

From the Desk of the Chancellor

IUPUI Research Day

 SHARE

Apr. 8, 2014

by Charles R. Bantz

The program opens at 9:30 am with the 2014 Trailblazer awards, which recognize IUPUI faculty who are showing great promise in advancing knowledge in their fields.

The keynote address follows at 10:20 am and will feature Richard Blanco, acclaimed Cuban-American poet, who read his work for President Barack Obama's second inauguration. Afterwards, there will be poster sessions and research presentations.

Please join me in celebrating the latest breakthroughs in research at IUPUI by looking at the detailed program and registering on the Research Day website.
