TALENT ACTS READY

Some twenty acts will appear in the Talent Night program scheduled for tomorrow evening.

Acts will cover a wide variety of talent and include both delegates and counselors. A definite program for the show was not ready for press time.

Leadership Director Dave Sweet will host the show as master of ceremonies. He said that the committee has auditioned a large number of delegates who wished to participate in the show, but only the best will be selected to entertain the conference audience.

Thirteen delegates are assisting the counselor staff of eight counselors with special arrangements, props and other details necessary for the production.

Record numbers of delegates 1240 delegates registered for the 1964 National Junior Achievers Conference. Delegates come from all parts of the United States as well as from Canada.

Registration of staff totals 49 and counselors number 122.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Enthusiastic and ambitious candidates kick off their campaigns tonight at the Auditorium when they address the delegates at the general assembly. Tomorrow begins a day of long and concentrated campaigning for victory when the polls open on Thursday morning.

The validations committee is expected to be finished with validations by 7:00 tonight but will not announce the validated candidates until the General Meeting. Each candidate will give a short talk on his qualifications for office and on his opinions on various conference issues.

Officers elected by this year's conference will serve for the coming one year period and will officiate at next year's national conference.

Bulletin boards giving the qualifications of validated candidates will be set up tomorrow morning. Most of the campaigning will take place on Wednesday. Candidates will be shaking hands all day.

Validated candidates are chosen by a board composed of this year's officers and previous conference office-holders. Those validated will be chosen from among the 58 delegates who appeared before the validations board.

The Elections committee warns that no campaign materials which have the name of some business enterprise on them (with the exception of J.A. enterprises) may be used to promote the candidates. All candidates have had their campaign materials approved by the Elections committee. No materials whatsoever may be used that have not been approved by the committee.

"They are a group of well prepared, good candidates," said Cy Furrer, head of Elections committee. "The campaign should be a very interesting one due to the quality of achievers running for office. (continued on page 2)
