COUNTING OFF AT IUPUI

IUPUI has begun its third academic year with 15,442 students, a 4.7 per cent increase from the start of the last academic year, according to preliminary figures released by the University Registrar, M.D. Scherer.

Chancellor Maynard K. Hine said that final enrollment figures would show an IUPUI enrollment around 16,000. This would be approximately a 7 per cent increase.

The total I.U. enrollment reported by Scherer reached 66,029, a 4.1 per cent increase which came largely from IUPUI and the regional campuses. Enrollment at the Bloomington campus was reported at 30,717, a 1.2 per cent increase from last year.

The preliminary reports for the regional campuses are Fort Wayne, 4,306, up 7.9 per cent; South Bend, 5,284, up 10 per cent; Northwest, 4,730, up 4.7 per cent; Southeast, 2,663, up 10.6 per cent; Kokomo, 2,128, up 24.1 per cent; East, 724, down 11.3 per cent; Evansville, 35, unchanged.

Among the IUPUI schools and divisions, the preliminary figures are:

Medical Center	2,932, up 7.9 per cent
Downtown Campus	6,726, up 9.1 per cent
38th Street Campus	3,467, down 10.5 per cent
Indianapolis Law School	925, up 15.8 per cent
Graduate School of Social Service	197, up 32.2 per cent
Normal College	182, up 37.9 per cent
Herron School of Art	324, down 22.3 per cent
Division of General and Technical Studies	52, down 34.2 per cent
Columbus Center	637, up 47.8 per cent

Several of these reports are subject to substantial change: The early enrollment date set by the new IUPUI calendar caused many late enrollments at the Downtown Campus and 38th Street Campus; the Herron School of Art figures do not include the school's Evening Division enrollment.

NB PUBLICATIONS NEEDS YOU AND WANTS YOU

The News Bureau publishes a variety of periodicals which ought to be put to greater use by the faculty, students and staff of IUPUI. We need news for all of them; we need articles for some of them. Check the list, and if one of the periodicals seems useful, call the editor and learn how to use it.

GREEN SHEET, Gretchen Wolfram, editor, is published weekly and distributed to 2,000 IUPUI faculty and staffers. The Green Sheet wants any news of interest or importance to the IUPUI community. The deadline is 9 a.m. Thursdays.

IUPUI WEEK, Gretchen Wolfram, editor, also is published weekly and distributed to all departments and offices to be posted as a warning of the coming week's events. Any meeting or event, including student activities, ought to be posted in the Week. The deadline is 9 a.m. Wednesdays.

IUPUI REPORTER, Joe Lehman, editor, Priscilla Brown, assistant editor, is published monthly during the academic year and is distributed to everyone who gets an Indiana University paycheck in Indianapolis. The Reporter publishes news about the activities of faculty and staff members and recognizes their contributions to the greater glory and prosperity of IUPUI.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE REVIEW, Joe Lehman, editor, is published quarterly for School of Medicine alumni and for Indiana physicians. The Review publishes articles written by the News Bureau staff as well as articles written by faculty members on the school's education, research, and service programs.

NUMBERS RUNNER, Carol Fiechter, editor, is published monthly under the auspices of the Research Computation Center to aid and abet clients of the IUPUI resident think (cq) machine.

HOSPITAL NEWS, Carol Fiechter, editor, is published bi-monthly (that's every two months) under the auspices of the University Hospitals for the hospital staffs.

INDIANA FAMILY PLANNER, Carol Fiechter, editor, is published quarterly under the auspices of Dr. Joseph Thompson and the Indiana Family Planning project for distribution throughout Indiana to anyone who is interested -- or ought to be -- in family planning. Indiana Family Planner will publish appropriate articles written by faculty and staffers.

If any of these look useful, call the editors. They all work in the News Bureau, 104 Fesler, Ext. 7711.

PLAN AHEAD

Through the Office of the Vice-President for Research and Advanced Studies the University will again be offering fellowships effective the summer of 1972 for the support of regular faculty members who will not be teaching and who wish to devote full time to their research or creative work in the arts. These fellowships will be primarily for persons holding the lower professional ranks. They may not be awarded for research leading to a dissertation. Recipients must not hold any teaching or other service-rendering appointments at any time throughout the summer, and they must be planning to continue at Indiana University through 1972-73.

The stipends will be $1,200 for an instructor and assistant professor, $1,400 for an associate professor and $1,600 for professors. For fellows who are granted supplemental income from other sources the award payments may be adjusted to furnish total payments of $2,000.

Applications may be obtained from Dr. Doris Merritt in Sponsored Programs, Ext. 8287. Completed applications should be routed through the usual channels of Chairman, Dean, and Chancellor.

MARK YOUR CALENDARS

Dean Taylor at the Podium -- Downtown Campus Dean Joseph T. Taylor will speak on "Learning from Each Other" Saturday at 11:30 a.m. for the Indiana Association for Childhood Education. The meeting will be held at the Indiana State Teachers Association Building.

Dental Course -- "Modern Day Implantology," a two-day School of Dentistry postgraduate course, will be held at the School Saturday and Sunday. Directed by Dr. Leonard I. Linkow, the course will cover "Introduction to the Blade Implant." A second part, "Advanced Practical Course in Oral Implantology," is scheduled for early January. More information may be obtained by calling Dr. Robert H. Derry at the School of Dentistry, Ext. 7461.

Sing, Sing, Sing -- "A Song of Mankind," a seven-part, 53-minute cantata, will be presented at 7 p.m. Sunday on the north steps of the Indiana World War Memorial. Nearly 1,000 singers and more than 150 musicians will combine their talents for the world premiere of the work, commissioned by Faith for a City and presented in conjunction with the Indianapolis Sesquicentennial Commission. There is no admission charge for the performance whose artistic director is Thomas Briccetti, associate director of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra. (A one-hour concert featuring the world-famous 54-note carillon of the Scottish Rite Cathedral will begin at 6 p.m.)

Women's Club Conclave -- All IUPUI women faculty and staff members are invited to attend the IUPUI Women's Club "Fall Member Invitational" meeting Sunday from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in the Roof Lounge of the Union Building. The membership is open to any woman employed by IUPUI and one of the club's purposes is to promote good relations between the 10 divisions of IUPUI and between IUPUI and the community. Its programs are geared to be both informative and entertaining. If you have any questions about the group, please call its president, Mrs. Helen Zapp, Ext. 8265.

HE CAME BACK

A returnee to the Indianapolis Campus is Charles Brown, who has been completing work toward his doctorate at Ohio State University. (Many Green Sheet subscribers will recall Brown as a member of the staff of the Indiana Regional Medical Program.) As assistant director of the Office of Sponsored Programs and assistant to the business manager, Brown succeeds Fred L. Ficklin, who has moved to the Bloomington Campus to complete work on his doctorate. Same office location and telephone extension: 1219 West Michigan and 7367.

LOST AND FOUND--Chancellor Hine's favorite tie clip, a replica of a flying duck in gold, flew south during the dedication of Cavanaugh Hall. If anyone has caught the duck, Dr. Hine would appreciate the return of his tie clip. A suitable reward, a bound copy of "Memorable Stories From the Green Sheet," is offered.

HONORS & ACCOLADES--A second edition of what has proved to be a popular text on "Oral Diagnosis/Oral Medicine" has been prepared by the three authors, all from faculty of the School of Dentistry, and published by Lea and Febiger, Philadelphia.

The authors are David F. Mitchell, B.S., D.D.S., Ph.D., professor and chairman, Department of Oral Diagnosis/Oral Medicine; S. Miles Standish, D.D.S., M.S., professor and chairman, Division of Clinical Oral Pathology and Thomas B. Fast, D.D.S., M.S.D., associate professor of Oral Diagnosis/Oral Medicine. Dr. Fast resigned to accept a position with another university since the book was published.

The text, which has more than 300 illustrations, combines the recognition of disease with its subsequent management, and discusses the most recent advances in diagnostic techniques and instruments. Included is much original research by the authors and former graduate students, many of whom are now teaching in this field. The first edition had many favorable reviews in the dental literature.

The Association of Medical Television Broadcasters, Inc. has announced the election of Elmer Friman, acting director of the Medical Educational Resources Program of the School of Medicine, to the post of vice-president of the Health Sciences Media Organization. Friman was also appointed to the board of trustees. Both offices are to take effect in January.

Dr. Frederick C. Green, a native of Fort Wayne and a graduate of the Indiana University School of Medicine, has been appointed associate chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Dr. Green has been director of pediatric ambulatory care at New York City's Roosevelt Hospital since 1967 and clinical associate professor of pediatrics at Cornell University College of Medicine since 1970. He is a past chairman of the pediatric section of the National Medical Association.

Dr. Erwin Boschmann, assistant professor of chemistry, has been named to serve as a representative on the Midwest Universities Consortium for International Activities, Inc./LaMolina Review Committee. (Dr. Boschmann has recently returned from Sao Paulo, Brazil, where he presented a paper called "A Cooperative Venture That Has Worked" for the International Symposium on Chemical Education.)
