Full of new ideas about business and armed with that "J.A. feeling" delegates to the 21st annual National Junior Achievers Conference depart for home at noon today after the closing session in the auditorium.

Delegates will report back to their home areas to tell them of what achievers in other parts of the country are doing in their companies.

For the more than 1200 delegates it will climax a week long schedule of activities. A small number of counselors and staff personnel will remain until Saturday to handle the conference clean-up.

Winners of the various contests were announced at the closing meeting of the six day gathering. Tention of the contests mounted to a fever pitch as the judges announced the winners.

Finalists in each of the various contests are listed below. The winner is written in all capital letters.

President-of-the-Year
- Henry Kopcial, Mansfield, Ohio
- Jerry Langly, Southwestern, Penn.
- Vic Seeaward, Fort Wayne, Ind.
- Joseph Terraciano, New Haven, Conn.
- Jim Wiemels, Cleveland, Ohio

Awards
- 1st-$1,500; 2nd-$500; 3rd-$200; 4th,5th,6th-$50 each. Awards provided by Young Presidents' Foundation.

Corporate Secretary-of-the-Year
- Carol Beaumont, Greater Miami, Fla.
- Cheryl D'Antoni, Pittsburgh, Pa.
- Judy L. Hagstrom, Duluth, Minn.
- ESTELLE HAMS, Hyde Park, Mass.
- Sharyn S. Lewis, Columbus, Ohio

Awards
- 1st-$500; 2nd-$150; 3rd-$50. Provided by American Society of Corporate Secretaries.

Production Executive-of-the-Year
- Thomas N. Close, Columbus, Ohio
- H. William Hanwaring, Cleveland, Ohio
- ROBERT W. PAGE, Wichita, Kansas
- Harry W. Van Aken, Rockford, Ill.

Awards
- 1st-$500; 2nd-$150 Savings Bond; 3rd-$50 Savings Bond.

Safety Director-of-the-Year
- Sharon Lefaive, Minneapolis, Minn.
- TERRY KATEJEWSKI, Southeastern, Mich.
- Dennis Strank, Cleveland, Ohio
- Steve Strong, Des Moines, Iowa
- Barry Kuiper, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Awards
- 1st-$250; 2nd-$75 Savings Bond; 3rd-$25 Savings Bond. Awards provided by American Society of Safety Engineers.

Personnel Manager-of-the-Year
- Julie Becker, Roanoke, Va.
- Jane Collari, Boston, Mass.
- CAROL DORAN, Columbus, Ohio
- Karen Harless, Dallas, Texas
- Kathy Nelson, Minneapolis, Minn.

Awards
- 1st-$250; 2nd-$75 Savings Bond; 3rd-$25 Savings Bond.

Treasurer-of-the-Year
- Marcia Brogden, Omaha, Neb.
- Daniel Crooks, Columbus, Ohio
- Joyce Jeffries, Indianapolis, Ind.
- SUSAN LINCOLN, Rockford, Ill.
- Linda Rudolph, Nashville, Tenn.

Awards
- 1st-$500; 2nd-$150 Savings Bond; 3rd-$50 Savings Bond.

Marketing Executive-of-the-Year
- Judy Cohn, Portland, Ore.
- Carol Goughran, Midland, Texas
- Jackie Duggan, Seattle, Wash.
- Glen Jeneet, Wichita, Kansas
- SHARON SUMNER, Dallas, Texas

(continued on page 2)
1964-65 OFFICERS INSTALLED

Mike. Arthur, of Southeastern, Michigan, was installed as National Junior Achievement President for the year 1964-65. British Columbia's John MacGowan became Vice President and Dianne Leyer, also of Southeastern Michigan, was made Association Secretary. The installation consisted of the pinning of the new officers and the administration of the oath.

Several resolutions were placed before the delegation for discussion. There was lively discussion and all of the resolutions presented by the committee were adopted.

PUBLIC SPEAKERS

There are three separate stages in the Public Speaking contest. In the first stage, the Achievers gave a speech five minutes in duration on the topic, "What I Have Learned as an Achiever." If the contestant attains 80 out of a possible 100 points, he is enrolled in the National Speakers Corps.

The same speech is then given to another panel of judges, along with a five minute extemporaneous speech on an assigned subject.

The third and final part of the Public Speaking contest consists of a second five-minute extemporaneous speech, and the original prepared speech.

The purpose of this contest is to give recognition to the Achievers who can speak effectively on subjects related to the business world and the free enterprise system.

FIRST AID (cont'd.)

Apparently not only the candidates had upset stomachs, for two large bottles of Maalox have been consumed.

Achievers reported their illnesses around the clock making sure that the nurses were kept busy.

HARDY HAREM CHIEF

Have you been in the Program Office and seen the sign, "Henry Heffner, Harem Leader"?

Mr. Heffner, of Cleveland, Ohio, is Regional representative for National J.A. headquarters for the central United States. At the conference for his seventh year, he currently serves as program director.

In regard to Mr. Heffner's harem, he explained: "I have a harem. They are the most beautiful girls in the world. They love me dearly (I hope!)."

The "harem" started when Mr. Heffner was here as program director for the first time. Two girls that year started his harem as a joke.

Though the group is exclusive, the harem girls must be willing to join. He explained that Norm Hoening, assistant program director, makes recommendations of girls he thinks should be members.

This highly secret group has a ceremony of initiation before the girls are official member. At the present time, there are twelve girls in the "Heffner Harem."

JEANINE ZAVREL

Miss Teenage America of 1964 spent one and a half days at the National J.A. conference this week. Jeanine Zavrel, of Falls Church, Virginia, was amazed at the organization of the conference.

Jeanine and her father arrived in Bloomington Tuesday afternoon in the middle of a tour of several large cities. She returns to J.E.B. Stuart High School next week.

Jeanine took over her duties as Miss Teenage America in May. She received many valuable gifts, including a $10,000 scholarship, a Mercury Caliente, Dr. Pepper stock, a group of Coty cosmetics, and travel arrangement with American Airlines.

Heather Harden, Miss J.A. 1964, was crowned by Jeanine at the close of the talent show.

FIRST AID

After a recent interview with one of the three nurses at the first aid office, it was discovered that approximately 200 patients had been treated so far. Their ailments ranged from a dislocated shoulder to a tiny cut on the tip of a finger. The most common ailment was blisters, 1500 of them.

When the nurse was asked what was the most comical and unusual illness that had been reported, her immediate reply was the "pink finks." A total of 550 pills have been consumed by the Achievers and staff members; 100 aspirins, 150 coricidan pills for hay fever, and 300 throat lozenges.

FIRST AID

After a recent interview with one of the three nurses at the first aid office, it was discovered that approximately 200 patients had been treated so far. Their ailments ranged from a dislocated shoulder to a tiny cut on the tip of a finger. The most common ailment was blisters, 1500 of them.

When the nurse was asked what was the most comical and unusual illness that had been reported, her immediate reply was the "pink finks." A total of 550 pills have been consumed by the Achievers and staff members; 100 aspirins, 150 coricidan pills for hay fever, and 300 throat lozenges.

FIRST AID

After a recent interview with one of the three nurses at the first aid office, it was discovered that approximately 200 patients had been treated so far. Their ailments ranged from a dislocated shoulder to a tiny cut on the tip of a finger. The most common ailment was blisters, 1500 of them.

When the nurse was asked what was the most comical and unusual illness that had been reported, her immediate reply was the "pink finks." A total of 550 pills have been consumed by the Achievers and staff members; 100 aspirins, 150 coricidan pills for hay fever, and 300 throat lozenges.
(continued from page 1)

Awards - 1st-$1,000; 2nd-$250; 3rd, 4th, 5th-$50 each. Awards provided by Sales and Marketing Executives International.

Public Speaking Contest
Mary Bearden  Houston, Texas
TOM BROWN  Omaha, Neb.
Jim Johnson  Midland, Texas
Jody Raulston  Chattanooga, Tenn.
Larry Shoemaker  Lima, Ohio

Awards - 1st-$250; 2nd-$75 Savings Bond; 3rd-$25 Savings Bond.

Company-of-the-Year
First Place:  Seroco of Columbus, Ohio
Award - $250 to each of 3 representatives of winning company; $25 Savings Bond to each member.
Second Place:  Jalok of Rockford, Ill.
Award - $100 to each of 3 representatives of 2nd place company
Third Place:  Jamatco of Minneapolis, Minn.
Award - $75 to each of 3 representatives of 3rd place company

Company-of-the-Year Representatives
Seroco of Columbus  Maxine Day, Patricia Pearce and David Reddick
Jalok of Rockford, Ill.  James Finley, Robert Jakeway and Janet Peterson
Jamatco of Minneapolis, Minn.  Tom Child, Mark Klein and Charlotte Granger.

TALENTED ACHIEVER RECOGNIZED

Marilynn Hanson, from Windsor, Ontario, captured the top prize of yesterday's talent show. The pretty achiever sang "Come Rain or Come Shine" and "It's Wonderful", followed by a tap dance.

Marilyn has been singing and dancing for nearly fourteen years. She entertains semi-professionally at supper clubs in Canada. She also performs at times for the United Service Organization in Detroit.

In 1962, Marilynn won the talent award at JAMCO, and last year she took first place at the Indiana Conference. She also served as Treasurer of her company, and won the Speaker of the Year award in Windsor.

TEEN TEAM TALKS

"One of the most worthwhile events in my life" was the way Martha Rabe described her participation on the Chevrolet Teen Team. She was one of the twenty "average American teenagers", as they describe themselves, from ten major cities in the United States. They were picked by their Executive Directors in their respective J.A. areas.

The members of the team flew down to Arcadia, California, on March 1st. The instructors were people from the proving grounds of Chevrolet.

When asked about their four and one-half week training period, the members agreed it was "a lot of hard work."

While talking about their drive from Los Angeles to New York, they admitted that their work was tiring. "When you drive that distance, all of the roads seem pretty much the same. The real changes were in weather—we drove through sandstorms, windstorms, rain, snow, and hot deserts."

They all agreed, however, that if they were given the opportunity, they would gladly do it again.

I CAN'T UNDERSTAND WHY NOTHING HITS. I HAD PLENTY OF ROOM WHEN I CAME UP HERE!
ACHIEVERS SPEAK OUT (continued)

liest teenagers in the world."

STEVE DAW, PRESIDENT: "The conference can be no better than the individual delegates; I think it is a tremendous conference!"

BILL RANIS, PENNSYLVANIA: "I feel that the conference is a great opportunity to promote J.A. and our knowledge of the free enterprise system."

DEE PETRIE, NEW YORK: "I think the friendliness of the kids."

SHARON SULLIVAN, KENTUCKY: "Well, I would say the fact that you could walk up to any one, tell them where you are from, and talk for fifteen minutes."

LINDA WRIGHT, MICHIGAN: "The friendliness of all the people here."

RANDY HAYS, TENNESSEE: "The size and scope of the conference. I think the leadership is outstanding."

DEPARTURE PROCEDURE

Checking out:

1. Tag all luggage. Write your bus number, "car", or "taxi" on the tag.
2. Be sure you are packed in time.
3. Leave your room neat. Report all losses to dorm office. Losses to rooms will be charged to occupants through their J.A. office.
4. Lock room and turn in room key at Dorm Office after removing luggage.

Loading luggage:

1. Have a properly marked tag on all bags.
2. When it is time for your bus to arrive, take luggage to area east of Teter Quad. along Sunrise ave., where you arrived Sunday. Bus number location will be posted. Place luggage by location number; it will be loaded for you. Stay by number until you are checked in by Travel Leader.
3. Private cars: Leave luggage in room until car has arrived. Then take luggage to parking lot and load in car. Check with your Travel Leader for details.
4. Taxi: Taxis will be provided for delegates needing transportation to Bloomington airport, bus, or train station. Travel Leader report to Travel Desk for instructions.

ACHIEVERS SPEAK OUT

According to Jim Glaze, supervisor of the central office in Teter Quadrangle, over 2,500 postcards and 3,000 four-cent stamps have been sold since Sunday.

Approximately 120 letters arrive daily through the dorm office for Achievers. It usually takes about thirty minutes to sort these letters.

Counselors pick up the mail around noon to deliver to their groups. For counselors' convenience the mail is sorted into male mail and female mail, as well as into groups. Mr. Heffner's mail is delivered to his herem office by an elephant.

One piece of mail has yet to be claimed. It was sent to a delegate named Charlie Weaver and there is no return address except the word "Elma."

MISS J.A. WINNER

How does it feel to be crowned Miss J.A.? Heather Harden knows! This seventeen year old Achiever from Omaha, Nebraska, expressed her feelings this way: "There was, of course, the personal thrill from the excitement of winning, but there was also the satisfaction of having our area represented before the convention. Omaha is a fairly new center and our delegation came to let this conference know that we have J.A. as well as cows in the Beef State!"

Heather was made eligible to enter the contest by being named Miss J.A. of Omaha.

Her school activities include speech, journalism, debate and drama. At Mercy High School, she is a member of the National Honor Society and also the Alpha Theta Math Club.

She was treasurer of her J.A. company, Telco, which made safety flashers.

Heather lives at home with her parents and has a younger sister, 15, and a younger brother, 11.

ACHIEVERS SPEAK OUT

Last night reporters were sent out to ask Achievers, at random, this question: "What would you say has impressed you most during this conference?"

Here are some of the replies:

GREG GORDON, OHIO: "The conference has been a most enjoyable and educational experience. Here I have met the friend-