

number twenty-nine july 25, 1971 volume one

CHANGING TIMES DEPT.

High overhead and low foreheads have forced Charles Whitlow to close his Union Building barber shop after 17 years.

"The costs of keeping the shop open keep going up and I just don't see a lot of my long-haired friends often enough to make expenses," he said.

Whitlow will continue to barber his long-haired friends, but now he will do it on an appointment basis in their homes and offices. Appointments for the new service can be made by calling Whitlow at 291-7150 or his daughter at 247-7891.

Whitlow has been barbering for 40 years. "I cut my first head of hair in 1932 in Oklahoma City. I'm really happy that this new service will let me keep on seeing the good friends I've made out here," he said.

WILLIAMS IS PRINTING AND DUPLICATING DIRECTOR

With the unification of business activities effective July 1, John Williams, who has been director of purchasing and general services at the 38th Street Campus, became director of printing and duplicating.

He will supervise the copy service at 38th Street, the central print shop at Riley, and the duplicating operations in the Law Building. He also is involved in consulting with the duplicating and copying installations in other buildings.

Williams continues to supervise the 38th Street mail and merchandise distribution and is establishing a courier service between 38th Street, Normal College, Herron, Marott Building, Carpenters Building, Maennerchor Building, and the Central Mail Room in the Administration Building on West Michigan Street.

The buying for the departments at 38th Street is being done by the Central Purchasing Office on West New York Street. The 38th Street Campus is being serviced from the Central Stores operation on West New York Street.

HIDEAWAY TOO HIDDEN?

Cafeteria-style food service is available for hungry students and staffers in the Hideaway in the lower level of the Library Building at the new Downtown Campus. Current summer hours are 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mrs. Marcella Jones is supervisor.

NEED STUDY HELP?

2 -

Eight sections of the one-week "How to Study in College" course for high school graduates entering any college or university this fall will be held at the 38th Street Campus next month.

Both morning and evening sessions are scheduled, including a special section for adults going back to college. Fee for the course is $20. Enrollment information may be obtained from the Continuing Education Office, 923-1321, Ext. 335.

* *

A LITTLE TRAVELLING MONEY, PLEASE

Pursuant to authorization by the 1971 General Assembly, the State Budget Agency has approved the following reimbursement rates for authorized travel, effective July 1, 1971:

Out-of-state per diem	$20.00
In-state per diem	16.00
Use of private auto per mile	.10

University personnel may claim travel reimbursement using the above rates for authorized travel on and after July 1. It should be noted by account managers that there will be no change in travel funds approved in the 1971-72 operating budget because of these increases. Therefore, in some areas it may be necessary to consider a reduction in the number of trips.

ALL'S FAIR . . .

At least 16 exhibits are taking shape to tell the I.U. story in the State Universities Building at the Indiana State Fairgrounds. The task of filling some 3,000 square feet is directed by Howard B. Morris, co-ordinator of continuing education and special medical programs, who is utilizing cool green "modules" as "stages" for the exhibits. The fair this year opens August 19 and runs through August 29.

* * *

BLAM! ZAP! AT WISCONSIN

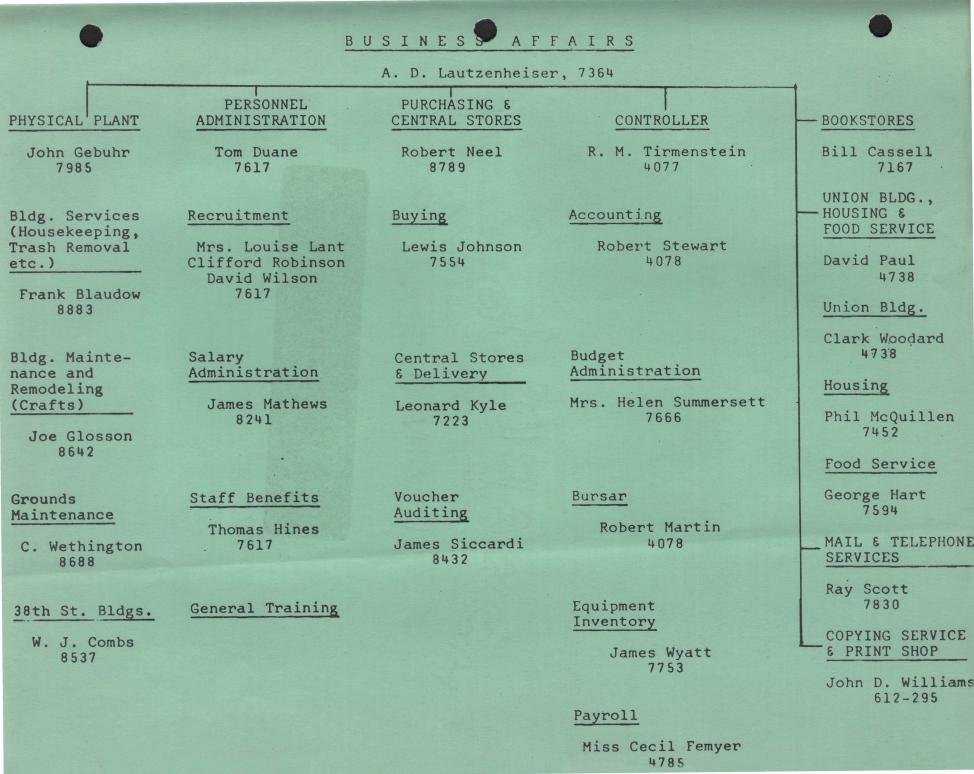

The University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee is one of many colleges offering a course in "Comics Appreciation." The survey course, which is not offered for credit, will cover writing, sketching, layout and production. One scheduled lecture is entitled "Why Flash Gordon Uses His Sword Instead Of His Zap-Gun."

* * *

UNIFICATION NEWS

On July 1, implementing the plan for merger of I.U. and Purdue operations in Indianapolis, I.U. assumed over-all responsibility for management of IUPUI in non-academic areas. This has involved consolidation of varied business functions, under the direction of Business Manager A.D. Lautzenheiser. Page 3 of this Green Sheet is a presentation that shows who is responsible for what business services, along with their telephone extensions.

* * *

HONORS & ACCOLADES DEPT.

- 4 -

Thirteen faculty and student members of the Department of Biochemistry co-authored five papers that were presented before the American Society of Biological Chemists meeting in San Francisco last month. The authors were C.E. Patterson, P.V. Blair, T.L. Yerks, Robert T. Lyons, David M. Gibson, E. Jack Davis, and Renee C. Lin. Also Joan Munroe, Robert A. Harris, Roger W. Roeske, Sherwin Isaac, L.K. Steinrauf and Timothy King. Four faculty members of the School of Medicine also were elected to membership in the society. They are Dr. David W. Allmann and Dr. Robert A. Harris, associate professors of biochemistry; Dr. Donald J. Niederpruem, professor of microbiology, and Dr. Shrepad R. Wagle, professor of pharmacology.

Dr. Marvin L. Bittinger, assistant professor of mathematics education, is author (with M.L. Keedy of Purdue) of three books: Arithmetic: A Modern Approach, Introductory Algebra: A Modern Approach, and Intermediate Algebra: A Modern Approach, all published by Addison-Wesley Publishing Company.

* * *

TRAVELLERS

Dr. Shou-Eng Koo, associate professor of economics at the Downtown Campus, served as a member of the panel on Economic Consequences of the Proletarian Cultural Revolution in Mainland China at the Conference on Asian Studies last month in Los Angeles. He spoke on the recent development and prospects for China's foreign trade.

Dr. Donald J. Niederpruem, professor of microbiology, has returned from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Houston Ecology Evaluation Device) to be aboard the flight of Apollo 16 next March.

* * *

HELEN ZAPP PROGRAM COORDINATOR UNION BUILDING