivist, Jeanette Matthew, at Ext. 8278. She's in Room 316 of the University Library. Please let her know what you've found by the end of the week.

Position -- A research associate position with Dr. Glenn Bohlen in the Department of Physiology is available April 1. Persons with a Ph.D. or M.D. degree interested in studies of microcirculatory physiology may apply at the Medical Science Building, Room 356.

Workshop -- "Enhancing the Academic Experience through Service-Learning in Aging" is the topic of a special faculty development workshop March 19 in Gallahue Hall at Butler University. Sponsored by the Consortium for Urban Education, the program will feature Dr. Tom Hickey from the Institute of Gerontology at the University of Michigan. For information, call Ext. 3709.

Future Considerations -- The Office of Career Counseling and Placement has four workshops coming up this month that should interest prospective job-hunters: "Careers" on March 17, "The Resume" on March 18, "The Rules of the Interview Game" on March 19 and "Focus: The Job Search" on March 20. Each will be repeated in April and May. To register, call Ext. 2554.

Join -- Thomas H. Keesling has been appointed administrative resident at the I.U. Hospitals where he will spend a year as an administrative staff member as part of his graduate program toward a master's degree in health administration. Keesling received his B.A. degree from Wittenberg University.

Give Blood -- Alpha Phi Omega service sorority is once again sponsoring a blood drive--March 18-19 from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. each day. The Bloodmobile from the Central Indiana Regional Blood Center will be parked by the Lecture Hall.

* * *

DEPT. OF HONORS & ACCOLADES

Dr. Forrest D. Ellis, assistant professor of ophthalmology, has been elected president of the Indianapolis Ophthalmological Society.

William A. Nevill, director of graduate studies, has been appointed to the Council Policy Committee of the American Chemical Society. He and Dr. Edward Shepard, Eli Lilly & Co., are the two elected councilors of the 800-member Indiana Section of the ACS.

James E. Wilson, director of purchasing and stores, has been elected president of the Indiana Group of the National Association of Educational Buyers.

Congress has confirmed President Carter's recommendation that Brig. Gen. Willard Hanshew be promoted to major general in the U.S. Army Reserve. Gen. Hanshew commands the 7th Infantry Training Division with units in Indiana and Michigan. At IUPUI, he is assistant director of administration.

* * *

Archives
Blake St. Library