PARTNERS 2000 PROJECT NETS TWO AWARDS AND JOBS FOR 140

Again this summer, IUPUI was one of hundreds of private and public employers who volunteered to find summer jobs for more than 3,000 young people in the Partners 2000 project, and in doing so gave jobs to 140 low income teens and reaped two awards. Among the top awards given to eight of the 545 participating employers, IUPUI won for the greatest increase over last year, and one of our Partners 2000 people, William Smith, 18, won one of four $1,000 college scholarships. Smith has worked for two years under the supervision of Angel Fernandez in the audio/visual department in the School of Nursing. Vice President Glenn W. Irwin, Jr., accepted our award and commended supervisors on campus who shared their expertise with the young people. Because of the summer job, many in the program can stay in high school, enter college or the job market. Direction for the Partners 2000 on our campus was managed by Barbara Jones and Maryellen Beckman, both in Personnel.

THE PASSWORD IS GRANTS

A new and unique service provided at no cost to users by Research and Sponsored Programs will be a valuable asset to faculty and staff regarding grant information. Grant/scan* (a menu-driven electronic information system especially designed for the Indianapolis faculty) provides 24-hour access to continually updated grant-related information. It includes topics that will assist in preparing and processing proposals, making budgets and locating funds. Also included are answers to frequently asked questions, a list of printed materials available through Research and Sponsored Programs, as well as dates and locations of grant-related workshops and other instructional programs. GRANT/scan* is on the Indianapolis Computing Services IBM 4381 and can be accessed by a campus terminal (CRT, DECwriter or microcomputer) that is connected to the IU Computing Network. It may also be accessed from any off-campus location by using a microcomputer or terminal equipped with a modem and by dialing (317) 634-7041 for a 1200 baud line or (317) 636-1548 for a 300 baud line. In all cases, the access code is INDY200 and the password is GRANTS. For details on GRANT/scan* and copies of a brief instructional brochure, call Research and Sponsored Programs, Ext. 8285.

Everyone who ever punched a clock, a cow or wanted to punch a supervisor will delight in the songs, dances and dialogue in "Working," the musical adapted from Studs Terkel's best selling novel, which is being produced by the IUPUI University Theater. A cast of 40 singers, dancers and actors will perform the play at the Mary Cable Building on Sept. 12-14, Sept. 19-21 and Sept. 26-28. Clara Heath directs. Sha-Boom's restaurant will cater a pre-play dinner in the theater on Friday and Saturday nights. Dinner will not be served on Thursday, and tickets are $2.50 for students and senior citizens, $3.50 for campus folks and $5 for others. Dinner theater tickets are $12.50 for all. For ticket information, call the theater at Ext. 2094.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Calliope Digs In--The IU Calliope that is coordinated from this campus by Maryann Perkins will sit and play along the White River for the groundbreaking of the new Indianapolis Zoo on Sept. 8 from 2-5 p.m., on the old Washington Street bridge. Animals, trolley and animal rides, music and family fun are planned. All welcome.

Getting to Know Us--The next new employee orientation, sponsored by Personnel, is Monday, Sept. 9 from 9-11:30 a.m., Fesler Hall, Hurty C.

New at IUB--The IU Art Museum will open a new gallery on the third floor on Nov. 14 to house its collection of art of Africa, Oceania and the Americas.

West German to Lecture--Peter Frese, professor of American Studies at the University of Paderborn, West Germany, will give a free public lecture in LH 104 on Thursday, Sept. 5, at 8:15 p.m. His topic will be "Laurel and Hardy vs. The Self-Reflexive Artefact: Kurt Vonnegut's Novels Between High Culture and Popular Culture." Sponsor is the IUPUI Center for American Studies.

Come All--The I.U. Women's Club of Indianapolis invites "everyone" to its annual membership tea and open house on Sept. 15 from 2-4 p.m. in the Governor's residence, which will be toured. Call 842-3512.

High Tech--IndyCon 85, a high technology electronics exhibition and conference will feature Purdue President Dr. Steven C. Beering as keynote speaker. Seminars and exhibits are free, lunch is $15. Call 359-4343 for reservations.

Female Fitness--Tessa Cooper, physiologist and nutritionist, speaks on "Women's Health and Fitness," at the bi-monthly meeting of the Association for Women in Science, Indiana Chapter, on Sept 10, 7 p.m., faculty lounge, Krannert Building, East 38th Street. Call 261-6167.

English Scientist Here--Dr. S. J. Cowley, University College, London, England, will speak on "The Evolution of an Unsteady Translating Nonlinear Rossby-Wave Critical Layer" on Sept. 6, 3-4 p.m., KB 057, sponsored by Mathematical Sciences Colloquia and Seminars. Tea at 2:30 p.m., KB 060.

Faculty Forum--The first of many Faculty Forums planned for the campus is Sept. 4, noon, Cavanaugh Hall, Room 537. Ann Marriner, Ph.D., professor of nursing, will present "Organizational Conflict." Sponsor is the Metropolitan Indianapolis Campus Ministry. Bring your lunch if you like.

Council Kicks Off Fall--The IUPUI Faculty Council meets Sept. 5, 3:30 p.m., School of Law, Room 116. For more, call Bernice Chumley, Ext. 2215.

Special Hours--The School of Dentistry library will be closed for the Labor Day weekend, Aug. 31-Sept. 2, with regular hours resuming Sept. 3.

Give a Miracle--You are needed to volunteer to give blood in the Sept. 6 blood drive, sponsored by IU Hospitals, in cooperation with the Central Indiana Regional Blood Center--the major source of blood and its components for member hospitals. You can give at Riley and University from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Call Ext. 8078.

Keys Found--A key ring with several keys and a tag were found two weeks ago in the sample room at the IU Hospital pharmacy. Call Ext. 3445.

Med Women--The Faculty Women's Club of the IU School of Medicine is having a coffee on Sept. 10, 10 a.m., in the Green Room of the Circle Theatre. New members welcome.

TWO STUDIES--TEETH, DIABETICS--NEED VOLUNTEERS

People with missing teeth who need partial dentures are needed for a dental study at the Oral Health Research Institute on campus. A new partial, valued at $500, will be made at no charge for qualifying participants. Call Becky Cheetham, Ext. 8671.

People concerned about the effect of diabetes on their eyesight are needed for a study to test a new treatment for diabetic-related eye disease. Call 630-6987 or 630-6374 and leave your name and phone number. The study is being done by Diabetic Research and Training.

DAVID J. HANDEL was recently named director of the IU Hospitals by the trustees of IU. He comes from Nashville, Tenn., where he was associate director of operations at the 663-bed Vanderbilt University Hospital. He will head University, Riley and Long Hospitals. He replaces Roger S. Hunt who resigned for another position. Dr. Stuart A. Kleit, professor of medicine and assistant dean of clinical affairs, has been acting director.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES

Help!--Volunteer waiters and waitresses are needed to help serve dinner for the IUPUI University Theatre production of "Working." (See page one.) Besides the fun of being part of the production, you will get two complimentary tickets to the play. Call Della Pacheco, Ext. 2094.

The "BOSS" and Blood--People who register to donate during the WENS all-day blood drive on Sept. 5, from 6 a.m.-6 p.m., at corner of 11th and Meridian Streets, will get a chance to win Bruce Springsteen concert tickets.

Chemistry Seminar--Ernest Davidson, from IUB, will speak on "Structure of Some Organic Radicals and Di-Radicals," Sept. 4, 4:30 p.m., KB 231. Refreshments at 4 p.m.

Off the Wall--The IUPUI Fall Festival begins the week of Sept. 9, and for your amusement, or amazement, the ROTC will give a rappelling demonstration from the roof of the northeast side of Cavanaugh Hall on Sept. 12 from noon-1 p.m. The festival also offers music, food, comedians and more.

Remind Students--ID card replacements are available by appointment Sept. 5-6 and Sept. 9-13 from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. in CA 136. Call Ext. 4916. Update stickers for those with IDs are available all week, 8:30 a.m.-6 p.m., CA 133, and at KB 018, 9a.m.-9 p.m., Monday-Thursday, and until 7 p.m. on Fridays. For more, call 4334.

Calling All Phi Beta Kappas--The Office of Student Affairs, School of Liberal Arts, is applying for a Phi Beta Kappa chapter and is asking that all members who did not respond last spring send their name, campus address and phone, rank, department, date of appointment and tenure status to the office, CA 401.

Corrections--In earlier issues of the Green Sheet some errors were made. Lillian Charleston is Coordinator of Student Research, not assistant to the Dean of Student Services (which no longer exists). Also, Andrew Valentine is assistant to the Director of Disabled Student Services, not the coordinator of same. And, no one moved the School of Law 14 blocks to the east on New York Street as was incorrectly stated in story about Law Alumni Day on Sept. 6. Sorry.

SCIENTISTS SAY HUNTINGTON'S SIGNPOST THERE FOR SURE

The presence of a genetic marker for Huntington's Disease has been reaffirmed in a study published in the Aug. 23 issue of "Science." The project included the work of I.U. School of Medicine researcher Dr. P. Michael Conneally, professor of genetics and neurology, who collaborated on the article, along with researchers from Massachusetts General Hospital and Johns Hopkins Hospital. Discovery of the long-sought marker for inheritance of Huntington's, a progressive neurological disorder, was made public in Nov. 1983 by the IU Dept. of Medical Genetics and others. The devastating disorder is characterized by gradually worsening jerky, involuntary movements, dementia, and emotional symptoms including severe depression. Until the discovery of the gene marker, a fragment of DNA (deoxyribonucleic acid) called G8, there was no clinical test for the genetic disease. The new research confirms that the test for G8 is at least 95 percent accurate. IU established the world's first DNA bank in 1984, a step toward helping families afflicted with Huntington's and other genetic diseases. After donors give a sample of blood from which DNA is extracted, they and their relatives have a record that might help them in future decisions relating to the disease. Though the gene marker for Huntington's has now been well-established, the search for the actual gene which results in the disorder goes on. "When we find the gene, we'll be able to learn what's gone wrong with it and may be able to fix it," Dr. Conneally said. "It will take a while, but with what we now know it's certainly possible." --TW

DOROTHY WEBB, director of children's theater at IUPUI, has been selected to receive the "Special Recognition Award" from the Children's Theatre Association of America. For 15 years she has taken children's theater on tour to thousands of children (and lucky adults) all over the state. She is an associate professor of communication and theater and artistic director for University Theatre. Her award was presented during a recent convention of the American Theatre Association in Toronto. Webb is serving a two-year term as president of the Great Lakes Region of the ATA.

BOOTH NEEDS NEWS OF YOUR EVENTS

Anyone on campus planning events should tell Mike Wagoner, Student Activities, so that he can answer questions for people who come to his office or the info booth on the first floor of Cavanaugh Hall. A phone call with all the particulars will do. It's particularly important for his office to have details of meetings to which the public is invited--seminars, workshops, other events. The booth is also used to post non-emergency messages for students. To get your message to Mike, call Ext. 2782.

ICLU ANNUAL CONFERENCE HERE TO FOCUS ON INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

Current challenges to our individual freedoms will be the focus of the 1985 Indiana Civil Liberties Union (ICLU) annual conference and dinner set for campus on Sept. 14. National figures will speak on church and state, reproduction rights and other issues. People from campus who will participate include John Barlow, associate dean of the School of Liberal Arts; Carlyn Johnson, professor in the School of Public and Environmental Affairs; David Papke, assistant professor of law at the School of Law where the conference will be held, and Wayne Olson, director of the Metropolitan Campus Ministry of Indianapolis which has offices on our campus. Workshops and speeches are planned throughout the day, with dinner following in the Champions Room at the Sports Center. You are asked to register by Sept. 7, but registration can be done the day of the conference. For fees and more information, call JauNae Hanger at the ICLU, 635-4059.
