

ISRAEL'S POSITION TO BE CLARIFIED --

TWO SCHOOLS OF THOUGHT PRESENTED

On Behalf of Peace . . .

"Is Peace Possible in the Middle East?" will be the subject of a free public address by Meir Pa'il, former member of the Israeli parliament, outspoken proponent of peace in the Middle East, and a representative of the "Peace Now" movement in Israel, to be presented at 7:30 p.m. next Monday, March 7, in Room 100 of the Lecture Hall.

Co-sponsors of the address are the IUPUI Progressive Student Union and the New Jewish Agenda.

A former colonel in the Israeli Defense Force, Pa'il specializes in military history at the University of Tel Aviv. In a recently published article on the war in Lebanon, he wrote "soldiers and civilians are gradually beginning to suspect that they and their loved ones were sent to battle not to defend necessary national interests, but to further the internal political status of their leaders."

Speaking for the Military . . .

Lt. Col. Aryeh Ben-Kish, a tank battalion commander in the Israel defense forces, will discuss why Israel went into Lebanon, Israel's "security imperative," and issues involving the West Bank, during a free public lecture to be given at noon March 7 in the Porter Room of the Union Building.

Entitled "Israel's Operation: Peace for Galilee and Lebanon," his lecture has been arranged by the Consulate General of Israel in Chicago and is sponsored by a new Israeli student organization at IUPUI headed by Yzhak Reuben, an Israeli student in the University Division.

Ben-Kish, according to Reuben, represents and will defend Israel's formal government line. "We want to bring a balance to reporting of the events involving Israel. The whole truth has not been addressed by the U.S. media," Reuben said.

Born in Jerusalem, Ben-Kish attended the military board school in Tel Aviv, and joined the defense forces at the age of 19.

DRAWINGS OF SPORTS FACILITIES AVAILABLE

A limited edition of prints of drawings of the School of Physical Education/Natatorium Building, Track and Field Stadium, Softball Fields, and the Indianapolis Sports Center, has been produced by noted Indianapolis Artist K. P. Singh. They are on display and may be purchased in the bookstores in Cavanaugh Hall and the Union Building.

At IUPUI, Singh previously drew the I.U. School of Law-Indianapolis and the Indiana University hospitals. For more information contact the Bookstores, ext. 7874.

OPPORTUNITY FOR FAMILIES TO HOST FOREIGN VISITORS

Host families are needed for 15 foreign social workers from as many countries when they arrive in Indianapolis April 27 as part of a 15-week cultural and professional exchange program sponsored by the School of Social Work at IUPUI and the Council of International Programs. Host families help participants interpret American culture and life styles and provide a sense of family and community. Families may volunteer during one or more of three scheduled periods. The five-week periods start May 1, June 5 and July 10. The program ends Aug. 13.

Families wishing to participate must be able to provide a private room, weekday morning and evening meals, and weekend meals for their guests.

For more information and application forms, contact Eve Perlstein, committee chairman, 846-6806, or David Metzger, program chairman and assistant professor at the School of Social Work, ext. 7405. A profile and photo of the 15 social workers will be sent with the application.

MANIFOLD WINS HINE AWARD

Civic leader and Hoosier physician Dr. Harold M. Manifold, who has practiced medicine for 34 years in the state, will receive the Maynard K. Hine Award from the Indiana University Alumni Association at the 10th Annual Leadership Banquet to be held March 9 in the Hoosier Room of the Union Building. A reception is at 6:30 p.m.; dinner at 7:30 p.m.

The Hine Medal was first bestowed in 1974 and recognizes unique and significant contributions to the development of the Indianapolis campus.

Since his graduation from the I.U. School of Medicine in 1945, Dr. Manifold has been a "pioneer in developing family medicine as a specialty. He has worked tirelessly to promote continuing education in medicine, and has been a leader in the Indiana State Medical Association," said Dr. Steven C. Beering, dean of the medical school.

DEAN SOUGHT FOR I.U. SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Position includes responsibility for all departments, divisions, centers and institutes within the School of Medicine and all components of the Indiana State-wide System for Medical Education. Applicant should have an M.D. degree, academic and administrative experience, and be qualified for faculty appointment. Demonstrated achievements in teaching, research and administration are desirable.

Applications or nominations should be received by April 4. A resume and the names, addresses and telephone numbers of at least three references should accompany qualifications. Address all correspondence to Morris Green, M.D., chairman, Search and Screen Committee, Department of Pediatrics, I.U. School of Medicine, 702 Barnhill Drive, Indianapolis 46223. Indiana University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action educator, employer and contractor.

BLOOD COLLECTION SCHEDULED

The next in a year-long series of blood donation campaigns at IUPUI will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m. next Monday (March 7) at the School of Nursing. Appointments for donating are encouraged and may be made by calling Andrea at ext. 2806.

All IUPUI personnel, faculty and staff members as well as students, are urged to participate in the blood collection, which is conducted by the Central Indiana Regional Blood Center on behalf of all Central Indiana hospitals.

MINI-CALENDAR

WAG to Meet -- The Women Administrator's Group will meet 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. Monday in the Porter Room of the Union Building. A discussion, "Women and the Political Process," will feature June Shassere, Carlyn Johnson and Margo Lyon.

Pharmaceutical -- Pharmacy displays at University Hospital this week are Organon, Monday; Searle Labs, Tuesday; Hoechst Roussel, Wednesday; Breon, Thursday, and Parke Davis, Friday. Glaxo will display at Riley Hospital on Wednesday.

Staff Council -- Members of the Executive Committee of the Staff Council will meet at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday on the Mezzanine Floor of the Union Building.

Physics Seminar -- "Radical Pair Interactions in Photosynthetic and Model Systems," Physics Department Seminar by Dr. Marion Thurnauer, Chemistry Division, Argonne National Laboratory; 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, Room 127, Krannert Science Building, 38th Street campus.

Microbiology and Immunology Seminar -- "HLA-D Region Antigens - Structure, Function and Genetics," Department of Microbiology and Immunology Seminar by Dr. J. Donald Capra, professor of microbiology and internal medicine, University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas; noon Wednesday, Room 205, Medical Science Building.

Free Lecture -- Vera Piasenski from the Special Education Institute at Porto Alegre, Brazil, will give a free slide and lecture presentation on "The State of Special Education in Brazil" at noon Thursday in the Roof Lounge of the Union Building. The lecture is sponsored by the IUPUI Office of International Programs.

Physiology Seminar -- "Correlation between Morphology and Function of Phrenic Motoneurons," Physiology Department Seminar by Dr. William E. Cameron, Department of Physiology and Biophysics, University of Washington School of Medicine; 4 p.m. Thursday, Room 205, Medical Science Building.

Learning Resources Workshops -- Two workshops are being offered 9 a.m.-noon or 1-4 p.m. Friday in ES 2105 by the Office of Learning Resources. The workshops will examine teaching styles and techniques which influence the quality of classroom discussion with emphasis on the instructor as manager of discussion. Pre-registration is necessary. Call Patricia Van Noy, ext. 7442. There is a maximum of 20 and a minimum of 10 for each session.

Medical Genetics/Ethics Conference -- A conference designed to introduce clergy to medical genetics and ethical problems encountered in this field will be held March 7 and 8 at the Essex Hotel. The conference is open to any interested individual. Contact Dr. David D. Weaver, Department of Medical Genetics, ext. 2241, or Dr. James F. Smurl, Department of Religious Studies, ext. 7394, for more information and registration forms.

Volleyball Entries Due March 8 -- Deadline for all intramural power volleyball entries is 5 p.m. March 8, when completed forms must be turned in at Room 062 in the School of Physical Education/Natatorium Building. Divisions are being formed for men's and women's teams. For additional information contact Jeff Vessely, director, Intramural and Recreational Sports, ext. 2824.

Child Development Seminar -- "Educational Problems in Children with Common Congenital Anomalies," Riley Child Development Program Seminar by Dr. Marilyn J. Bull, associate professor of pediatrics and director of the Newborn Follow-up Program at the I.U. School of Medicine; 3:30 p.m. March 10, Meiks Conference Room, Riley Hospital A579.

NEWS 'N' NOTES FROM HERE 'N' THERE

No Break at the Half -- When you are watching the I.U.-Illinois basketball match Saturday (March 5), don't take that usual half-time break. Or at least stick to your TV sets long enough to catch the "I.U. Halftime" program because Riley Hospital will be the "star" of this intermission. Stay tuned long enough to catch a glimpse of "home."

Lunch and Learn -- It's not too late to register for the Continuing Studies University Lunch and Learn Club. Four-session tickets are still available for those interested in selecting from among the remaining seven lectures. Topics to be covered include "Science for Non-Scientists," "Science Fiction," "Creative Thinking," "New Perspectives on Management of People," "Getting to the Future Before It Gets to Us," "The Role of Women in History," and "Six Questions About Peace." The club meets at noon Wednesdays in the Union Building. To register or for information call Continuing Studies, ext. 3836. Fee for four sessions is $25.

Family Recreation -- The School of Physical Education's instructional pool, conditioning/exercise room, and the main gymnasium (one court) will be made available to family members of recreational fee payers on Sunday, March 6; Sunday, March 20, and Sunday, March 27, between 1 and 5 p.m. This does not affect the regular schedule and no advance registration is required. Recreation fee payers must register their family members upon arrival. For more information call Jeff Vessely, ext. 2824.

Beware! -- A man identifying himself as a researcher affiliated with the psychology department in the Purdue University School of Science has been annoying women with a telephone questionnaire regarding sexual preferences and attitudes. There is no project of this sort under way, the calls are fraudulent and should be reported to the proper authorities. Alert your friends.

Moved -- The University Division H.E.L.P. Program has moved to Cavanaugh Hall, Room 332. Office phone numbers remain ext. 2666 and 2667.

Desperate -- Ride desperately needed from Rt. 37 Martinsville to the Medical Center 8 to 5 Monday through Friday. Ext. 7421.

Positions Available -- Riley Camp for Physically Handicapped Youth is seeking registered nurses to work two-week camp sessions. See the Feb. 6 Green Sheet, page 4, for more details.

Pet Parade -- Belgian Shepherd/Husky female puppies, 8 weeks old. Call Ann at ext. 8285. . . . Male Beagle, 8 months old, needs home. Call 632-3253 after 5:30 p.m. or weekends or 392-5156 (Crawfordsville).

HONORS & ACCOLADES

David Rubins, professor emeritus at the Herron School of Art, was one of six Hoosier recipients of the biennial presentation of the Indiana Arts Awards at a public ceremony Feb. 16 in the State Capitol rotunda.

Janet W. Griffith, Ph.D., R.N., attended the First Annual Nurse Educator's Research Conference in San Francisco, Jan. 19-21, where she presented a paper on "Competencies of Baccalaureate Nurse Graduates in the Employment Setting."

Dr. Roscoe Miller, distinguished professor of radiology, is co-author of another book, The Radiological Examination of the Colon, published by Martinus Nijhoff in The Hague, The Netherlands.

Dr. Cyrus S. Behroozi, professor of Social Work, has been appointed to a national task force to develop guidelines for the new accreditation standards adopted by the Council on Social Work Education.

Ann Marriner, R.N., Ph.D., and Patricia J. Blake, R.N., Ed.D., both faculty members of the School of Nursing, have published an article in R.N. for Managers, January, 1983, "Tricks for Managing Your Own Time."

Matthew J. Mick, a sophomore medical student, has won the national competition for the Saul R. Korey Basic Research Award for medical students made annually by the American Academy of Neurology. He works with Shirley M. Mueller, M.D., Departments of Neurology and Physiology, on research on the autonomic nervous system and vascular reactivity.

The Honors Program has awarded Summer Faculty Fellowships for 1983 to Ain Haas (Sociology) and Steve Sachs (Political Science), a joint award; Judy Martin (School of Nursing), Jan Shipps (Religious Studies/History), and Richard Wyma (Chemistry). The fellowships will assist these faculty members in developing Honors courses to be offered next year.

Andrew Valentine Jr., assistant to the director of Handicapped Student Services, will serve for a second year on the Mayor's Advisory Council for the Handicapped. The mayor also appointed him to serve on the council's five-member executive board.

Marshall C. Yovits, dean of the School of Science, has been elected a Fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers "for leadership in the field of computer science and education." Given by the Board of Directors, this is the highest grade of membership in the IEEE.

Mark Allan Thompson, IUPUI junior, was judged a finalist in the American College Theater Festival competition for Region 3-east held at South Bend. He will compete in national finals in Washington, D.C., in March. In South Bend he competed against 40 other acting students from colleges and universities in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

Seven students at the I.U. School of Law-Indianapolis have won Forrest E. Jump Memorial Scholarships covering all expenses. They are Mary Beth Irwin, John O'Neal Perrin, John R. Talley, Karl P. Haas, Mark R. Galliher, Steven K. Huffer and Brian C. Hewitt.

Dr. Jan Williams of the Pharmacy Department has been invited to speak at the National Institute sponsored by the American Society of Hospital Pharmacists on March 16 in Louisville, Ky. Her topic will be "Drug Distribution/Control and Administrative and Financial Considerations of Handling Investigational Drugs in Hospitals." Dr. Bonnie Klank, also of the Pharmacy Department, will accompany her.

Stanley Burford, associate professor at the Herron School of Art, has had her cast handmade paper piece, Surf and Shells II, selected for the 4th Annual Paper in Particular National Exhibition at Columbia College, Columbia, Mo. During the summer of 1982, Mrs. Burford received a Learning Resources grant to attend Paper Intensive at Oxbow, Saugatuck, Mich., and is developing curriculum and establishing a hand papermaking facility at the Herron School of Art.

Lillian Stokes of the School of Nursing was elected secretary of Girls Clubs of Greater Indianapolis, Ind., at its annual meeting in January.

Dr. Ned B. Hornback, professor and chairman, Department of Radiation Oncology, spoke on "Treatment of Uterine Sarcoma" and conducted a workshop on the clinical applications of hyperthermia in cancer management at the 35th Annual Los Angeles Midwinter Oncology Conference Feb. 4-6.

Wendy Wiseman, Hospital Relations, received a certificate of merit for I.U. Hospitals' new patient handbook from the Indianapolis chapter of the International Association of Business Communicators.

Debbie Blackwell, research coordinator for the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, has been selected as a consultant for the Community Clinical Oncology Program (CCOP) by the Grants Review Branch of the National Cancer Institute and will serve on one of three ad hoc panels to review grant applications. She will be responsible for reviewing applications from an administrative/data management standpoint. She was in Washington, D.C., for orientation in December and was to return this month for the formal review of the applications.

Edmund Byrne, professor and chairman of the Department of Philosophy, has had several articles published: "Law as Technology Assessment," in Research in Philosophy Technology, Vol. 5, ed. P. Durbin, Greenwich, Conn., JAI Press, 1982; "Can Government Regulate Technology?" in Boston Studies in the Philosophy of Science and, in German translation, in Technikphilosophie in der Diskussion, ed. P. Durbin and F. Rapp, Wiesbaden, Vieweg, 1982; "The Adversary System: Who Needs It?" in Ethics and the Legal Profession, ed. F. Elliston, New York, Prometheus, 1983. Professor Byrne also has presented a paper on "Robots and the Future of Work" at conferences in Louisville, South Bend, and Indianapolis.

Paul L. Brink, assistant dean of the School of Engineering and Technology, was recently presented with an award from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for his professional contributions and efforts during the 1982 ACT/SO Science Fair Competition for the Minority Engineering Advancement Program. ACT/SO stands for the Afro-Academic Cultural Technological Scientific Olympics, and is a special NAACP educational competition designed to encourage, discover, develop and reward academic achievements among minority high school students.

green sheet

*News Bureau
Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis
355 Lansing Street
Indianapolis, Indiana 46202

(MATT-720118)

JEANNETTE MATTHEW
LIBRARIAN, SCHOOL OF LIBERAL ARTS
420 BLAKE STREET