NIH grant to support IU-Kenya program

The Indiana University – Moi University Partnership has been selected by the National Institutes of Health to join the Global Network for Women’s and Infant’s Health Research.

Edward Liechty, MD, an IUSM professor of pediatrics and a Riley Hospital neonatologist, is the principal investigator for this highly competitive grant. IUSM was one of only eight medical centers selected to participate in this Global Network. The Network, funded jointly by NIH and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, conducts clinical research projects throughout the developing world. The IUSM-Moi University site in Eldoret, Kenya is one of two Network locations in Africa. Other sites are in India, Pakistan, and Central and South America.

This grant will bring $1 million to the IU-Moi Partnership for each of the next 5 years to conduct research to demonstrate the effectiveness and feasibility of simple, community- based health-care interventions such as protein supplementation for infants and training of traditional birth attendants in the proper care of obstetrical and neonatal emergencies.

Co-principal investigator for the IUSM grant funding is Fabian Esamai, MD, pediatrician and dean of the Moi University School of Medicine. Dr Liechty spent the 2003-2004 academic year at Moi University as a Fulbright Visiting Research Scholar, working closely with Dr. Esamai. Other important initiatives of the IU Department of Pediatrics in Kenya include research and training in infant vaccine delivery, funded by the Merck Foundation, and the construction of a new hospital, the Riley Mother and Baby Hospital of Kenya.

Changes in conflict of interest reporting

The Conflict of Interest Office at IUPUI has determined that switching the COI disclosure period from calendar year to academic year would be in the best interests of the program.

A recent review of the COI processes at Indianapolis and Bloomington suggested there be greater collaboration between the two campuses starting by putting the two campuses on the same disclosure schedule. In addition, planning meetings have occurred where it was determined that a university-wide, web-based COI disclosure system would best serve the overall goals of the COI process. It is anticipated that this system will be completed by August 2008.

The current COI disclosure form notes that the disclosures will remain in effect until January 2008 but that has been extended until Sep. 1, 2008. As always, COI disclosures must be made any time during the year when new disclosable interests arise or new research projects or sponsored programs are undertaken that relate to existing financial interests.

Please contact the COI Office at 4-7307 or iupuicoi@iupui.edu with any questions or concerns.

Weather alerts

IUPUI monitors weather conditions and will post announcements pertaining to classes and campus closures at <http://www.iupui.edu/>.

In the event the campus is closed, IUSM students on clinical rotations should check with their resident or attending physician to see if they should report. Laboratory animal technicians are considered essential personnel. Up-to-date closing information will be available at <http://www.iupui.edu/> and through the local media.

Monroe to speak at February Stepping Stones Luncheon

Dr. Judy Monroe will speak at the February Stepping Stones Luncheon Thursday, Feb. 14, from noon to 2 p.m., at the IUPUI Campus Center, room 405. Dr. Monroe is the Indiana State Health Commissioner and medical director for Medicaid. She is a member of the National Governors Association Health Care Practice Task Force and Center for Best Practices Healthy Communities Work Group.

Dr. Monroe is a member of the Indiana Health Information Exchange Board. In addition, she is chair of the Indiana Tobacco Prevention and Cessation Executive Board and the Interagency Council on Black and Minority Health. She is active on many boards and commissions affecting women's health issues.

The Stepping Stones of Women in Leadership series is intended to create a forum where all faculty and students can learn about professional development through hearing the personal career journeys of successful women. The guest speaker for these sessions will be interviewed about significant milestones in their personal and professional lives that have led to career success. The sessions are open to all faculty and students, both men and women, and are sponsored by the IUSM Women's Advisory Council and the Office for Faculty Affairs and Professional Development.

To attend, RSVP your name, academic/medical department and indicate the February Stepping Stones Luncheon to sarareed@iupui.edu

FEED – Feb. 20

“Beginning Guide to the Grant Submission Process” will be the topic of discussion Wednesday, Feb. 20 at the FEED workshop from 5 to 7 p.m. on the lower level of the Riley Outpatient Center, conference rooms A and B.

The goal of this workshop is to provide an introduction and overview to the administrative components of the research grant submission process at IUSM.

During this two-hour workshop, participants will:

- Develop an understanding of the overall process of grant writing and the grant review process
- Identify tips on how to find different sources of funding
- Appreciate the specific details of the administrative requirements for grant submission
- Share advice on how to be prepared in advance for this most critical aspect of the grant submission process

Those interested in attending should e-mail Roberta Brown at <mailto:%20rabrown2@iupui.edu> or call 630-6906.

Faculty Enrichment and Educational Development (FEED) present quarterly workshops on key topics in clinical teaching. These workshops are designed to provide an opportunity for the department faculty to improve their teaching skills in a collegial and fun environment and as part of the Department of Medicine's continuing commitment to provide the highest quality learning environment for medical students, residents and fellows.

This week on *Sound Medicine

Tune in at 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 3, to Sound Medicine, the award-winning weekly radio program co-produced by IUSM and WFYI Public Radio (90.1 FM) in Indianapolis. The program is hosted by Barb Lewis.

This week, cardiologist Richard Kovacs, MD, director of the Krannert Institute of Cardiology at IUSM, will report on the ENHANCE study which looked at the effects of combining two statin drugs – Zetia and Vytorin –to reduce plaque buildup in the arteries.

Blood banks, medical errors, Morgellon’s disease and an interview with the new CEO of the Honor Society of Nursing, Sigma Theta Tau International, will round out the show.

Archived editions of Sound Medicine as well as other helpful information can be found at <http://www.soundmedicine.iu.edu/>. Sound Medicine is underwritten by the Lilly Clinic, Clarian Health, and IU Medical Group; Jeremy Shere’s “Check-Up” is underwritten by IUPUI.

Scope submission guidelines

Scope wants your news items.

The deadline for submission is 8:30 a.m. on Thursdays. Scope is published electronically and sent to faculty, staff, students, and residents.

There are three easy ways to submit story ideas or information to Scope:

- e-mail the information to mhardin@iupui.edu
- mail the information to Mary Hardin, Z-7, Ste. 306, IUPUI
- fax your information to (317) 278-8722

Contributions submitted by e-mail should be forwarded in 12 point, plain text format.

In the interest of accuracy, please do NOT use:

- acronyms
- abbreviations
- campus building codes (use full, proper name of building and include the room number)
- Dr. as a preface before names (designate MD or PhD)

To keep the electronic version of Scope as streamlined as possible, only seminars and lectures of general or multidisciplinary interest will be included.
