Mission

The vision of Indiana University School of Nursing (IUSON) is to improve the health and quality of life for citizens of central Indiana, the state, the nation and beyond, by meeting society’s need for scientifically-prepared nurses able to provide leadership in a range of practice settings. Given its commitment to professional development and clinical/community partnerships, the core campus of IUSON is a unique asset for Indiana and the world in advancing nursing education, research and practice.

Fiscal Health

As in the Tale of Two Cities, this is for IUSON/IUPUI both the best of times and the worst of times. After several years of increasing credit hours, necessitated by declining nursing enrollments nationally, both undergraduate and graduate credit hours are on the rise. For example, actual undergraduate credit hours totaled 15,449 in 1998-99 and are likely to be closer to 19,000 in 2002-03; actual graduate credit hours totaled 3410 in 2001-02 but rose to 3680 the next year. Also, Nursing recovers in tuition and fee income only a portion of the fully loaded cost per credit hour of undergraduate and graduate instruction (described in detail in attached memorandum regarding establishment of a program fee). Projecting our current data into the future, it is predicted that this differential will only get larger unless we institute a program fee, because (a) expenses are increasing at a much more rapid rate than our revenues, and (b) state appropriation has dramatically decreased as a proportion of revenues. With increasing enrollments and proportionately decreasing resources, IUSON/IUPUI has made more use of non-tenure-track faculty and part-time faculty. In 1991-92, IUSON/IUPUI had 109 full-time faculty, but that number had dropped to 88 in 2001-02; there were 67 part-time faculty (11.65 FTE) in 2001-02, but the nursing shortage is making their continued employment in 2002-03 very difficult (department chairpersons were still trying to recruit clinical instructors the first week of classes). In 2001-02, 60% of this full-time faculty were on the tenure track, compared to 77% in 1991-92, which means IUSON/IUPUI is down to the minimum percentage of tenure-track faculty required by the university.

Grants and contracts have been steadily increasing from one year to the next. In 2001-02, Nursing was third campus-wide in total external funding ($4,288,777) and third campus-wide in funding per academic FTE ($120,977), though indirect cost recovery (ICR) remains proportionately small because the majority of our externally-funded service projects do not permit ICR returns yet these projects are important to IUPUI’s commitment to civic engagement. Nursing has already exceeded its $20 million campaign goal, but the overwhelming majority of the monies committed are either in the form of legacy gifts or monies that will only be awarded when the future of the project is clearer (e.g., Chancellor’s commitment of $3 million to Nursing’s floor in the projected Fairbanks Hall), thus not currently available.

While our fund balance did increase nearly $400,000 from 2000-01 to 2001-02, that change reflects a conscious decision to accumulate monies to provide for upcoming costs associated with the $7 million Nursing floor in the new Fairbanks building, technology, building renovations, and faculty support. We also chose to defer some expenditures until the outcomes of the state’s current fiscal crisis become clearer. We “paid back” over $43,000 in cash last year and also absorbed the loss of our lifecycle funding contributions of $55,000 causing us to use other school monies to stay moderately current with new technology and much-needed renovations for data security purposes. Our total expenses increased in 2002-03 by 3.5% without any new appropriations. Nearly all of our faculty and staff rates were provided through reallocation of base monies that were intended for new hires. Finally, it should be noted that our administrative costs have steadily declined over the last few years; to the point that IUSON/IUPUI is likely not to be able to maintain the current level of productivity with the infrastructure that is now in place (Harvard’s Institute for Education Management teaches that administrative costs should be no more than 15% of expenses, and IUSON/IUPUI has declined from between 14-15% to between 9-10%, yet retains leadership for the university-wide school for which there is no reimbursement).

Reallocation Plan

For 2002-03, IUSON/IUPUI was given a Chancellor’s Allocation of $75,000. These funds were included in the overall distribution of funds for academic salary increases, thereby reducing the amount of base monies that were required to be reprogrammed for that purpose. Thus, these monies saved one more faculty position from having to be “cut.”
