Office of Faculty Affairs

VOLUME 10 ISSUE 8

AUGUST 2022

From the Desk of the ADFA

As I write my first issue of the Office of Faculty Affairs newsletter, I cannot help but reflect on my first 6 weeks as the Associate Dean of Faculty Affairs and my hopes for the future. I arrived on June 6, welcomed by open arms of the faculty and staff at IUSD. I cannot overemphasize the overwhelming support I have felt as I begin to learn more about this School of Dentistry.

This summer has been a time filled with activities. Several faculty searches came to a successful conclusion; several faculty transitioned to new appointments, ongoing searches continued reviewing prospective candidates, and several new searches started, all in an effort to provide support for the educational, research, and service mission of the school. Around seven new faculty hires have occurred this summer. Welcome to all who have joined us.

We had two changes in appointments to leadership positions. Professor Michelle Priest, director of the Dental Assisting Program at IUSD on the IUPUI campus, was promoted from lecturer to clinical assistant professor. Dr. Wei-Shao Lin, whom had been serving as the interim chair, was appointed the Chair of Prosthodontics. Please join me in congratulating them on all their well-deserved appointments.

On June 21-23, 2022, IUSD had its first summer Faculty Development Program planned by Dr. Laura Romito and Professor Gail Williamson. The 2 ½ day event was the culmination of student feedback. Faculty from throughout the curriculum shared their teaching and assessment practices in three broad topics; 1) course content, format and organization on Canvas, 2) examination construction and exam review practices, and 3) communication with students. Following their presentations, the panelists, Drs. Dutra, Wong, Galli, Kirkup, Kramer, Ritchie, Shin, Warner, and Ziemba, answered audience questions. The Office of Academic Affairs (Dr. Romito and Mr. Fry) has created a Canvas site for faculty, which they unveiled during the Faculty Development program.

The afternoon provided participants the opportunity to explore educational approaches to build their Canvas course sites (Ms. Amaya, Mr. Fry, and Dr. Zahl), active learning strategies (Drs. Jerolimov and Ritchie), clinical application of foundational knowledge and evidence-based dentistry (Drs. Platt, Scully, and Professor Stone), and clinical feedback strategies and techniques (Drs. Longtin and Torbeck). Test item development, analysis and examsoft tools (Dr. Romito, Mr. Gaunke and Ms. Beach) along with understanding and creating an inclusive learning environment in the classroom and clinic were the themes of the second day. Community engagement (Dr. Soto), international scholar appointments (Dr. Martinez-Meir), and conflict of interest/conflict of commitment (Mr. Jensen and Drs. Applegate and Murdoch-Kinch) and compliance (Ms. Rogers) rounded out the third day. The program was wonderfully successful and I'd like to acknowledge all the speakers for their part in its success.

In the coming months, to align the School of Dentistry with university policy UA-17, IUSD will be updating policy and restructuring clinical faculty contracts to comply with the conflict of commitment policies. Dean Murdoch-Kinch has indicated that she plans to ensure the faculty "remain whole" and that "salaries will not be negatively impacted due to the restructuring." Professor Gail Williamson will be working with a committee to develop policy and determine the structuring of the contracts. There will be more information to come as the committee align the policy conflicts and as issues are resolved.

As I look to the future, over the next few months, I will be continuing to learn more about IUSD, talking to faculty to hear what they feel their needs are for faculty development, and will begin to develop plans for future programs. Planning for the Faculty Convocation/Calibration (August 15) and the Teaching conference (October 20-21) are well underway.

Save the Date—IUSD New Faculty Orientation

Calling all new IUSD Faculty! Be on the lookout in your email for an invitation to our New Faculty Orientation. Details are still being finalized, but the Orientation will be held on Wednesday, September 14, 2022. Contact our office with any questions, and we hope to see you there!

Faculty Development Opportunities

There are many opportunities for professional development during the month of August. The following list of programs were selected from various resources on the IUPUI Campus including the Office of Academic Affairs (AA), the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL), the Office for Women (OFW), the Indiana University School of Medicine, Office of Faculty and Professional Development (OFAPD), the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research (OVCR) and the IUSD Office of Continuing Education. Campus programs are at no cost to faculty.

F2f: Faculty-to-Faculty Mentoring Dialogues

You are invited to participate in the f2f: Faculty-to-Faculty Mentoring Dialogues sponsored by the Midwest Experiences in Mentoring Excellence initiative.

Upcoming sessions will be held on August 17 and 18, 2022, from 9 a.m. – 1 p.m. EST on both days.

These dialogues help faculty strengthen their mentoring of other faculty in STEM fields through discussion and sharing of best practices across disciplinary and institutional lines. The content reflects the Center for Improvement of Mentored Experiences in Research (CIMER) Entering Mentoring training.

Topics covered include Maintaining Effective Communication; Aligning Expectations; Assessing Understanding; Addressing Equity and Inclusion; Fostering Independence; and Promoting Professional Development. The training attests to the importance of intercultural competency in faculty mentorship.

IUSD Canvas News

The IUSD Office of Education and Academic Affairs (OEAA) is proud to announce the creation of a Canvas site solely dedicated to supporting teaching and learning in the School of Dentistry.

The OEAA Faculty Resources Canvas site uses a standardized course template as an example of how a Canvas site could be created using best practices for course design. This Canvas site is based on a modules concept of content delivery, which enhances learning and improves outcomes. The modules in the Canvas site are organized thematically and include easy to use instructions for getting started with Canvas, course design resources & templates (including the current syllabus template), essential tech resources, teaching and learning resources, specific course director and faculty resources for IUSD, and the complete session recordings of the 2022 IUSD Professional Development Program.

All faculty and course support staff should have received an invitation to join the Canvas course as a student to demonstrate the student experience in Canvas. To provide the most up-to-date content, the OEAA Faculty Resources site will be continually revised and updated. Suggestions for content are both welcomed and desired as the OEAA strives to support teaching excellence.

Please contact Jeremy Fry, Instructional Tech Consultant, (fryjer@iu.edu) with any questions or concerns.

Dr. Shukla Receives Grant

Congratulations to Dr. Anubhuti Shukla, Assistant Professor, Cariology, Operative Dentistry, and Dental Public Health, on receiving a HRSA grant for her work in community-based dental education.

This is the first HRSA grant awarded to Dr. Shukla, who also serves as the Director of Community-Based Dental Education at IUSD.

The project, entitled “Reducing Disparities in Oral Health Access for the Most Vulnerable and Underserved in Rural Indiana,” had IUSD co-investigators that included Drs. E. Angeles Martinez-Mier, Armando Soto, Allison Scully, Brian Sanders, and Pamela Linder.

The project team housed at the Indiana University School of Dentistry in collaboration with Indiana Department of Health will design a collaborative community intervention to improve future dental workforce competence and capacity, thereby improving access to oral health services, especially for identified vulnerable, rural underserved population of Indiana. The project will involve curricular assessments to evaluate the current knowledge gaps in predoctoral dental student (DDS) curriculum with regards to treating the complex oral health needs of the specific population subgroups. The total budget for the project is over two million dollars.

Dr. Zero Awarded

Congratulations to Dr. Domenick Zero, Professor, Cariology, Operative Dentistry, and Dental Public Health, who was awarded the Yngve Ericsson Prize at the 69th Congress of the European Organisation for Caries Research. The Yngve Ericsson Prize is awarded once every three years in acknowledgement of outstanding contributions to prevention of oral diseases.

Established in 1963, The Swedish Patent Revenue Fund for Research in Preventive Odontology was originally founded on royalties from patents, primarily patents for addition of fluoride to dentifrices to prevent or arrest dental caries. The Fund is the largest non-public granting source for dental research in Sweden through its continued support of research into prevention of dental and oral diseases. This international Prize is named in honor of its founder and major donator, professor Yngve Ericsson, one of the founders of ORCA. The Prize is awarded to persons who have performed outstanding laboratory or clinical research that has contributed specifically to the prevention of dental and oral disease. Candidates are judged on the originality, quality and range of their scientific contributions as well as the range and clinical importance of the results.

Congratulations Dr. Zero on this well deserved accomplishment!

Faculty News

Dr. Kelton Stewart, IUSD's department chair for Orthodontics and Oral Facial Genetics, recently visited Meharry Medical College School of Dentistry as an outreach to impart to students what programs such as his department are looking for in applicants and strategies students can use to distinguish themselves in the residency application process. The program, titled "Bridging the Gap," was a 3.5 hour event attended by 31 students. Featured with him in the photo are (in the middle) Meharry's Dr. Julie Gray, associate dean for Community-Based Collaboration and (on the left) resident Remington Richardson.

Dr. Kenneth Spolnik, chair for IUSD's department of Endodontics, announced last month the Roudebush Veterans Administration Medical Center Endo-dontic, Periodontal and General Practice Residency programs passed accreditation without any recommendations! Congratulations to all of the teams involved, including Adam Smith (director, Facilities Planning & Auxiliary Operations, IUSD) and his team(s). The graduate endodontic clinic in the Fritts Clinical Care Center was "spotless" in more ways than one.

IUSD's newest faculty member to become board certified in Periodontology and obtain diplomate status in the American Board of Periodontology is Dr. Chandni Batra, clinical assistant professor in the department of Periodontology. Dr. Batra, an alumna of IUSD (MSD, Periodontology, 2021) joined the department as a visiting faculty member in July 2021. Through a competitive open search process she was recruited to her current position and began that appointment in July 2022. She completed an MDS in Periodontics at Vokkaligara Sangha Dental College and Hospital (Bangalore, India) and her BDS at Manipal College of Dental Sciences (Mangalore, India).

History-making for both IUSD and the state of Indiana was the issuance of Indiana's first Dental Hygiene license to an internationally-trained dental hygienist. Congratulations to recipient Dr. Hadeel Ayoub! In sharing her update and acknowledgement of several individuals who supported her, Dr. Ayoub said, "I am so proud of this nine-year journey. Hopefully I [have] now paved the way for more professionals to do it in an easier way, and a much shorter time." Dr. Ayoub is a visiting assistant professor within the Dental Hygiene Program in the Division of Allied Dental Education at our Fort Wayne campus.

Faculty Transitions

In July IUSD extended warm wishes and sad goodbyes to two colleagues who have made special contributions to the mission and vision of their units and our school. Ina McBean joined IUSD in 2010 to serve as program coordinator of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion. In the nearly 12 years that followed, her consistent exemplary commitment, professionalism, and care toward our students, staff and faculty were foundational to her advancement first to the role of director of Diversity and Enrichment (2016) and then to assistant dean of Diversity and Student Success (2019). Her exceptional service resulted in her being the 2021 recipient of the IUPUI Multicultural Impact Staff Award, a campus-wide recognition granted to "outstanding" champions of social justice work, particularly through "extraordinary contributions." Assistant Dean McBean's final working day on campus was July 26, 2022.

On July 31, 2022, Dr. Simone Duarte, officially concluded just over four years of service to IUSD as an associate professor in the department of Cariology, Operative Dentistry and Dental Public Health. During those years, she successfully transferred from clinical track to tenure-track. Moreover, she received 1) a more than $448,000 NIDCR/NIH (R21) grant, 2) a funding award of nearly $77,400 through IUSD's Post-Doctoral Research Award Program, and 3) a $33,753 Research Support Funds Grant, among other grant awards. Earlier this year Dr. Duarte was IUSD's 2022 recipient of the tenure-track/tenured Trustees Teaching Award, an award granted to faculty who have had a positive impact on learning through the direct teaching of students. Among other criteria, award recipients must have demonstrated a sustained level of teaching excellence in the form of documented student learning.

Dr. Anderson Hara, a full professor in the department of Cariology, Operative Dentistry and Dental Public Health, on July 1, 2022, became the IU School of Dentistry's new director of the Oral Health Research Institute. His new responsibilities include updating the Oral Health Research Institute's strategic plan, including action steps and metrics for measuring success to reflect current and future needs; establishing an external advisory board comprised of representatives from industry, academia, the university, and the community who can provide guidance and advice regarding future directions for OHRI; and defining the identity and brand for OHRI as a fully integrated research program and core facility within IUSD that builds upon its well-established reputation for excellence, customer service and integrity.

IU Award Nominations Open

Several prestigious University awards are available for qualified faculty. Nominations must be submitted electronically and are due by Friday, October 6, 2022 at 5:00 pm along with supporting documentation.

The available University-level awards include:

⇒ Distinguished Professorship: The most prestigious academic appointment IU can offer is a Distinguished Professorship. The rank of distinguished professor recognizes the most exceptional and renowned faculty in the areas of research and creative activity. It is awarded to faculty in recognition of outstanding scholarship, artistic or literary distinction. Distinguished Professors have achieved national and international prominence within their field of study through election into disciplinary and national or international academic societies, extensive external funding, and high impact research publications or artistic contributions. Nominations may be made by faculty, alumni, and students, among others, and are evaluated by a committee. Self-nominations are not accepted. If you are successfully nominated, you will need to prepare a dossier.

⇒ Distinguished Teaching Awards: These awards recognize those members of the IU faculty who have excelled in classroom engagement, pedagogy, and curriculum development. Recipients of these award will receive a one-time supplemental pay of $7,500. Four teaching awards are granted to regular faculty members. The Frederic Bachman Lieber Memorial Award is available to all full-time faculty, regardless of rank or title, who have taught for a minimum of five years at Indiana University. The Herman Frederic Lieber Memorial Award is available to all full-time faculty, regardless of rank or title, who have taught for a minimum of five years at Indiana University. The President's Award for Distinguished Teaching recognizes faculty who represent excellence in teaching across the university's campuses, school, and departments with individuals from every campus having received the award over the years. The dedication and life's work of these outstanding educators have impacted generations of Hoosiers throughout the state. The award is available to all full-time faculty, regardless of rank or title, who have taught for a minimum of five years at Indiana University. The Sylvia E. Bowman Award honors faculty who teach various aspects of American culture. The award recognizes the distinguished impact of faculty in their discipline, with their students, and on American society. The committee will only consider full time faculty, regardless of rank or title, who have taught for a minimum of five years at Indiana University.

⇒ Teaching Awards: There are also additional teaching awards granted by the University. The Lieber Memorial Associate Instructor Award recognizes distinguished teaching by IU graduate students with an appointment as an associate instructor. Nominees must have at least two years of appointment as an associate instructor. Recipients of this award will receive a one-time supplemental pay of $2,500. The Part-time Teaching Award recognizes distinguished teaching among part-time faculty members. Professionals who hold full-time positions outside of Indiana University and teach part-time play a significant role in the education of students. Nominees must hold a part-time academic appointment for at least six semesters (consecutive or non-consecutive). Awardees are chosen from nomination. Recipients of this award will receive a one-time supplemental pay of $4,000. The Thomas Ehrlich Civically Engaged Faculty Award recognizes faculty members who have distinguished themselves through exemplary civically engaged scholarship and teaching, including leadership in advancing students' civic learning, conducting community-based research, fostering reciprocal community partnerships, building institutional commitments to service-learning and civic engagement, and other means of enhancing higher education's contribution to the public good. Nominees must be full-time faculty, regardless of rank or title, with at least 5 years of serve at IU. Recipients of this award will receive a one-time supplemental pay of $7,500. The President's Award for Excellence in Teaching and Learning Technology recognizes faculty members who have made significant contributions to enhancing the classroom experience with new technologies. Awardees continually adapt and integrate technology into their teaching methods and assignments to encourage greater student learning, motivation, and creativity. It is available to full-time faculty members, regardless of rank or title who have completed 5 years of full-time teaching in the Indiana University system by June 1st of the year in which they are nominated. Recipients of this award will receive a one-time supplemental pay of $7,500.

⇒ Service Awards: These awards are given by the university to alumni, staff, faculty members, and librarians who deserve exceptional recognition for their significant contributions to the community, state, nation, or university. The John W. Ryan Award for Distinguished Contributions to International Programs and Studies honors Indiana University faculty and librarians for their exceptional contributions to the university's international programs and studies. Letters of support should document the nominee's contributions in international teaching, research, service, and engagement and his/her impact on students, faculty, and the overall internationalization of the university. The W. George Pinnell Award for Outstanding Service recognizes members of the IU faculty and librarians who have shown a deep commitment to serving the university, their professions or discipline, and/or the public. Nominees must have at least five years of appointment as a faculty member or librarian, regardless of rank or title. Nominees' appointment should include no more than 50% administrative appointment/responsibilities during five consecutive years leading up to the time of nomination. Recipients of this award will receive a one-time supplemental pay of $7,500.

All nominations are due no later than October 6, 2022. Please visit <https://honorsandawards.iu.edu/nominations/index.html> to submit a nomination for these awards and for more information. If you have any questions about the nomination process or wish to see a sample dossier, please email uha@indiana.edu.

Assessment Institute

The 2022 Assessment Institute will be held from October 9-11, 2022 in-person at the Indianapolis Marriott Downtown hotel.

The Assessment Institute, hosted by IUPUI and usually held in Indianapolis, Indiana, is the oldest and largest higher education event in the United States focused on assessment and improvement. It is designed to provide opportunities for:

- ⇒ Individuals and campus teams new to higher education assessment and improvement to acquire fundamental knowledge about the field
- ⇒ Individuals who have worked as leaders in assessment and improvement to share and extend their knowledge and skills
- ⇒ Those interested in assessment and improvement at any level or in any collegiate context to establish networks that serve as sources of support and expertise beyond the dates of the Institute.

The Institute is designed to introduce you to good practice and innovations in assessment that you can use in your own setting. Plenary events are presented by national assessment leaders. Concurrent 60-minute sessions provide a more in-depth perspective on specific topics. In addition, the 30-minute concurrent sessions will present details about instruments or techniques.

The Institute will begin with a selection of optional Pre-Institute workshops on Sunday, October 9. Concurrent sessions and track keynote presentations will be offered, as well as a Plenary Keynote Presentation with a panel discussion. The conference will end at 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, October 11.

The Institute will feature special track keynote sessions and workshops, offered on Tuesday and Wednesday, emphasizing assessment in: Community Engagement; Diversity, Equity and Inclusion; Faculty Development;

Global Learning; High Impact Practices in the States; STEM Education; Learning Improvement; Graduate/Professional Education; NILOA; Student Affairs and Co-Curricular Programs and Services; and Student Partnership and Engagement in Assessment.

Concurrent 60- and 30-minute interactive sessions, offered Monday and Tuesday, will provide access to experts in all the tracks listed above, plus additional topics.

Advanced online registration for the Institute will close on Friday, September 23. To register for this year's Institute, visit <https://assessmentinstitute.iupui.edu/registration/index.html>.

For further information, including a virtual schedule overview, please visit <https://assessmentinstitute.iupui.edu/index.html>. You can also mark your calendars for the 2023 Assessment Institute, which will be held on October 29-31, 2023.

2022 IU Online Conference

The IU Online Conference is a no-cost event open to IU staff, faculty, or others interested in the mission of delivering engaging, high-quality online courses, regardless of experiences in online education. This year's conference will showcase the innovators and collaborators of online education with a great lineup of speakers. This year's theme will be "Recharge and Go."

The event will begin with pre-conference workshops on Wednesday, October 26, 2022 followed by the conference on Thursday, October 27, 2022 and Friday, October 28, 2022. All pre-conference workshops and all conference sessions are scheduled from 9:00 am—3:00 pm on their respective days.

The IU Online Conference is once again going virtual through Canvas and Zoom.

Registration is now open and will remain so until Friday, October 21, 2022. Please visit <https://teachingonline.iu.edu/conference/2022/register/index.html> to register.

For questions, concerns, or for more information please contact IU Online Events at iuoevent@iu.edu.

IUSD FALL CONVOCATION

Mark your calendars - the 2022 IUSD Fall Term Convocation is fast approaching! It will be held on Monday, August 15, 2022 at the Madam Walker Ballroom, at the Madam Walker Legacy Center at 617 Indiana Ave. It will take place from 8:00 am—1:00 pm, and is for all full time, adjunct, and volunteer faculty.
