This website is designed to provide useful information for students enrolled in many of the mathematics courses at IUPUI. We will be adding additional content throughout the semester.

Tutoring Options

Live Online Help is available for math courses 159 and down. Click on the links to the right to access live help. (Hours are posted there as well).

Stat 301/350/416 Tutoring is available in LD 225.

More information about Stat tutoring can be found on our Stats Page

Would You Like to Become a MAC Tutor/Mentor?

Over recent years, the MAC has grown to where it is now the single largest student employer on campus with over 35 tutors paid hourly and 30 mentors receiving over 100,000 dollars in scholarships for their services. With such a large student employee base, the Math Assistance Center remains in a nearly constant state of screening applications and hiring skilled individuals.

Interested in setting up your own study group?

The Bepko Learning Center wanted to pass along a how-to guide for you and your classmates to set up a study group and some useful tools to implement in your group.

The following guides provide some helpful tips:
