green sheet

4

volume twenty-two, number twelve

june 21, 1992

'HEALTHY BABY EXPRESS' VOLUNTEERS BEING SOUGHT

Vin which people 'adopt' a woman for the duration of her pregnancy. As 'advocate drivers,' volunteers help overcome the transportation problems that often keep women with high-risk pregnancies from making important doctor's appointments. A training session will get volunteers started on the right path, then they will be matched with women seeking help. Those interested in signing up or learning more can call 630-6188. The "Healthy Baby Express Advocate Driver" program is part of the city's Campaign for Health Babies, aimed at eliminating problems of high infant mortality rates.

SUCCESSFUL MINORITY ENGINEERING PROGRAM RETURNS FOR 17TH CURTAIN CALL

History is repeating itself for the 17th consecutive summer this year, as the School of Engineering and Technology celebrates the annual Minority Engineering Advancement Program (MEAP) well into July. More than 100 Indianapolis-area students will take part this summer, bringing the total MEAP enrollment to well over 1,200 students during the program's history. The program is designed to expose Indiana sixth- through 11th-grade minority students to engineering and its related fields, in hopes they will accept its academic challenges when they reach college age. More than 9 of 10 MEAP graduates either attend, have attended or plan to enroll in college; nearly as many (87 percent) are in engineering or related career fields. This year's students will work with computers, tour local businesses that rely on engineers, and build their own creations in a hands-on laboratory setting.

BUSY SPORTS SUMMER IN STORE ON CAMPUS

Indiana athletes, always a familiar campus sight during the summer months, will continue their seasonal invasion of IUPUI's world-renowned athletic facilities this month and during July and August. First up were the recently completed Gus Macker basketball tournament and the U.S. Diving Trials. Next up is the fourth World Masters Swimming Championships at the Natatorium, June 25-July 5. Up to 3,000 swimmers from throughout the U.S. and the world will compete in five aquatic sports, including swimming, long-distance swimming, water polo, synchronized swimming and diving. The July calendar will feature the annual NIKE basketball camp, featuring over 100 of the finest high school basketball players from across the country (July 7-12) and the finals of numerous events in the 10th annual White River Park State Games (July 17-19). The 20th annual Indianapolis-Scarborough Peace Games will wrap up the action, August 7-10. Join the crowd and share the fun.

'91-92 CIRCLE YEARBOOK ORDER DEADLINE NEARS

Orders for the 1991-92 IUPUI Circle Yearbook are due by June 29, with delivery expected by the end of October. The number of books printed will depend upon the number of copies ordered. The cost is $26 per book, with free delivery to campus offices. Off-campus delivery will cost $3.50 per book. For more, call 4-3332.

BOOKMARKS BALLOTS IN, '92-93 READING LIST SET

Need a summer literary workout but want to give your reading glasses a break? Then visit the BookMarks office (AO 139) and borrow audio cassettes of You Just Don't Understand: Men and Women in Conversation by Deborah Tannen and Voltaire's Candide, both 1992-93 BookMarks selections. Other BookMarks choices include The Mismeasure of Man by Stephen Jay Gould, Sacred Cows—and Other Edibles by Nicki Giovanni, Rachel and Her Children: Homeless Families in America by Jonathan Kozol and Malcolm X by Alex Haley. Discussion leaders are needed in September for all sessions. Those interested can call 4-4371.

MEMORIAL FUND SET UP TO HONOR LONG-TIME STAFF MEMBER

A memorial fund has been established to honor Dorothy A. Cheesman, who died recently after a prolonged illness. She served as the assistant director of admissions for more than 17 years and was an active member of numerous committees on campus, including the Metro Athletic Committee. The memorial fund was established by the Office of Admissions and the Metro Intercollegiate Athletic Foundation, and will provide an annual female intercollegiate athletic scholarship award for academic excellence. Contributions in her memory can be sent to the Metro Athletic Club, 901 W. New York St. For more, call 4-0405.

BENEFITS INFORMATION, SIGN-UP SESSIONS SCHEDULED FOR NEW FACULTY

Special sessions have been set up by the Human Resources Administration for new faculty members provide them with information about their options in benefits and sign-up procedures. The programs will begin July 8 (1-3 p.m.) in the HRA conference room (UN 340). Other dates include July 16 (9-11 a.m.), August 19 (9-11 a.m.), August 20 (1-3 p.m.) and September 3 (10 a.m.-noon), all in UN 340. Only one session is needed and reservations are available by calling 4-4596 or 4-4537.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

NO FIREWORKS—Fireworks fans planning to celebrate the Fourth of July by watching the fireworks display from the campus are asked to leave their own supply at home by Fire Protection Services. Sparklers, fountains and other types of fireworks are not permitted on campus by university policy. Otherwise, have fun watching the pros put on the show.

OPPONENT NEEDED—Racquetball players on a 'B' and 'C+' level are needed for lunch-time and after-work matches year-round. Call Russell Vertner at 4-1516.

CANOE TRIP—A canoe trip on Sugar Creek is being sponsored June 28 by the Geology Club and School of Science Student Council. The trip will include picnicking, fossil hunting, fishing and sightseeing, as well as canoeing. The cost is $5 per person. Call Rosemarie Temple at 4-0626.

RESEARCHER SOUGHT—The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology is seeking a research associate for studies on endometrial and ovarian cancers. For more about the duties and requirements, call Robert Bigsby, 4-8970.

PAPER, POSTER DEADLINE—Papers and posters are being sought for presentation at a 1993 Midwest Alliance in Nursing (MAIN) conference in Indianapolis March 4-5. The conference, "Legal and Ethical Challenges in Long-Term Care," caps a three-year program in Geriatric Education for Nurses in Long-Term Care. Submissions are due August 1. For more about topics and guidelines, call 541-3602.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT, ACTIVITIES FAIR DATES ANNOUNCED

ates for the 17th annual Student Activities Fair/Ice Cream Social and Student Employment Fair have been announced by the Student Activities Programming Board, the Student Activities Office and the Career & Employment Services Office. Both events will be held on the lawn in front of the library. The employment fair is set Sept. 1, 11 a.m.-3 p.m., and is free. Current students will have the chance to talk with prospective employers. The activities fair and ice cream social is Sept. 2, 10:45 a.m.-1 p.m., and will focus on student organizations and their activities. The Indianapolis Concert Band will perform at the fair/social. For more, call 4-3931.

GOVERNOR'S ENVIRONMENTAL CONFERENCE OPEN TO ALL

Nature Conservancy. For registration information, call (317) 232-8863.

HONORS 'N' ACCOLADES

DISTINGUISHED ALUM—James R. East, associate dean of liberal arts and head of IUPUI's innovative Weekend College and Learn & Shop programs, has been honored as a distinguished alumnus of the University of Indianapolis.

NEW PRESIDENT—Nancy Dayhoff, associate professor of nursing, has been elected president of the board of directors at Major Hospital in Shelbyville. She also is a member of the Council of Hospital Governance of the Indiana Hospital Association.

LECTURER HONORED—Lecturer Judith A. Halstead has been named the first recipient of the Lois C. Meier Teaching Excellence Award by the School of Nursing. The award recognizes a long-time faculty member who exemplified teaching and mentoring values.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS—Two faculty members, Robert M. Saywell Jr. of the School of Public and Environmental Affairs and Bill L. Martz of the School of Medicine, have been elected to three—year terms on the board of directors of Visiting Nurse Service, Inc. Saywell was re—elected to his post, while Martz is a first—time choice. The organization has provided home health service for 79 years and is a not-for-profit United Way agency.

MEDICAL STUDY SUBJECTS BEING SOUGHT

ANXIETY STUDY—People ages 18 and over who experience chronic anxiety or worry are being sought to take part in a research study by the Anxiety Disorders Center. The study is investigating the usefulness of a new medication for treating anxiety. Those chosen will receive free medical evaluation and care. For more, call 4-1205.

HYPERTENSION STUDY—People with high blood pressure who also have diabetes but control it without insulin are being sought for a sixth-month Hypertension Research Center study. Participants completing the study will be paid. Call 4-0796 and ask for drug study information, or leave a message.

PUTTING INDIANAPOLIS ON COMPUTER HEADLINES 'URBAN AGENDA'

The challenges of putting Indianapolis "on-line" will be discussed at the next session of POLIS' "Urban Agenda," July 15. Dee A. Revnyak of IMAGIS will look at the progress of the project designed to put the infrastructure of Indiana's capital city on computer. She will also focus on the hurdles and highlights of working on a project uniting the university with city government and the private sector. The "Urban Agenda" presentation will again be at the Associated Group building, 120 Monument Circle, Conference Room A, starting at noon. Coffee, tea and soft drinks are provided; brown-bag lunches are encouraged. For more, call 4-2458.

SOCIOLOGY FACULTY TACKLE PARENTAL LEAVE, IRA IN NEW BOOKS

One book with an international bent is already out and another is on the way for sociology faculty members Linda Haas and Robert White. In her new book "Equal Parenthood and Social Policy," Haas gives an overview of Sweden's model system of parental leave for both mothers and fathers of newborn babies. White's book, tentatively titled "Provisional Irish Republicans: An Oral and Interpretive History," focuses on the roots and history of the Irish Republican Army and how it exists and functions in the modern world. Both spent considerable time (from the mid-1980s on) researching their works, relying heavily on firsthand accounts from people involved.

PEIRCE PROJECT TEMPORARY HOME OF VISITING SCHOLAR/ARTIST

Australia native Christine Wertheim has joined the Peirce Edition Project as a visiting scholar through July, doing research on her doctoral thesis "Articulate Relations: A Semeiotic Analysis of the Structure of Relations and the Subject's Emergency from the Parental Forms." A painter and published author ("Peirce's Science of Signs"), Wertheim has addressed such diverse groups as the postgraduate art department at Texas Tech University and the department of computing at the University of Milan in Italy. She believes that the academic study of iconical representation will enhance her ability to create (through painting) an iconical representation of 'self.'

POLITICAL SCIENCE FACULTY FEATURED IN 'NEW WORLD ORDER' LUNCHEON SERIES

The "New World Order" brown-bag luncheon series, sponsored by the national Options program, will offer its final sessions June 23 and June 30. Political science faculty members Richard Fredland and John McCormick will lead the sessions, which focus on the fascinating issues confronting the world in the 1990s. The discussions, at the Indianapolis Power & Light Company auditorium, begin at noon. Fredland will discuss "U.S. Leadership in the New World Order" June 23, while McCormick will wrap up the series with "The European Community and Economic Integration" June 30. The Options program is designed to focus public attention on international security issues.

green sheet

*News Bureau
Indiana University-Purdue University
at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202