

Did you know that...

Some 88 percent of the 503 enrollees in the phenomenal Learn & Shop program completed a questionnaire which reveals that the typical L&S student is a white woman, probably about 35 years old, who is married, has children at home, graduated from high school at least 16 years ago and is enrolled for the first time in an IUPUI credit course. Here are some figures: 78 percent are women, 30 percent are between 31 and 40 years old, 47 percent received their high school diplomas in 1963 or earlier, 44 percent are married with children at home, 61 percent are enrolled for the first time at IUPUI in credit courses, 35 percent already have accumulated between one and 35 credit hours, 92 percent do not have a college degree and 83 percent are white.

"RESIDENT" WOODWIND QUINTET IN CONCERT FRIDAY

The Indianapolis Symphony Woodwind Quintet, artists in residence at IUPUI this spring, will present a concert in Lecture Hall 100 at 8 p.m. Friday. Selections performed by the quintet -- flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon and horn -- will represent several periods of music history.

The members of the quintet are the principal woodwind players of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra (ISO): Albert Saurini, flute; Malcolm Smith, oboe; Wesley Foster, clarinet; Robert Broemel, bassoon, and Larry Philpot, horn.

After the concert Dr. Glenn W. Irwin, Jr., and Mrs. Irwin will host a reception for the quintet in the faculty lounge (Room 507) in Cavanaugh Hall. "We are pleased to establish a residency at IUPUI for this excellent ensemble," Dr. Irwin said, adding that the quintet's presence on the campus is part of the effort to encourage renewed development of the performing arts in the downtown area.

"This performance is a rare opportunity for our students and the public. A free concert by artists of this calibre is almost unheard-of," said Charles Manning, IUPUI's director of music.

Selections programmed by the quintet will be played in varied styles. The program will open with Giovanni Cambrini's "Quintet in F Major," followed by Charles Lefebvre's "Suite for Woodwind Quintet." The first portion of the concert will close with Malcolm Arnold's "Divertimento." After intermission the quintet will perform "La Cheminee du Roi Rene" by Darius Milhaud and Paul Hindemith's "Kleine Kammermusik fur funf Blaser," Opus 24, Number 2.

IUPUI STAFF COUNCIL NEARS FORMULATION

A Staff Council at IUPUI -- such groups already exist on the Bloomington, South Bend and Gary campuses -- is nearing formulation after five years of preliminary planning.

The purpose of the council -- as stated in the recently published bylaws -- is to represent the non-academic staff more fully in the communication processes and decision making of the university; to increase the sense of identity, recognition and worth of each staff member in his relationship to the university, and to identify staff-related concerns and seek their solution.

Other concerns of the Staff Council will be to provide a channel of communication for staff with administration and faculty, to promote the development of and recommend policies which will help retain highly qualified personnel, to integrate the staff into existing university affairs, and to establish and promote university-wide activities, publications, workshops and seminars.

All staff whose functional classifications are AD, CL, NU, PN, PR and TE may be represented on this council. This wide range of classifications, along with geographic allocation of seats, will allow the council to represent eligible staff from the many different areas of the university.

Various groups of employees have been planning this organization for five years. Workshops on the needs and concerns of the staff were conducted, and last spring Vice-President Irwin appointed the Staff Advisory Committee which has developed the council bylaws and will conduct the first election this spring.

A copy of the bylaws, along with a nomination form, will be mailed to each eligible staff member (about 3,500 in all) no later than April 1. Anyone who does not receive this information should call the council office, Ext. 612-225, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. More information can be obtained by contacting the Staff Advisory Committee chairman, Dorothy Medcalf in the Nursing School, Ext. 8576, or the vice-chairman, Karl Ralph at Herron, 923-3651.
