Stache Bash
IUSM-South Bend students and faculty were a little hairier last month as they helped raise funds through "Stache Bash."

This week, "Sound Medicine" interviews Aaron Cohen-Gadol, M.D., a surgeon at the IU School of Medicine, about his work performing innovative brain surgeries, such as removing tumors through the nose. Other topics include cholesterol-lowering medications for healthy people, periodontal disease as a predictor for diabetes and a tribute to the father of epidemiology.
