

From the Desk of the Chancellor

As of June 15, we welcome back to IUPUI Nasser Paydar in his new role as IUPUI's executive vice chancellor and chief academic officer. Hired after a national search that produced a very strong group of finalists, Nasser will help lead the effort, during the next year, to build a plan for the 21st century, a plan that brings together all the campus leadership – academic, research, finance, administration, student life, diversity, external affairs and planning – and all our students, faculty and staff.

At IUPUI, we have accomplished much, but we look forward to accomplishing even more with our new partner, Nasser Paydar, whose message to the campus community can be viewed below.
