

SECRETARIES HONORED WITH THIRD CONFERENCE

“Secretaries Briefing,” a live videoconference for professional secretaries on campus is Apr. 25 in University Place, 1:30-4 p.m. Chris Keeley, director of Human Resources Administration, will welcome secretaries to the third conference. Among the topics will be empowerment, building better relationships, service v. satisfaction, dealing successfully with other secretaries and networking. Supervisors and directors are urged to honor their secretaries by personally inviting them to attend and participate. Sponsors are Human Resources Administration, the Staff/Faculty Relations Joint Committee and the Div. of Continuing Studies. There is no charge, but seating is limited and reservations are required by Apr. 23. To register, call 4-4501.

SOCIAL WORK INVITES ALL TO RECEPTION FOR FOREIGN GUESTS

For the 12th time, social workers from around the globe will be welcomed by the School of Social Work. A reception for them is May 1, 4-5:30 p.m. in the commons area, fourth floor, E/S. The citizens from Hungary, Japan, Norway, Poland, Russian, South Africa, Spain, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and West Germany will be here for a four-month educational, cultural and work experience on campus and throughout the community. Social Work welcomes staff, faculty and students to the reception.

LILLY ENDOWMENT FELLOWSHIP APPLICATIONS READY

Application materials are available now for the prestigious Lilly Endowment Faculty Open Fellowship. Teachers/scholars in mid-career can be awarded up to $25,000, which is meant to provide a break from academic routine to gain personal and academic enrichment. Preliminary applications are due in Research and Sponsored Programs by Oct. 1 for review by the campus faculty review panel. For details, call Ann Kratz, 4-8285.

NEW SPEAKERS' BUREAU CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS

Faculty and staff are invited to participate in the new IUPUI Faculty Speakers' Bureau on World Affairs, which is being developed by the I.U. Center for Global Studies under the auspices of an Options Special Program grant. The Bureau will focus on increasing citizen awareness of international security issues and politics. Concentration will be in presentations to churches, local high schools and other community groups. Call Kathy Sadler, 4-6999.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Beginning in June, the Green Sheet will be published twice a month, rather than weekly. Deadline remains at 5 p.m. the Tuesday before publication on June 3 and 17, July 1 and 15 and Aug. 5 and 19. (The campus calendar will be inserted once a month.) The weekly schedule resumes in September.

DENTISTRY CAPS SEOUL AGREEMENT

Plans announced last summer in the Republic of Korea to create an international agreement between the IU School of Dentistry and Yonsei University College of Dentistry in Seoul were completed during a visit to campus by Dr. Young Kyu Ryu, dean of the Korean school. He and School of Dentistry Dean William Gilmore completed the agreement which encourages faculty exchanges and collaborative research between the schools. Dean Gilmore plans to travel to Seoul later this year to further develop professional endeavors. Two of his faculty members, Dr. Kichuel K. Park, associate professor of preventive dentistry, and Dr. David R. Avery, chairman and professor of pediatric dentistry, have already lectured to dental organizations and universities in Korea. Dr. Han Won Paik, associate professor of physics at IUPUI, is president of the Yonsei University Alumni Association-Indianapolis Chapter, which supports ties between the two schools.—J. Grim

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Earth Day 1990—As you drive along Michigan Street south of the E/S Building, you may want to notice the "Tree of Life" planted last week to honor Earth Day. The 12-foot poplar, Indiana's state tree, was donated by Brehob Nursery and was planted as following poem by Stephen Sachs, professor of political science, was read: Twenty years ago we planted a seed./ Today we spread our roots deep within the earth/That the tree of life may be renewed/For all the beings of this world. Helping with the ceremony was James A. Barnes, dean of the School of Public and Environmental Affairs, who reminded us, "The earth is not given to us by our ancestors, but is borrowed from our children."

Coins for Candy—When Rita Searles' heart aches, something good usually happen and it did last week. Searles, retiree/part-timer in Telecommunications, found out that a fellow employee's daughter was "a little short" of the funds she'd need for a trip in May to NYC to sing in Carnegie Hall with selected members of the Indianapolis Children's Choir. So, Searles got permission and had an ice cream social for Candy. While the $150 that was raised is nice, Candy's mom, Mary Ellen Beckman from Telecommunications, said that the nicest thing is that her daughter has learned how much people care.

Medical Genetics—Frank H. Ruddle, Ph.D., Sterling Professor and chairman, Dept. of Biology, Yale U., presents "The Organization and Regulation of Mammalian Homeobox Genes" May 2, 4 p.m., IB 233.

For Ryan—A memorial fund for Ryan White, who died at Riley from the complications of AIDS, is in place and will support research for finding a cure for the disease. Donations can be made to the IU Foundation with a note saying it is for the Ryan White Fund. Write checks to the IU Foundation and mail to IP 241.

Reminder—Person-to-Person preview night for all of us is Apr. 23, 6-8 p.m. in University Place. The event is Apr. 24-25, and will provide contact with potential students who will be matched to volunteer staff and faculty in order to learn about IUPUI.

Tell Students—Minority students who excell in high school academics and who enroll at IUPUI have until May 4 to apply for a program on campus that offers five $2,000 renewable scholarships for tuition, and other scholarships. Call 4-4591 for more. Also, for the first time, academically outstanding part-time students at IUPUI are invited to join the national scholastic honorary, "Alpha Sigma Lambda-Zeta Chi chapter. Miriam Langsam, director of the Honors Program, is chapter adviser. The campus' first induction ceremony is May 16, 7 p.m., University Place.

Caring for Children

CONFERENCE FOCUSES ON BETTER HEALTH/LIFE FOR LITTLE PEOPLE Nurses, doctors, social workers, day care workers, educators and other professionals who deal with young children and their families will meet May 8 at University Place to hear pediatric specialists from Harvard, Duke and Boston Universities discuss problems that include drug-addicted infants, sleep disorders and behavioral problems, to name a few. Keynote speaker is T. Berry Brazelton, M.D., child psychiatrist and pediatrician from Harvard Medical School. Faculty and staff from Riley, Nursing and Medicine helped plan the conference, "Working with Families of Infants and Toddlers: Issues of the 90s." Sponsors are Community Hospitals and Riley, with assistance from US Air and the Indiana Chapter of March of Dimes. For more, call Gwen Lombard, 630-6434.

RICHTER CONFERENCE ON CHILDREN AS VICTIMS AND WITNESSES Physicians and lawyers will be attending the 13th annual Arthur B. Richter conference in Child Psychiatry Apr. 27 at University Place. Entitled "Young Children in Court/Children as Victims/Witnesses," the conference will concentrate on the state of knowledge in regard to children's capacities to perceive, recall and accurately relate what happened if they have been victims of crimes. Also, Stephen J. Ceci, Ph.D., professor in the Dept. of Human Development and Family Studies at Cornell University, will be honored as the 1990 Arthur B. Richter Visiting Professor in Child Psychiatry. School of Medicine faculty will participate.

MORE NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

Law Hours--So that students may study for exams, the Law Library has set special hours Apr. 23-May 21. It opens early in the morning and stays open to 11:30 p.m. or midnight. For exact hours, call the library, 4-4026.

Need Student Workers--May 1 is the deadline for students to apply to work as paraprofessional peer helpers for the New Student Orientation Program, sponsored by the Office of Orientation and Information Services. Work-study students and others can apply. Will work 10-25 flexible hours June-Aug. Call Jack Rhodes, 4-4240.

Women's Health--Next in the brown bag OB/GYN Dept. series is Dr. Patricia Keener presenting "Babysitters--How to Choose the Best for Your Child," Apr. 30, 11 a.m.-noon, UH N436.

White Houser--C. Gregg Petersmeyer, director of the White House Office of National Service, spoke Apr. 20 on campus and in the city. The title of his luncheon speech, given on campus was, "The President's Strategy for the Points of Light Initiative." The occasion was the campus' Spirit of Philanthropy luncheon during which schools and divisions honored individuals and groups who have contributed to the betterment of the campus.

Look On-Line--News about IU's new travel business policies will be on the on-line bulletin board of two University Computing System networks. Until July 1, Omega World Travel will remain the single agency to arrange travel for university people. After that, Jackie Case of Travel Management Services informs us that more than one agency will be eligible for selection as the designated agency. For more, call Jackie, 4-7960.

STEINMETZ IS SOCIAL WORK SPEAKER

IUPUI professor Suzanne K. Steinmetz, a leading expert in family violence, will give the keynote address for the annual meeting of the Alumni Association of the School of Social Work, May 3, 4-6:30 p.m. Steinmetz is professor of sociology and director of the Family Research Project at IUPUI. She is considered a founder of the field of study of family violence and the first scholar to bring the problem of elder abuse to the public by way of her congressional testimony on the subject in 1978. For reservations, call 4-8828.

SUMMER SYMPOSIUM FOR SERIOUS MONEY RAISERS The IU Center on Philanthropy is offering a summer symposium for those who mean business when they raise money. Set for June 6-8, the symposium will focus on such topics as ethics and values of fund raising, professionalization of fund raising and more. For fees and to register, call 4-4200.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE DEAN FOR RESEARCH, nurse researcher, School of Nursing. Responsible for leadership in research and scholarship on all eight IU campuses, oversee strategic planning as it relates to research mission and more. Requires earned doctorate, nursing major preferred, and master's in nursing. Prefer academic administrative experience at senior level at IU School of Nursing. Send letter, resume and three references to Dean Constance Baker, School of Nursing, 610 Barnhill Dr., Indianapolis 46202. Call 4-3796.

CHAIRMAN, Dept. of Medicine, tenure-track position in School of Medicine. Must be board certified internist with experience in medical education, research and administration. Send CV and references to T.K. Li, M.D., Chairman, Search and Screen Committee, School of Medicine, Fesler Hall 302, 1120 South Drive, Indianapolis 46202.

(IUPUI is an AA/EO Employer)

FINALLY...

...belated kudos to some new appointees. Barbara Atkinson has joined our award-winning Automotive Safety for Children Program as an education specialist in charge of coordinating the preschool education program, "Buckle Up Time." Psychiatric Services for Riley Hospital has two additional child psychiatrists, Gina Laite, clinical assistant professor of psychiatry, and Matthew Galvin, clinical assistant professor of psychiatry. ...some changes have been made in the staff of Accounting Records and Services. Harold Fenley retired and Charles Miller was made assistant director-general accounting and has a new phone number, 4-5002. Aline Danielson replaces Miller as assistant to the director-accounts payable, and her phone number is 4-5003.

...Larue (small r, one word) Carter Hospital has won a three-year accreditation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations. Medical Director Dr. Iver Small congratulated hospital personnel, and said, "accreditation assures patients and students of psychiatry that they receive good care and training from us."

green sheet

*News Bureau
Indiana University - Purdue University
at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202